HIGH SCHOOL HOCKEY

The Orange and Black Team Begins the Season With Two Wins

The Newton High Hockey team opened its scholastic season for 1922 by swamping Boston College High 14 to 0 at Bullough's Pond last Wednesday afternoon. The boys from the Hub were in no condition to stack up against the Orange and Black six, and the weird score that Newton rolled up should not be taken seriously.

Newton resembled the proverbial million dollars in the game with B. C. H., but this was due to the weakness of the visitors rather than to any great brilliance on the part of the Newton players. We do not mean to say that Newton did not play good hockey. We merely want to emphasize the fact that the overwhelming victory gained over B. C. H. in the opening game of the season should not give folks the impression that the Newton team is a whirlwind. Probably any team in the Suburban League could have administered similar punishment to B. C. H. last Wednesday.

Hockey is not considered an important branch of sport in the Boston schools and the fellows attending those schools do not get the opportunity and instruction that is so necessary to the building up of a first-class hockey team. The student body at B. C. H. includes boys from all sections of Greater Boston, and the fact that they have no rink of their own on which to practice, added to the disadvantage of forcing fellows to go miles away from their homes to find a little ice, makes it impossible for them to produce hockey teams of the standard of the Suburban League outfits.

Newton met practically no opposition last Wednesday afternoon, and had it not been for the goal tending of Capt. Dunn of the visitors, the score would have been much larger. Fourteen shots found their way past the B. C. H. goal tend, but in comparison to the number of shots stopped this total seems small indeed. Newton actually bombarded the B. C. H. goal and at no time during the contest was Capt. Drowne at the Newton net in danger.

The game brought to light no particular star. All the Newton players worked fairly well together, although there is still much room for improvement. Holmes and O'Donnell were the heavy scorers of the day, netting seven goals between them. Every man on the Orange and Black squad got into action during the game, which was attended by a large number of the Newton High student body.

Newton was listed to open the Suburban League hockey schedule with Somerville at the Arena last Monday afternoon, but the Red and Blue pleaded lack of practice, and Newton agreed to have the match postponed until a later date. As a result, Cambridge Latin and Brookline started the Suburban puck spinning, Cambridge pulling out on the top of an exciting 1 to 0 battle. At this writing, it looks as if the Suburban League race will again result in a three-cornered fight, with Newton, Cambridge Latin, and Melrose doing the struggling. These same three teams finished in a dead-lock last year, and all three look ready to renew the argument. Newton is fortunate in having a man of the ability of Capt. Drowne at goal for in our opinion the Orange and Black net is going to be in great need of a sturdy guardian this winter. We even go so far as to say that the brunt of the work this season rests on the shoulders of the Newton leader. If the Newton team will give him the proper support we see no reason in the world why the Garden City can't start the new year with another championship. In the meantime Coach Dickinson is giving his track candidates the "once over" in the hope that he may be able to uncover sufficient material to make Newton a factor in the Greater Boston track world.

RELIGIOUS CENSUS

Careful preparations for the union church religious census, or "Home Visitation," which is to take place on January 22, are being made by the ministers and captains of churches at Newton Corner. The following are the captains of church groups: Channing, Dr. Edward Mellus; Grace, Mr. A. S. Partridge; Immanuel Baptist, Mr. Clarence V. Moore; Elliot, Mr. O. To Mayer; and Methodist, Eldred Peterson.

At a recent meeting of the local committee the following officers were elected: Rev. C. W. Brashares, chairman; Dr. Edward Mellus, Treasurer; Miss Lullona Barker of the Norumbega District Sunday School Association, Secretary; and Mr. A. S. Eldridge, publicity manager. Mrs. Allen Chamberlain of Boston has been engaged as Director of the survey. Mrs. Chamberlain is well qualified for this work, having had charge of similar church surveys and of other civic surveys in various parts of Massachusetts.

The Visiting Nurse of the Newton District Nursing Association can be reached at any time by telephoning West Newton 600.

COASTING ACCIDENTS

Two serious accidents from coasting took place late last week, one of which was fatal.

Wilfred Vachon, aged 5, son of Peter Vachon of 73 Faxon street, a pupil at the Stearns School, was almost instantly killed Saturday morning when the sled on which he was coasting from the yard of his home into Faxon street was in collision with an auto truck coming up the street. The child's body struck against the rear wheels. When the driver and others picked him up he was unconscious and died in a few moments.

The police ambulance responded, but it was not necessary to use it, and Medical Examiner West was notified. The truck is owned by the Loose-Wiles Biscuit Company, and the driver, Edward H. Finn of Melrose, evidently did not see the child coming from the yard on his sled.

Rosanna Lynch, 16, of 26 Carter street, Needham, and Francis Smith, 17, of 1127 Chestnut street, Newton Upper Falls, were badly injured when their double-runner crashed into an automobile that was crossing Boylston street, Newton Upper Falls. Both were unconscious when the police ambulance arrived.

Liverando Endarozio, 16, of Columbia road, Upper Falls, was also on the sled when it struck the car, but he escaped injury.

The auto, owned and operated by Francis P. Jones, 53 Cottage street, Newton Upper Falls, was going across Boylston street, near the foot of the long hill, when the double-runner speeded down the hill. It struck the car in the middle. The trio on the sled were thrown several feet by the impact. Endarozio got up after the crash, but his companions were unconscious. The ambulance took them to the Newton Hospital.

Smith's condition is serious, as he is suffering from broken ribs, cuts, and internal injuries. Miss Lynch was discharged after treatment.

TRAINS DELAYED

Hundreds of Boston & Albany patrons were held up on the way home Saturday night by the derailment of several coaches just inside the South Terminal limits. The accident occurred at the height of the 5 o'clock rush and the tieup was not straightened out for several hours.

For a time between 5 and 6 o'clock the area near the entrances to tracks 2, 3, 4 and 5 resembled a mob scene, with several hundred peeved commuters storming from gateway to gateway, only to be held back by special policemen.

GIRL SCOUTS

Great interest is being taken in two new Troops of Girl Scouts which have been started this winter. One in Thompsonville under the leadership of Miss Priscilla Ordway of Newton Centre, Captain of Troop 3, and the other in the Myrtle Baptist Church, West Newton, with Miss Norah Lomax as Captain and Miss Edna Jackson, Lieutenant.

These two troops started within a few days of each other and it is a race between them to see which will be the first one registered and the members are working with a will getting ready to take the Tenderfoot test. Best wishes to you both. We will be glad to welcome Troops 9 and 10.

Troop 3. All seasons look alike to the Girl Scouts as far as being busy is concerned. During the winter months our work lies chiefly indoors, so in this time we plan and work for merit badges, suppers, welfare work and similar occupation.

During the past month we took up tie-dyeing in order that we might qualify for the Craftsman merit badge. We were all surprised at the beautiful results which we obtained and many of the girls decided to make some Christmas presents in this way.

We are sure that no expert cooks could have furnished anything better than did our supper Committee on December 9. We all agreed that it was a great success and are looking forward to the next one. On December 10 the Junior Troop held a fair for the benefit of an Armenian School in Tarsus, Turkey. The Senior Troop helped by selling soap and silver polishing cloths. At present we are organizing a hockey team with which we hope to challenge some of the other troops in Newton. Secretary Troop 3. Seniors.

Troop 7. At one of our December meetings some of the girls stuffed dolls, which were made out of men's socks, which we sent to State Headquarters to be sold in their shop. It was great fun stuffing the little fellows and if those who buy them only knew of the fun we had in making them, they themselves might make some.

One afternoon some of our troop went with Captain Freeman to the Brookline Swimming tank. It was a great lark which we hope may be repeated soon. For our good turn at Christmas we made place cards for the members of the Stone Institute so that each member was sure to find her place at the Christmas dinner.

Troop 5 entertained our Troop at a Christmas party on December 20. It was a wonderful party with a play, a Santa Claus who brought a pack with

PI ETA SHOW

The Pi Eta men of Cambridge presented their annual show in Players' hall, West Newton, on New Year's Night before a crowded house.

The scene of the extravaganza was laid in Switzerland, where the Alpine scenery, and a vivid thunderstorm added much to the realism.

The plot concerned itself with a Russian Princess masquerading as a French flower girl, two ex-kings, and a resourceful American with whom the princess promptly falls in love.

The singing throughout was spirited and full of "pep", while the chorus was unusually attractively gowned, many of its members exhibiting the grace and charm characteristic of the "fair sex."

The playing of the orchestra in the scene in the hotel in the third act was particularly well done. In the same act, Mr. James F. Lautner's singing was enthusiastically received, while Mr. Albert Palmer of Newton made a decided hit as a dancer. Other Newton "boys" taking part were Paul B. Ferguson, who made a charming Agnes, Clark C. Macomber, who was the dashing millionaire from Kansas, and Jesselyn Young, who took part in the chorus.

The Newton patronesses follow: Miss Lucy Ellis Allen, Mrs. David E. Baker, Mrs. C. Peter Clarke, Mrs. William P. Cooke, Mrs. Joseph S. Cordingley, Mrs. Henry B. Day, Mrs. E. H. Ellison, Mrs. Frederick J. Fawcett, Mrs. Robert F. Gammons, Mrs. Henry I. Harriman, Mrs. Edward P. Hendrick, Mrs. Maynard C. Hutchinson, Mrs. A. V. H. Kimberly, Mrs. George B. H. Macomber, Mrs. Frank A. Mason, Mrs. J. E. Masters, Mrs. Henry A. Nealley, Mrs. J. N. Palmer, Mrs. William Z. Ripley, Mrs. George F. Schrafft, Mrs. F. E. Stanley, Mrs. Prescott Warren, Mrs. Arthur J. Wellington, Mrs. C. Oliver Wellington, Mrs. J. N. Woodbridge, Mrs. Nicholas Young.

NEWTON Y. W. C. A.

The Newton Y. W. C. A. is in immediate need of an upright piano for the gymnasium in the Nonantum building. If any one willing to give the use of a piano, or willing to sell a piano at a reasonable price would let us know we would be grateful. Also any information regarding a good second-hand piano would be much appreciated. Address "Y. W. C. A.", Nonantum Building, Newton, Mass.

real presents and ever so many bags of candy. We played games, had supper and rousing good time with cheers, singing and lots of fun.

NEW CITY GOVERNMENT

Usual Inaugural Ceremonies at City Hall. Change of Clerk of Committees

The aldermanic chamber at City Hall was crowded to its capacity on Monday afternoon for the inauguration of the city government of 1922.

The program followed the usual routine of many years. The incoming board was called to order by City Clerk Grant and all the members and members elect responded to their names. Alderman Heathcote was chosen as temporary chairman and Alderman Whidden and Alderman elect Hollis and Hickey were appointed a committee to inform the Mayor that the board was ready to take the oath of office. Mayor and Mayor elect Edwin O. Childs and party responded almost immediately and were received with considerable applause. With the Mayor were former mayors, John A. Fenn, George Hutchinson and Charles E. Hatfield. Rev. Robert L. Rae of the North Church and Hon. Thomas Weston, special justice of the Newton District court.

After Rev. Mr. Rae had offered prayer, the oath of office was administered to Mayor elect Edwin O. Childs by Judge Weston and by Mayor Childs to the aldermen elect and to Mr. J. Everett Hicks, member elect of the school committee.

The Mayor then read his inaugural address which will be found in full in another part of the "Graphic." The address took about 35 minutes and was received with considerable applause.

Alderman Arthur W. Hollis was then unanimously elected president of the board on motion of Alderman Whidden, who had been his opponent at the caucus, and the Mayor and his party withdrew.

President Hollis briefly thanked the board for his election and asked for the hearty co-operation of all the members. Alderman George V. Phipps was then unanimously elected vice-president.

Francis Newhall was unanimously re-elected city treasurer and collector and Daniel A. White as Comptroller of Accounts.

The election of a clerk of committees was postponed and subsequently was taken up in a new form, when a motion was offered by Alderman Heathcote to change the Rules of the board, then under consideration, so as to provide that the city clerk should act as clerk of committees. This motion was opposed by Alderman Carter, Phipps, Saltonstall and Whidden, but was carried by a vote of 11 to 10.

Aldermen Madden, Earle, Collins, Grebenstein, Smith, Hickey, Heathcote, Ross, Young, White and Hollis voting for the change, which was an indirect method of dispensing with the services of J. C. Brimblecom for 24 years the clerk of Committees. The announcement by the chair of the adoption of this amendment evidently met with popular approval as it was greeted with considerable applause from the audience.

The applications of various concerns for renewal of automobile licenses were granted as were petitions of E. A. Bram for a victualler license at 375 Watertown street and of M. Signo for an auto truck license.

The Mayor sent in a request from the Buildings Commissioner in regard to use of $2500 appropriated for grading about the Angier school, at Waban. Alderman White presented an order calling for the repeal of the preferential voting law now in force in this city, the Newton City Employees Union came in with their yearly request for a Saturday half holiday throughout the year. H. F. Stimpson asked for a hearing in regard to betterment assessments in the Chestnut hill district, and there was a petition for improvement of the Saw Mill brook valley at Oak Hill.

Orders for committees on Mayor's Address and on Zoning, for office hours at City Hall, for printing the Mayor's address and for $2,750,000 temporary loans were adopted.

Messrs. Ben. B. Buck of Ridge avenue and Buckingham Miller of Newton Highlands were drawn as jurors for the Cambridge criminal court.

President Hollis then appointed the following committees:

Finance: White, Chairman; Collins, Heathcote, Jewell, Madden, Pratt, Whidden.

Public Works: Young, Chairman; Earle, Grebenstein, Melcher, Nichols, Saltonstall, Smith.

Franchises and Licenses: Ross, Chairman; Ball, Banfield, Carter, Hickey, Hollis, Phipps.

Public Buildings: Whidden, Chairman; Ball, Grebenstein, Jewell, Ross, Saltonstall, White.

Legislation: Heathcote, Chairman; Ball, Banfield, Carter, Nichols, Phipps, Smith and President Hollis.

Claims and Rules: Madden, Chairman; Heathcote, Melcher, Phipps, Young.

Education: Pratt, Chairman; Collins, Hickey.

Kenrick Fund: Jewell, Chairman; Earle, Melcher.

Mayor's Address: Hickey, Chairman; Grebenstein, Pratt, Smith, Whidden.

Proposed Zoning Ordinance: Phipps, Chairman; Heathcote, Hickey, Madden, Nichols, Saltonstall, White.

And the board adjourned at 4.50 P. M.

STEARNS SCHOOL CENTRE

The annual meeting of the Stearns School Centre Association will be held at the home of Mrs. William E. Jones on Farlow road, Newton, Mass., on Tuesday, January 17th, at 3.30 P. M. Miss Niles, the President of the Massachusetts League of Girls' Clubs, will give an informal talk and tea will be served.

NINTH INAUGURAL ADDRESS OF HON. EDWIN O. CHILDS

Gentlemen of the Board of Aldermen:

I wish you and every man, woman and little child in this city a very happy New Year.

We meet today to organize for the transaction of city business. We have been chosen by the people to be their servants. Public service is an honorable calling. "Public servant" is a title of which one may well be proud.

Having been elected by the people we are responsible to them. We are their trustees. I am sure I speak your sentiments when I say that we are grateful to that large company of known and unknown citizens who have so recently expressed their confidence in us and by whose suffrage we are permitted to serve.

The call of the times is for efficiency in public service. That, however, is not enough. There must be efficiency, but to be efficient and effectual public servants is the goal toward which we should strive.

I shall be glad to work with you to this end and I trust that we shall all be united in a common love for a common task.

To some of you public service is a new experience: to others it is an old story. It is not difficult if certain principles are followed.

There is a right and a wrong to almost every question, and if we strive together to get the right answer to each problem which faces us we will find joy in service.

I wish at this time to express to the members of last year's Board of Aldermen, to the members of all City Boards and Commissions, and to all city employees my appreciation of their efforts exerted for the public good, and my thanks for their coöperation in our common aim to promote the welfare of all our people.

During the year Mr. John Daboll tendered his resignation as Comptroller of Accounts and the vacancy was filled by the Board of Aldermen by the appointment of Mr. Daniel A. White, a man who has had large experience in accounting. Mr. Daboll carries with him into his new and sacred calling the best wishes of his many friends both inside and outside of City Hall. Mr. White has entered upon his duties in a spirit which promises well for the future.

I would also record for Heads of Departments and myself our appreciation of the service rendered by the City Solicitor. He is the legal adviser for all city officials, the Board of Aldermen and all Boards and Commissions. He is necessarily called upon to answer a large number of inquiries involving legal questions by these officials and Boards during the year. In addition to that his activities cover the defence of damage suits brought annually against the city: suits of various kinds brought against public officers; matters involving rates and operations of public utilities, the acquisition of land for municipal purposes and the prosecution of certain cases in the Police Court for the violation of city ordinances. He is also the legislative representative of the city in all matters at the State House. His promptness, courtesy and good judgment have been a help to us all.

A gift which is acknowledged with gratitude and which will serve the public is that of the Memorial Fountain given by the family of Lieut. Richard Blodgett and in his memory. It occupies a conspicuous place near the Putnam Street bridge in West Newton and will ever stand as a memorial to a Newton boy who served his Country faithfully and who loved man and beast.

The military and semi-military organizations of this city have had a successful year. A keener interest than has heretofore been manifested has been stimulated by those in authority. These organizations which do special work, make a large contribution to the well being of the community. Company H, our local military organization, has had an active and successful year. At home and in Camp it has done good work. Captain MacClellan and those associated with him deserve great credit for results accomplished, and those under his command who have coöperated with him deserve praise.

At Camp Devens during summer manoeuvres this company received commendation from leaders in the Regular Army, seldom bestowed upon a Company in the National Guard.

The American Legion has at all times responded to local calls for service and its members have made the burial of our soldier dead most impressive.

The Spanish War Veterans have stimulated a new interest in their organization and have added many new members to their roll.

The Grand Army, Post No. 62, loses by death several members each year, and although the ranks are growing thin there is still in the hearts of the survivors of the Civil War that spirit which has always been an example to youth and which in the days from '61 to '65 kept us one nation instead of two.

I would suggest that these organizations unite with other interested citizens in an effort to shape a public opinion which will demand a cessation of sports on Memorial Day, making it what it ought to be, more of a holy day than a holiday.

I would also suggest that those eligible for membership in these organizations and the splendid Auxiliaries connected therewith make application forthwith and become actively interested in the noble work in which they are engaged.

The financial condition of the city is sound. Her bonds are always in demand. They find a ready market and are quickly absorbed. A brief summary of the situation is as follows:—

Bonds issued during the year 1921.....	$603,800.00
Bonds matured during 1921.....	281,900.00
Making Gross Funded Debt on Dec. 31, 1921..	4,680,350.00
Showing an increase in the gross funded debt of	321,100.00
Net Funded Debt Dec. 31, 1921.....	2,770,879.14
Showing an increase of.....	363,915.26
Sinking Fund Commissioners held on Dec. 31, 1921, securities and cash amounting to.....	1,909,470.86
Showing a decrease of.....	42,815.26
They paid in 1921 to the City of Newton to pay a like amount of bonds maturing.....	151,900.00
There will be due and payable during 1922, bonds amounting to.....	615,850.00
Of which amount the Sinking Fund Commissioners will furnish.....	453,850.00
Leaving Serial bonds to be paid by taxation and water receipts.....	162,000.00
The requirements for interest on Funded Debt and Sinking Funds for 1922 will be more than for 1921 by about.....	8,000.00
The Borrowing Capacity of the City of Newton on Dec. 31, 1921, was.....	834,666.38
Showing a decrease during the year of.....	256,332.25
The city's financial condition has at no time been threatened during the past year, notwithstanding rumors to the contrary, and our books will close with all bills paid and a surplus. Our efficient City Treasurer always puts the city's interests first.
The important work of raising the money to pay our municipal expenses comes under the jurisdiction of the Assessing Department. The work of the past year has been of great benefit to the tax-payer. The tax-rate in 1920 was $27.20. In 1921 it was $24.00. The reduction, amounting to $3.20, was made up as follows,—
On account of the net reduction in State, County, Metropolitan and City Warrants.....	$30
On account of increased receipts in 1920.....	1.53
On account of increase in valuation.....	1.37
The gain in Real Estate from re-valuation was.....	$1,174,900.00
And from New Buildings.....	2,884,300.00
The gain in Personal Property was.....	1,158,220.00
The Total Gain was.....	$5,217,420.00

A reduction of $3.20 in our tax rate at a time when other cities, with very few exceptions, were declaring higher rates, aroused unusual attention; and some doubts were expressed as to whether or not the Assessors' figures in the matter of estimates receipts would be equalled by the actual receipts of the year. At the request of the Board of Aldermen, the Chairman of the Board of Assessors appeared before the former Board at one of its regular meetings, and spoke at length on the matter of estimated and actual receipts. His account of the receipts for each year, beginning with 1918, showed that the Assessors were justified in giving the tax-payer the full benefit of the receipts of 1920 in estimating the receipts of 1921, and the actual receipts of 1921 have sustained the action of the Assessors.

The Chairman of the Assessors also called the attention of the Aldermen to the sum of $183,000.00 which had been transferred from the Excess and Deficiency Account to the Supplies Account by the State Authorities. This transfer had apparently not been fully understood, and action has since been taken which will result in restoring to the Excess and Deficiency Account whatever sum may be due.

With regard to the tax rate of 1922 it is too early to make predictions. It is safe to say, however, that with reasonable economy and foresight in all departments of our municipal work, the rate under present conditions need not be subject to any great changes and as the City grows it should be revised downwards. The increase in valuation will probably be comparatively small this year. It should increase rapidly when building operations improve. Revaluation is now a fixture in the Assessing Department, and some portion of the City is revalued as a part of each year's work. The law requires all property, real and personal, to be assessed at its fair cash value on April 1st, and this rule is now followed generally throughout the Commonwealth. Valuations are changed in Newton only after a visit to the property and a careful examination of it. The few abatements made in connection with re-valuations shows good judgment on the part of the Assessors in the changes made and equitable treatment of the tax-payers.

The amount expended on public works has not been as great as during the year 1920, although the work accomplished has been in line with the demands of a growing City. No extensive improvements in the way of street, sewerage or drainage was attempted, the work done being a considerable number of more or less minor items which tend to build up a comprehensive whole.

A number of the city's public ways were improved for travelling by resurfacing with bituminous macadam. A reasonable amount of lateral sanitary sewers were built and such new surface drains as were imperatively needed.

The policy of resurfacing our public streets with bituminous macadam from year to year appears to be sound, as these pavements seem to take care of the traffic with a minimum of maintenance and low initial cost. The vehicular traffic is widely distributed and the absence of intense use of any of our streets by heavy teaming or trucking eliminates the necessity for providing heavier pavements at greatly increased original outlay.

An unusual number of private ways were laid out and constructed by the city under the betterment act, the usual procedure of obtaining releases and agreements to pay the betterments having been followed in each case. After an experience of a number of years, the plan followed by the Board of Aldermen in accepting and constructing streets which are partially built up and on which property is owned by a number of different abutters, has proved satisfactory in nearly every instance, the percentage of the owners aggrieved or dissatisfied with any such work having been so small as to be almost negligible. On each of these streets accepted by the Board of Aldermen, a building line restriction providing for a ten foot set-back has been placed, amounting to four and five miles of frontage in all.

The most important street widenings ordered by the Board were Beacon Street at Waban Square, so-called, and Beacon Street from Irvington Street to Washington Street. Beacon Street in the latter location was one of our old streets with irregular lines and while open to public travel since 1702, there is no record of any formal action having been taken as to its laying out as a public way by the town or city. The new lines provide for a street from 60 to 70 feet in width with a 25 foot building line restriction on each side, and as this street is the main artery through Waban, this improvement will be a distinct advantage to that village of the city.

The sewerage work during the past year has been confined to lateral sewers. Attention will have to be given in a not distant future to the relief of some of our trunk sewers which, owing to the development of the territory which they serve and consequent added contributions from lateral sewers, are rapidly approaching their safe capacity and enlargements of the existing trunk lines or the providing of additional main sewers will be necessary.

A few houses situated in the Avalon Road district at Waban have been seriously in need of sewerage for several years. These houses are situated in a section of Waban which is too low to be drained into the Waban sewerage system, and relief was provided by the construction of a small sewerage pumping station, automatic in its operation, to lift the sewage into the Waban system. This station is so designed and located as to take care of the sanitary sewage from a considerable area in the vicinity as it becomes further developed, and should be an aid to the improvement of property in that territory.

As mentioned in previous years, much can be done in the way of improved surface drainage, particularly in some sections of the city where there are many miles of streets with inadequate provision to take care of even a moderate rainfall. The work done on the meadows south of Boylston Street has resulted in a marked improvement in that locality. The drainage of Cold Spring swamp, a considerable area close to the geographical centre of the city, is a problem for future consideration as a benefit to a large area.

A reasonable mileage of water mains were laid to take care of the demands caused by the construction of new buildings.

The city's experience in a water supply drawn without deterioration in quality from underground sources for a great many years, indicates that the safe yield of the capacity of its reservation has not yet been overdrawn with a resultant undesirable increase in hardness and iron content, as has been the case of other municipalities in the Charles River Valley.

We are most fortunate in being a part of the Metropolitan water district and are thus assured of an ample amount of water when a constantly increasing demand calls for more than can be economically or safely obtained from its own reservation.

I suggest again for serious consideration the advisability of taking the strip of river frontage now owned by Neil McIntosh and lying between Bernard Street and the Charles River, this being the only land on the river between Needham Street, Upper Falls, and the Dedham line not controlled by municipalities or by semi-public corporations.

The Auxiliary Pumping plant near Metropolitan Reservoir on Ward Street is completed and ready for operation.

An extremely warm and dry June caused a water consumption in excess of any previously known in the City, and indicated quite clearly the need of increased carrying capacity in water mains on certain elevations, viz.: West Newton, Fairlow, Hunnewell Hills and Mt. Ida, the flow in which can be materially increased at comparatively small cost by replacing the 6" line with 8" in Lenox Street between Highland and Otis, completing 8" line in Nonantum Street connecting with Waverly Avenue, replacing 6" pipe with 8" in Waverly Avenue between Tremont and Washington Streets and laying a 6" main from Langdon Street to Surrey Road. Also the completion of the 12" line in Mill Street between Walnut and Centre.

I recommend an increase in the water supply by the building of a second large well similar to the one now in successful operation.

On April 1st Water Bonds to the amount of $100,000 will become due and payable from sinking funds.

Newton is one of the few cities where building operations have been carried on during the past year. From August 1 to December 29 of 1921, 431 permits were issued for buildings whose estimated cost will be $2,057,261 as compared with 250 permits with estimated cost of $785,367 for the same period in 1920. The city is bound to grow as conditions become more settled.

A large portion of the money raised by taxation in this city is spent for public education. Past city governments have always had the interests of our children and young people at heart. The American people have always recognized the necessity of having an educated people if a stable and wise self-government is to be maintained. Newton schools and their teaching force have always done all in their power toward making a better citizenship—by developing youth so as to make in the future men and women who will be intelligent, public spirited, patriotic and honest. To do this is the aim of true education.

Our citizens do not object to the expenditure of money in behalf of education if that money is properly spent. I do not raise the issue that it is spent in Newton other than economically.

I ask you to give to requests and recommendations of the School Committee thoughtful and sympathetic study.

I am intensely interested in the youth of this city, her greatest asset, and nothing has been more on my mind and heart than their welfare and the success of our schools.

The Albert Edgar Angier School at Waban was ready for occupancy this fall and a new school house is in process of construction at Newtonville.

Section 23 of our Charter provides that: "whenever in the opinion of the school committee a new school-house is required or material alterations are needed, it shall send a written communication to the Board of Aldermen stating the locality and nature of the further provisions for schools which are needed."

The School Committee has sent two such communications during the past ten years and they have been acted upon promptly by both the Mayor and Board of Aldermen.

The cause of education has lost three stalwart friends in this city during the past twelve months in the death of Charles D. Meserve, Edward H. Cutler, and Enoch C. Adams.

Mr. Cutler was a scholar who, as principal of the High School more than thirty years ago, moulded the thought and life of the youth of that day and generation. Mr. Meserve as a teacher in the same school for many years was a natural leader of and adviser to boys. Many a young man in this city today owes much for what he is to the interest taken in him by the faithful and inspiring teacher who left us a year ago.

The people of this city, young and old, were shocked not long since upon learning of the sudden death of Mr. Adams, for more than a score of years the principal of the Classical High School. It would be difficult to make a correct inventory of his influence for good during his teaching days. His memorial is an army of young people, as well as grown up men and women, whose lives have been made better by his service.

Coming back from a summer vacation with the greatest sorrow of his life in his heart, and looking forward with dread to the close of the school year, when, under the law he would be compelled to retire, he faced the duties of the present as a real hero, and was throwing into his work every effort to make his last year the best one, when the Great Teacher whom he served so faithfully, called him home. His going reminds us of the lines of Maltbie Babcock:

"Some day the bell will sound,
Some day my heart will bound
As with a shout
That school is out
And lessons done
I homeward run."

The general health of the City has compared favorably with that of the previous year, and the number of cases of reportable diseases listed has been fewer, with the exception of diphtheria, in which there has been a slight increase.

During the year the city has continued its attention to diphtheria prevention and has tested nearly 1000 persons for susceptibility. Of this number 867 were school children, 199 of whom or 23.07% were shown to be naturally protected against the disease. None of these children have taken diphtheria, although several of them are known to have been exposed to infection.

The work of artificially immunizing those who were shown not to be protected naturally is proceeding slowly.

The dental clinic has been enlarged and is now in operation daily during school hours, which has enabled it to increase its work. In six months since the new schedule went into effect the clinic has treated 1092 patients as compared with 795 during the corresponding months in 1920.

The work of the schools has been most satisfactory and the co-operation between the school authorities and the Board of Health has been notable. The School Department is supplementing the work of this department by caring for malnutrition among the pupils, so that the health of the children should soon show great improvement.

During the coming year the department will continue the work of testing and immunizing the children in the public schools against diphtheria, with the expectation of reducing very materially the occurrence of diphtheria by increasing the number of protected children.

The probable death rate, based on an estimated population of 47,026 will be about 10 per 1,000 as compared with 12.18 for 1920.

The recreation work in our city has been ably handled. The largest possible results with a minimum expenditure is as I would characterize, the work of the Playground Commission.

A few more regular laborers will be needed the coming year by Superintendent Hermann to take care of the maintenance of our grounds. There is a tremendous increase in the use of grounds as the years go by. Some of the baseball fields, football fields and tennis courts are in constant use mornings, afternoons, and evenings, Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, during certain seasons.

This means increased care of the surfaces. No baseball play is safe under modern conditions unless the surface is level and smooth.

We have something like 50 baseball organizations outside our regular school and playground teams, made up of first class amateur players, who maintain their own teams and expenses and self management. Some of these teams attract thousands of spectators to their contests. The whole is a most valuable phase of outdoor recreation promoting physical as well as social and moral health. The players, even with the best of diamonds, will cut up the surface and the vast numbers of spectators cannot help, although generally rather well-behaved, leaving a lot of rubbish on the grounds. If we did not take care of this rubbish and the surface constantly, the grounds would not only be unsafe but would soon present a very disorderly appearance. To this, not only the neighbors, but all the citizens would object. Twilight games are a most valuable form of recreation and reach especially the young men and women who have left school and are engaged in gainful occupations. The same is true of Sunday Play. What I have said about the diamonds pertains equally to the tennis courts and other game courts. It is the same with skating and with bathing. We have taken care of over one hundred acres of playgrounds, divided into twenty-two playgrounds with one foreman and eight men. To keep our grounds as attractive as possible is, I believe, of great interest to all our citizens and I believe that asking an appropriation to allow putting two more men on the force, regularly, is not unreasonable.

Naturally with the increase of all playground activities, there goes an increase in maintenance expenses. This should be met promptly.

The Newton Circle, Inc., has done splendid work in supporting the Playground Department. The music furnished by the organization during the summer season has brought joy to many of our people, both young and old.

Victory Field, maintained by public spirited citizens, is a busier place than ever, and fulfils a great need.

I believe it is the business of a City Government to anticipate the growth of the city, and, as the report of the Planning Board shows, there is need that we should look ahead and buy land now for playgrounds which may later be needed to prevent congestion and to maintain a City Beautiful. The City Government should commend the enterprise now in progress in the neighborhood of Adams Street to establish a playground in that district, and they may well go on record as encouraging the raising of funds, which is now going on, by promising to take care of the construction of the grounds and their maintenance. I believe that it would be well to study all the possible places where playgrounds will be needed in the future and that

EDITORIAL

The action taken by the aldermen on Monday in regard to its clerk of committees, causes the editor of the Graphic to anticipate, by about two months, a long planned retirement from that office and a consequent farewell to an official connection with our City Hall which had existed for nearly 37 years.

During this long period, we have had experience in the work of three city departments, have served for ten years as clerk of the old Common Council and, under the present city charter have been for 24 years the clerk of committees.

We cite this record merely for the purpose of indicating that our education in city affairs has been fairly comprehensive and on rather broad lines. We have been an eye witness to the splendid work of scores of public spirited men who have devoted themselves with a single purpose, to what they considered the best interests of the city and have grown from youth to middle age in an atmosphere in which service has been the key note.

We consider it a high compliment to have received for 24 consecutive years, the unanimous vote of a board of 21 men, for the minor but strictly confidential office of clerk of committees and take some pride in the fact that during that period, for a term of 21 years we have published the Newton Graphic without a single valid criticism of an improper use of information regarding city affairs.

We take this occasion to express our deep gratitude for the confidence which has been manifested towards us during all these years and for the many valuable friendships we have formed all over the city as well as our appreciation of the unexcelled opportunity which we have had to study city affairs under most favorable auspices.

We shall continue in the future, as we have in the past to do all in our power to maintain the high standard of the city government which has long been the pride of Newton and shall do so without regard to the personal animosities of some and the political ambitions of others.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

For the first time in the history of Massachusetts the Legislature convened this week without electing the usual officers. This was due to the fact that with biennial elections and annual sessions the same membership continues through two sessions.

There was a little change in the committees of the House in which the Newton members had some interest as Representative Early was transferred from Public Institutions to Public Health and the writer was transferred from Social Welfare to Election Laws and from House Elections to the chairmanship of the minor committee on Engrossed Bills. Mr. Rice retained his chairmanship of Education and his place on Metropolitan Affairs while Mr. Early was retained as chairman of State Administration, which by the way will be a most important committee with the consideration of the report of the special commission of which Mr. Edwin S. Webster of Chestnut Hill was chairman and of which Mr. Early was also a member. This commission recommends a radical change in the methods of administration and predicts an annual saving of ten million dollars if its report is carried out.

There will be little business transacted by the General Court until the time for filing new business has expired, a week from tomorrow and with the committees all organized and well acquainted with the work rapid progress ought to be made.

J. C. Brimblecom.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION OF CENTRAL CHURCH

The annual meeting of the Woman's Association of Central Church was held on Wednesday, Miss Abby Miller presiding.

Over two hundred people enjoyed the very excellent luncheon preceding the business meeting. Reports were read of the year's work, showing a very real interest on the part of members not only in the work at home but in work abroad as well.

A very high tribute was paid to Miss Miller who has served as President of the Association for the last three years, for her untiring efforts in behalf of the association. Miss Miller leaves the presidency with all bills paid, and money in the treasury.

Miss Miller also paid tribute to all who had worked with her.

Following the business of the day, Rev. M. H. Lichter spoke on "The New Adventurers," reviewing the last two chapters of the mission study book of the year.

He told briefly of the unity of the race as exemplified at the time of an epidemic, and of the tremendous burdens upon missions everywhere. These burdens were the burdens of poverty, a poverty utterly unknown in the United States, the burden of ignorance, which in many parts of the world is appalling, the burden of race prejudice, shown even in our own country, and the increasingly difficult economic burden.

He said, in concluding, that it was absolutely necessary for native leaders to be educated in order to cope with present conditions, and made a strong plea for more money with which to support more missionaries. Pledges for the year were then taken.

Preceding Mr. Lichter's address, the new president, Mrs. Austin H. Decatur took the chair. She spoke of the fear and trembling with which she undertook the office of president, and asked for the co-operation of the members of the society in the year to follow.

Other officers of the society for the coming year are as follows:

First Vice-President, Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden; Second Vice-President, Mrs. William H. Allen; Chairman of World's Missions, Miss Abby A. Miller; Recording Secretary, Mrs. C. A. Richardson; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Percy F. Williams; Treasurer, Mrs. D. Brewer Eddy; Asst. Treasurer, Miss Bertha E. Miller; Auditor, Mrs. E. S. Woodbury; Chairman, Housekeeping Committee, Mrs. A. E. Vose, Chairman of Work Committee, Mrs. D. P. Jewett; Chairman, Luncheon Committee, Mrs. Eliza A. Robinson; Nominating Committee, Mrs. Beiden Sly, Chairman; Mrs. Charles P. Frail, and Mrs. Henry B. Nickerson.

PUBLIC INSTALLATION

The new officers of Palestine Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, were publicly installed on Tuesday evening in the Masonic building, Newtonville, in the presence of a large gathering of interested members and guests.

The installation exercises were in charge of Mrs. Jane Grey Payzant, Grand Conductress, with Mrs. Rose A. Little, as Deputy Grand Marshal, and the work of these two ladies was of the highest order. They were assisted by the Grand Patron, Albert A. Thomas, and Mrs. Lena Belle Trotter served as Chaplain.

These officers were installed with impressive ceremony. Worthy Matron, Mrs. Margaret N. Ross; Worthy Patron, Dr. Edward J. St. Coeur; Associate Matron, Mrs. Alice L. McLean; Secretary, Mrs. Minnie M. Gorse; Treasurer, Mrs. Jennie L. Clark; Conductress, Mrs. Jennie Alexander; and Associate Conductress, Mrs. Charlotte S. Mansfield, as elected officers. The appointed officers installed were: Chaplain, Miss Myra S. Cook; Marshal, Mrs. Eliza J. Brown; Adah, Miss Maude Withington; Ruth, Mrs. Gertrude Kerwin; Esther, Mrs. Josephine Parry; Electa, Mrs. Elcott Thelling; Warden, Mrs. Anne E. Zedren; sentinel, Gerald Zedren. The organist, Mrs. Myra S. Cook, and Martha, Mrs. Helen B. Briggs, were not installed.

A male quartet added greatly to the formal ceremonies and incidentally gave humor to the less formal part of the program with pertinent selections from popular songs. Dr. St. Coeur was greeted with the song, "Pack Up Your Troubles," when he was installed as Worthy Patron and similar selections added zest to the evening.

The retiring Worthy Matron, Mrs. Isabel E. Wilson, presented all of her officers with a rose. Mrs. Wilson was given a past master's badge, by Mrs. Dorothy Sprague, after the quartet had sung "Don't Cry Little Girl." She was also given a bouquet by the retiring Worthy Patron, Alfred E. Allen. Mr. Allen in turn was given a Past Patron's Jewel by Mr. Harry W. Twist and a bouquet for Mrs. Allen. Mrs. Payzant and Mrs. Little were given bouquets by Mrs. Rose.

After the installation ceremonies there were refreshments and dancing in Temple Hall.

N. H. S.

The class of 1921, Newton Technical High School, will hold its first annual reunion on Friday evening, January 6, in the library of the Technical High School. There will be dancing and entertainment. The committee in charge of the reunion is made up of the following: Archie McGregor, Charles Scipione, Margaret Barry, Marian Van Wormer, Francis Sheehan, Theresa Goddard, and Dorothy Fra.

NEWTONVILLE COMMUNITY FORUM

The Newtonville Community Forum, so popular in past winters, will commence their midwinter meetings on Sunday, January 15th, at 4:00 P. M., in the Central Church.

The speaker of the day is Mr. Whittier Williams who recently returned from a most interesting and practical first-hand study of labor conditions in the old world. His subject will be "What's on the Worker's Mind in Europe, Britain and America." Opportunity will be given for discussion after the address. Special music will feature the meetings.

On February 12th Dr. Tehyi Hsieh will speak on "China's Aspirations at the Washington Conference."

Dr. Hsieh is Director of the Chinese Trade and Labor Bureau and is looked upon as the economic leader of China. He has travelled and spoken in many countries and was sent by the United States Chinese Merchants' Association and the New York Chinese Chamber of Commerce to represent the Chinese interests at the seventh foreign trade convention at San Francisco in 1920.

The Doctor speaks fluent English and is an intensely interesting speaker. The Newton Choral Society will render several of its best numbers at this meeting.

On March 12th the third meeting of the Community Forum will be held. Speakers to be announced later.

All citizens of Newton and their families and friends are cordially invited and always welcomed to the meetings of the forum.

NEWTON Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The second annual New Year's reception proved even more popular than the one held last year. A great many parents and friends of the Association in addition to large numbers of members were in attendance. The activities in the gymnasium were under the direction of physical directors S. A. Carling and Raymond Van Buskirk. In the swimming pool the captain of the senior swimming team, Mr. Putnam Barnes, had charge.

Large numbers were watching these events at all times. A very fine musical program was rendered by the Newton Constabulary Band. The hall was crowded at 8.30 when the entertainment was put on by Toby, Jack, and Miss Page.

The Malden bowling team met the Y. M. C. A. team on the local alleys last Thursday evening.

The speaker at the Fellowship Club on Monday evening will be Professor Morjeno of Boston University who will speak on the customs and characteristics of the Spanish people both in Spain and the American tropics, (the land of opportunity). He will begin speaking about 7 o'clock and we will be glad to have anyone interested come.

An indoor golf course has been installed at the Newton Y. M. C. A. and is now ready for use. There is plenty of room for a full swing and you can hit the little white ball as hard as you want to. There is also a putting green so you can improve your form and accuracy both in driving and putting.

MINISTER'S RECEPTION

Rev. Chester A. Drummond, the new minister at Channing Church and Mrs. Drummond were tendered a parish reception last evening in Channing Church parlors, and a large number of parishioners were present to greet their new pastor. The rooms were decorated with flowers and Christmas trees. Mr. and Mrs. Drummond were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Philip Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Howard, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Palmer. The ushers were Messrs. Frank P. Scofield, Horace C. Harrington, Ralph W. Angier, Thomas F. Murray, Sidney Peterson, and J. C. Brimblecom.

The ladies who poured were Mrs. A. C. Cummings, Mrs. George Deffen, Mrs. Sidney Peterson and Mrs. Jessie H. Barker.

Music was furnished by an orchestra and Miss Avery sang several songs to the great delight of those present.

MERGER PLANNED

A merger between the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, the East Boston Gas Company and the Newton & Watertown Gas Light Company is under way, and a public hearing is assigned for January 19th.

The three companies have capital stock amounting to more than $16,000,000, and joint assets in excess of $30,000,000.

The Boston Consolidated, it is understood, will file with the state department of public utilities, today, a petition seeking to take over the other two companies and to issue a large block of stock to finance the merger.

At present, the Consolidated sells gas to both of the other companies. Last year it sold $815,871.37 worth of gas to the Newton & Watertown corporation and $564,448.80 to the company in East Boston. All three companies sell to consumers at the same price, $1.35 per 1000 cubic feet.

MASONIC DANCE

That the "Escort" of Gethsemane Commandery, Knights Templar of Newtonville is fulfilling its promise of a lively social season is proven by its many activities, the next big event being the dance to be held in Temple Hall, Tuesday evening, Jan. 10. The Executive Committee has been most fortunate in securing Dodge's Orchestra consisting of eight pieces for this occasion, and those who have heard this orchestra can vouch for the feast that is in store for the enthusiasts who plan on being present next Tuesday evening.

NEWSPAPER SUCCESS

To BELIEVE something and SAY what you believe, to see things clearly and describe them simply, to know what the people think and write about their thinking, to remember that your constant loyalty belongs to the poorest man that reads your newspaper—that is all there is to newspaper success.—Arthur Brisbane.

NEWTON Y. M. C. A. AQUATIC SPLASHES

In a dual swim Wednesday night at the Newton Y. M. C. A. the Newton Y. Mermen swam away from the speedy Lynn Y. swimmers to the tune of 46½ to 21½. The local team proved its speed by winning five first and five second places out of the eight events.

A summary of events follows:— 20 yds.—Won by Bang of Newton, second Eaton of Lynn, third Koch of Lynn. Time 10 seconds.

40 yds.—Noonan of Newton, second Millard of Newton, Eaton of Lynn third. Time 22 seconds.

40 yd. bac kstroke—Jaquith of Newton first, Noonan of Newton second, Eaton of Lynn third. Time 28 seconds.

40 yd. breast stroke—Koch of Lynn first, Jacquith of Newton second, Millard of Newton third. Time 28 1-5 seconds.

100 yds.—Millard of Newton first, Noonan of Newton second, Long of Lynn third. Time 1:05.

Plunge for distance—Jaquith of Newton first 57 ft. 9 in., Staibird of Lynn second, 53 ft. Leader of Lynn third, 52 ft.

Fancy diving—Gidney of Lynn first, Vuilleumier of Newton second, Barnes of Newton and Crozier of Lynn were tied for third.

Relay—Won by Newton team—Noonan, Wallace, Barnes and Millard. Time 38 seconds.

Jan. 27 is pending with Providence. Feb. 15 the strong Worcester team is coming to Newton. These two teams are the best in the New England Y circles and will be well worth seeing in action.

Saturday afternoon, Jan. 7, the Malden Y. Intermediate team comes to Newton for a dual swim with the Newton Y. Intermediate swimmers. This meet will begin at 4:00 and the public will be admitted. Both Malden and Newton have fast boy swimmers and an interesting meeting is anticipated.

GOLDEN WEDDING

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Reed of 35 Ware road, Auburndale, were given a surprise party on Monday night in celebration of his 75th birthday, and of their golden wedding.

Mr. Reed was born in Albion, Me., and came to Newton at the age of 26. On Jan. 1, 1872, he married Miss Olivia A. Jewell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Jewell of Leeds, Me. The wedding took place in Newton Lower Falls. Mr. and Mrs. Reed have had three children, two of whom are living, Oscar S. Reed, a jeweller in Auburndale, and Arthur Reed of Waldo-boro, Me.

Mr. Reed was in the employment of the Boston & Albany R. R. for 35 years, retiring almost 5 years ago after a long and honorable career.

He is a member of the Masonic Lodge of Newton, and of Newton Lodge 92, I. O. O. F. During their 28 years in Auburndale, Mr. and Mrs. Reed have made many friends who joined in congratulating them upon this occasion of a double celebration. Among those present were Rev. and Mrs. Earl E. Harper of the Methodist church. Mrs. Harper added much pleasure by her singing.

In the course of the evening, Mr. Reed was presented with a gold watch chain, and Masonic charm, while Mrs. Reed was given a purse of gold.

NOVELTY PARTY

Over two hundred couples participated in the festivities held at the State Armory, West Newton, on Saturday night at the Novelty Party and Dance held under the joint auspices of Company H, 101st Infantry and the veterans of Company C. Favors were distributed early in the evening, including caps, horns, whistles, and other noise-making devices, all of which tended to add to the enjoyment of the occasion.

Music was furnished by Hoyt's Marmab Orchestra, and the affair was in charge of a joint committee headed by Lieut. Thomas F. Hickey of Company H, who is also commander of the Veterans of Company C. During the evening lunch was served in one corner of the hall, in charge of Mrs. Jessie Barry and Mrs. Hickey. At intermission refreshments were also served.

The proceeds from the affair will be devoted to defraying the expenses incurred in connection with funerals of former members of Company C, who are yet to be brought home from France, where they fell in battle.

NEWTON WOMEN INTERESTED

A group of Newton women, whose interest in worthwhile work is always keen, is working assiduously for one thousand new members for the Women's Aid of the Sailors' Haven, 46 Water street, Charlestown. The committee includes Mrs. Frederick D. Robinson, Miss Lucy Cobb, Mrs. James Kingman, and Mrs. Wallace M. Leonard, who is executive secretary. The main object of the appeal for new members is to interest and bring out personal assistance in the welfare work, including concerts, card parties, dances and dancing lessons, home afternoons and religious services, now being conducted on a high plane for thousands of our seamen, bluejackets, marines and merchantmen who yearly avail themselves of this home. Miss Alice Stackpole of 292 Beacon street, Boston, is president. Mrs. Randall Clifford of Brookline is treasurer, and a comprehensive plan for new work for the coming year is being outlined. The Haven, under the direction of the Episcopal City Mission, has been in existence for many years.

NEWTON COMMUNITY HOUSE

We are glad to announce to the public that the kindness of the committee in charge of the Boy Scouts' Building on Watertown street it has been turned over to Mr. Hill to use for his social work. We certainly feel grateful to this committee for this act of kindness. We shall commence our work there just as soon as arrangements can be made. No one can possibly make any mistake by assisting me in this social work; as this uplift work will contribute something to the community life of the Newtons. The New Scout troop that I have organized has meant much in the life of my boys. My purpose is to place before the boys and girls the ideals that go to make up noble manhood and womanhood. I have learned that communities can only be made better by the development of its group life. And this work can be done best by one that is identified with that group; because it is he that best understands that group.

Help for housework or chorework. Call Mr. Hill; 904-J.

THE COPLEY THEATRE — For some time past St. John Hankin has occupied a conspicuous place among modern English dramatists. So far, however, none of his plays has been seen on the professional stage in Boston, and it therefore remains for Henry Jewett to introduce him to the Boston public at the Copley Theatre next week. The play chosen is "The Cassilis Engagement," a pleasant comedy in the lightest vein that deals realistically with people and incidents of present-day life. While "The Cassilis Engagement" is written for the purpose of providing entertainment, at the same time it offers food for thought both to parents and to children, and its performance may be enjoyably witnessed by both. Its portrayal of scenes from far-separated grades of English society is remarkably acute and life-like, and the dramatist proves himself an adept at making comedy out of the believable events of actual life.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake

Newton High School

The Glee Club of the Classical High School met in the Assembly Hall on Wednesday, January 4th.

The Class of 1921 of the Technical High School will hold its reunion in the library of that school on Friday, January 6th. The teachers are urgently requested to be on hand, and a good time is expected by all.

The Newton High hockey team played the alumni several times during the vacation, and it stood out remarkably well against such stars as Leo Hughes, Crosby, and Clark Hodder.

The Technical High School has just organized a Glee Club and under the supervision of Mr. Harrington, assisted by Miss Mason, it should develop into a mighty good one.

The Classical High School has begun to sell lunch tickets between 8.15-8.20 A. M. to help avoid the congestion at the lunch periods.

The Seniors of the Technical High School received their class rings recently.

The Newton High hockey team won its first hockey game of the year by defeating Boston College High 14 to 0. Osborne, O'Donnell, and Dunlop.

If the team shows such skill and speed against all of its opponents we will have a leading team.

Pupils of the Newton High Schools received their quarterly reports this week.

The Seniors of the Technical High School are making preparations for an entertainment for Washington's birthday.

Stearns School

The teachers of the Stearns School spent the Christmas holidays in the following ways:

Miss Schlechter visited her sister in Reading, Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Howe entertained her daughter and family from East Orange, New Jersey.

Miss Eddington was at her home in Waterville, Maine.

Mr. Dacey visited his people in Fitchburg.

Miss Lewis was with her parents in Keene, N. H.

Miss McLaughlin visited her brother in Manchester, N. H.

Miss Walker spent her vacation with her family in Fitchburg.

Mrs. Goddard spent a week with relatives in New York City.

Miss Swann visited her brother's family in Providence, R. I.

Miss Mann spent the holidays in Chippewa Falls.

Miss Stackpole visited her parents at Auburn, Maine.

Miss Winters was the guest of her sister at Dudley, Mass.

Miss Sears spent the vacation with her parents down on the Cape.

Mr. Winslow entertained his sister from Andover, also Mrs. Winslow's parents from Leominster.

REAL ESTATE

J. Edward Callanan Company report that they have sold for Otis B. Currier of Brookline his estate situated at No. 478 California street, Newtonville. The same consists of a modern stucco two-family house with tile roof, a two-car garage to match house and a corner lot of 6000 feet having a total valuation of $11,000. This property was purchased by A. Louise Roberts who buys for investment.

The Callanan Company's office has closed a five-year lease for George Soire on the vacant store at No. 231 Washington street, Newton. Mr. Clarence Perry, who has leased these premises, will open a modern up-to-date bakery on or about January 10th. The above transactions were negotiated thru the office of J. Edward Callanan Company.

CHURCH NOTICE

First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Newton. Players Hall, Washington street, West Newton. Sunday service 10.45 A. M. Subject of lesson-sermon: "Sacrament." Sunday School 10.45 A. M. Testimonial meeting Wednesday 8 P. M. The public is cordially invited to attend the services and to use the Reading Room at 297 Walnut street, Newtonville, which is open daily from 12 to 6 in the afternoon, and on Tuesday and Saturday evenings from 7.30 until 9.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—The third week of William Hodge's engagement at the Plymouth theatre will begin Monday evening, Jan. 9, in his satirical comedy, "Dog Love," which appears to have scored a big success here as it did in New York where it enjoyed a very successful run.

There are a number of actors who because of their efforts, have achieved success in the public estimation. But there is one actor, who, because he apparently makes no effort (at least, a visible one), has achieved greatness. That man is William Hodge. Unaffected, unassuming, simple and just himself, Mr. Hodge has won a place in the hearts of theatre-goers that stands as a monument to him. To most theatre-goers he is known for his work in "A Man From Home," but his admirers will find much to amuse them in the new comedy, "Dog Love," which is a child of his own brain.

SHUBERT THEATRE—"Irene," the smart musical comedy, which has won records for long runs and popularity in New York, Boston and London, enters on the third week of its phenomenally successful Boston return engagement at the Shubert Theatre, Monday night, January 9, when the dainty little shop-girl, Cinderella, will continue to sing and dance herself on to the stage, and into the hearts of theatre-goers who like the very best and most original in the way of musical entertainment.

The production is a colorful and original one, and the form of some of the sets comes in the way of a surprise. There is a wealth of pictorial costumes that are a delight to the eye, and, of course, the Vanderbilt Producing Company has engaged a company of musical favorites.

ELIOT CHURCH WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting of the Eliot Church Woman's Association was held in the church parlors on Tuesday, Mrs. Arthur E. Holt, presiding.

The meeting was preceded by a very delicious luncheon, about two hundred being present. Mrs. Holt called attention to the fact that there were four former presidents of the association present, Mrs. Person, Mrs. Kent, Mrs. Powers, and Mrs. Harriman. Reports were read by the chairmen of the different departments in the church which showed how broad was the scope of the work which Eliot Church is doing. Representatives of the affiliated societies of Eliot Church also spoke.

The speaker of the occasion was Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden of Central Church, Newtonville. Mrs. Boyden spoke on the topic, "The Place of Church Work in the Life of the Modern Woman."

Mrs. Boyden said that the home and the church were two places where all women belonged. She spoke of the debt which we all owe to the church for our present civilization. She then told in detail of each branch of church work, and of its benefit to those who are leaders as well as to those who are members of the different organizations. The part that mothers can play in the home training of their children along religious lines was also dealt upon.

Missionary societies, according to the speaker, were the forerunners of our Women's Clubs. Mrs. Boyden said that she did not regard Women's clubs as rivals of the missionary societies, but as co-workers with them in that they trained women for organization.

Social service work and church work should be closely allied. The rewards of the latter cannot be measured in money or fame.

MANY BEQUESTS

Bequests totalling $42,000 to various Methodist Episcopal Churches, conferences, and theology schools are contained in the will of Alexander Montgomery of Newton Centre, who died Dec. 24.

The following bequests were made: To the trustees of Boston University for the Boston University School of Theology, $10,000; which is to be used in assisting poor and worthy students who are studying for the ministry and is to be known as the Sarah and Susan Montgomery Fund; to the trustees of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Wellfleet, $2,000; to the Franklin Street Methodist Episcopal Church at Bucksport, Me., $5,000; to the East Maine Conference Seminary of the Methodist Episcopal Church, $10,000, to be used in assisting poor and worthy students, and an additional $5,000, the income of which is to be devoted to the benefit of aged and worn-out preachers of the conference; to the Preachers' Aid Society of the New England Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, $10,000.

The residue of the estate goes in bequests to various relatives. Charles A. Collins of Lynn was named as executor.

—Miss Lucy Turner of Maple street, who is now in the service of the Red Cross in Poland, is stationed at Lodz, a city in the extreme north of Poland, near the Russian border. On the approach of the Christmas holidays, she with three other social workers, determined to make an excursion to Italy. To do this their natural way would be via Krakow and Vienna, but owing to the recent riots in Vienna, this way was closed to them. Starting from Warsaw their journey lay through Berlin, Frankfurt-aux-Main, the St. Gothard Tunnel, across the Alps, Milan, straight to Rome. They would have two weeks of sight-seeing among these great Old World cities. They report the German railroads are quite perfect and very comfortable and the rates low, the only troublesome thing being the confusion about passports, which are a never-ending source of annoyance.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS' NOTES

On Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 28, a representative team from the Boys' Division went to the Lynn Y. M. C. A. and competed in Pool, Checkers and Ping-Pong. The team was victorious on all counts. The play-off Newton lost out by one point. The final standing was Cambridge, Chelsea, Newton, Lynn and Wakefield. Fourteen Associations were represented from the Greater Boston Associations. The Stars for Newton were Abbott Gotshall, Ping-Pong, Fred Becker, Pool and Maynard Moody in Checkers.

On Thursday a group of twelve boys from the Newton "Y" visited the Samoset Chocolates Company, located at 178 Atlantic avenue, Boston, for their second trip this winter. On leaving each boy was presented a half pound of assorted chocolates.

On Friday afternoon, Dec. 30, at the Boys' Division Game Rooms, a championship match was put on, to decide the Boy Champion of this division in Pool and Billiards. The matches were all closely contested, the final results being: Pool, "Mike" Macdonald, first, Tom McDonough, second and Fred Becker, third, "Mike" Macdonald, second and Tom McDonough, third.

Monday morning, Jan. 2, the second "Hare and Hound" chase of the season was run off. The "Hares" in charge of Ray Vanbuskirk, left the building at ten o'clock, dropping cut-pur as a trail. The "Hounds," in charge of Wilson W. Weldner, started in pursuit of the "Hares" after he later had been given a two minute start. The day proved so windy and cold, the "Hares" doubled back to the starting point before their time had expired, thereby losing the chase.

The officers of Thomas Burnett Camp No. 11, U. S. V. were publicly installed last Tuesday evening at West Newton Armory by Dept. Chaplain Rev. Major Wm. F. Dussault and suite. Those installed were: Commander, Newton E. Lucas; W. A. Boothby, S. V. C.; M. J. Tredden, J. V. C.; Samuel Newell, Adj.; Fred L. Fanning, Chaplain; Thos. L. Harvey, Officer of the Day; J. M. Hildreth, Sgt. of Guard; Wm. Gilbert, Historian; P. H. Butler, Wm. Munsell, Color Sergeants. Visitors from various camps were present and refreshments were served.

TERMS. $3.00 A YEAR

REORGANIZATION PLANNED

The special committee appointed to have charge of the reorganization of the Newton Chamber of Commerce held its initial meeting at the Newton Club on Friday evening, January 6, with 21 members present. Joseph B. Jamieson, first vice-president of the Chamber, was elected chairman.

The committee, which includes prominent citizens from all sections of the city, discussed at considerable length the proposal to create a new and much larger organization, and more representative of all the Newtons. Considerable enthusiasm for such an organization was developed and the opportunities for service to Newton and its business men, were mentioned by members of the committee.

Following brief introductory remarks by the secretary, who outlined the reasons for creating this special committee and explained the authority conferred upon it, practically every present was heard during the evening, the whole subject being carefully considered, discussed, and viewed from many angles. It was finally voted to adopt the plan suggested and that those present constitute a committee to reorganize the Chamber and give the city an organization that would be especially adapted to the needs of Newton and designed to meet the need for an all-Newton civic association as well as to render efficient chamber of commerce service to the business men and business interests of the city.

It was voted to appoint a sub-committee of ten to work out the details of the reorganization committee and report back, as soon as their task was completed, to the general committee.

A committee of three, including William H. Rice, Frank L. Richardson, and Rupert C. Thompson, was appointed to choose the sub-committee of ten. Those named on this committee were: Mayor Edwin O. Childs, representing the city; President John T. Burns and 1st Vice President Joseph B. Jamieson, representing the present Chamber; Arthur W. Hollis, representing Newton; Rupert C. Thompson, representing Newtonville; Leon B. Rogers, representing West Newton; William H. Rice, representing Newton Centre; James Kingman, representing Newton Highlands; George J. Martin, representing Chestnut Hill; and Thomas F. Sullivan, representing Newton Upper and Newton Lower Falls. This committee held its initial meeting at the Boston City Club on Thursday.

The other members of the general reorganization committee are: George M. Angier, Joseph W. Bartlett, Joseph S. Cording, Henry W. Crowell, Bernard Early, Roland F. Gammons, Louis D. Gibbs, Charles E. Gibson, John H. Gordon, William T. Halliday, Henry I. Harriman, Charles E. Hatfield, Charles F. Johnson, Seward W. Jones, Charles E. Kelsey, Henry D. Lloyd, Wilmar H. Nash, Oscar E. Nutt, Horace W. Orr, Frank W. Remick, Frank L. Richardson, Frederic W. Webster, Thomas W. White, and Dr. Guy M. Winslow.

MEMORY HYMNS FOR MUSICAL FESTIVAL

The Norumbega District of the S. S. Association has selected the following hymns for memorization during the next few months in preparation for the Spring Festival: "Come, Thou Almighty King"; "Crown Him With Many Crowns"; "Fair Lord Jesus, My Faith Looks Up to Thee"; "Day Is Dying in the West." A special hymn for young people will be announced as soon as possible.

The brains of a bonehead are never valuable enough to protect that way.

NEWTON SWIMMERS WIN

An interesting swimming was held at the Newton Y. M. C. A. last Saturday afternoon, when the Intermediate team of Malden swam against the Newton Y. Intermediates. It was a closely contested meet all the way and Newton finally won out 27 to 23. Bang of Newton was high man with ten points, Hazen of Newton second with eight points, and Wallace of Newton with five points winning first place in the plunge with a distance of 57 feet. Ussher of Newton getting second in the plunge with 51 feet. Following is a summary of events:—

20 yds.—Won by Bang of Newton; Nutter of Malden, second; Baker of Malden, third. Time, 10 seconds.

40 yds.—Won by Nutter of Malden; Hazen of Newton, second; Butler of Malden, third. Time 23 1/2 seconds.

Plunge for distance—Won by Wallace of Newton, 57 feet; Ussher of Newton, second, 51 feet; Butler of Malden, third, 45 feet.

50 yds.—Won by Bang of Newton; Baker of Malden, second; Stevens of Malden, third. Time 36 1/2 seconds.

Fancy diving—Won by Hazen of Newton; Gordon of Malden, second; Patterson of Newton, third.

160 yd. relay—Won by Malden. Time 1:34 3/5.

Saturday night at the Cambridge Y. M. C. A. Newton has entered both a senior and junior swimming team to compete in the Eastern sectional two State meet. The first three men in each event will qualify for the finals to be held at the Worcester Y. M. C. A. one week from Saturday. Newton ought to have several men and boys in the finals.

Jan. 27 is pending with Providence for a swimming meet at Newton. This will prove a big attraction.

DEATH OF MRS. BOYD

Mrs. Martha (Hayward) Boyd, wife of Leonard Boyd, died at her home, 61 Allerton road, Newton Highlands, on Saturday, in her seventy-sixth year.

She was a native of Bridgewater, born on May 14, 1846, a daughter of Daniel and Hannah (Fobes) Hayward and was educated at Titicut Academy, near North Middleboro, following which she taught school at Saugus and later at South Dedham, now Norwood. Her first husband was Sidney E. Morse, whom she married on May 4, 1870, and who died in 1880. In March 1883, she was married to Mr. Boyd, who long has been connected with the New England Confectionery Company. Mrs. Boyd was active in church work and for the past thirty years had been identified with the Congregational Church of Newton Highlands.

Surviving her, besides her husband, are two daughters, Miss Marion B. Morse and Miss Inez Boyd, both of Newton Highlands.

Services were held at her late residence on Tuesday, the Rev. Samuel H. Woodrow of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church officiating, and the burial was in Highland Cemetery, Norwood.

ATTRACTIVE TRIPS

"Big and Little Journeys", a beautifully illustrated travel catalogue is full of suggestions for southern and tropical travel. Tells where to go, what it will cost, and how to make the trip to all principal resorts such as: Florida, California, Bermuda, Cuba, West Indies, Mediterranean Cruises, etc., and a great many other resorts.

This book is full of travel information and copy may be had, together with other literature of places in which you are interested, for the asking. COLPITTS TOURIST CO., 281 Washington street, Boston.

LEGION INSTALLATION

The formal installation of officers of the Newton Post, 48, American Legion, will take place on Thursday, January 19th, at Players' Hall, West Newton. General Clarence R. Edwards, hero of the Yankee Division, and a State Officer in the Legion, will conduct the installation exercises. His Honor, Mayor Edwin O. Childs and members of the City Government will attend, and it is expected that General Charles Cole, State Commander and Leo A. Spillane, State Adjutant, will attend. Officers of Charles Ward Post, G. A. R., and Thomas Burnett Camp, U. S. W. V., have been invited and a cordial invitation is extended to every citizen of Newton to be present.

The installation exercises will be held in the large hall and at the close of this part of the evening's program, the small hall will be thrown open for dancing, which will continue until a late hour.

The following officers will be installed: Commander, Henry D. Cormerais; Vice Commander, Levi Libby; Adjutant, Edward Dungan; Finance Officer, C. Sinclair Weeks; Chaplain, Rev. William J. Farrell; Historian, Leo Taffe, and Sergeant-at-Arms, Julius B. Ram. The new Executive Committee will take office on the same night.

This is the first time that General Edwards has arranged to appear in Newton since the war and it is expected that hundreds of citizens will tax the capacity of the hall, in an effort to see and hear the man of whom so much has been written and who is the idol of every Y. D. Veteran and the relatives of those who fought under General Edwards in France. The new Legion ritual, simple, but impressive, will be used for the first time.

AT BRAE BURN

A bridge followed by music and tea will be given at the Brae Burn Club on Monday, January 23, for the benefit of the Stearns School Centre. The soloist will be Miss Juliet Terella of Perkins Institute. The following are patronesses: Mrs. Sidney Howard, Mrs. Benjamin W. Fredericks, Mrs. William E. Jones, Mrs. Samuel W. Bridges, Mrs. Harry B. Stebbins, Mrs. Atherton Clark, Mrs. Henry D. Lloyd, Mrs. Albert P. Carter, and Mrs. Leonard Powers. Mrs. Bridges will be assisted in the selling of candy by several young ladies of Newton. As the finance committee has made no appeal for funds since the war, the members earnestly ask for the generous patronage of all interested in this worthy cause.

There will be an ice carnival at the Brae Burn Club at eight o'clock tonight. There will be a series of Sunday afternoon concerts at the Brae Burn Club during the skating season beginning this Sunday.

"THE PLAYBOY OF THE WESTERN WORLD"

Miss Ethel Hale Freeman will present "The Playboy of the Western World," by J. M. Synge, the early part of February, in Little Players' Hall, West Newton. Mr. Synge is considered the greatest of the Irish play dramatists, and this is one of his best works. It is especially valuable for its poetry, its humor, its pathos, and its exquisite word imagery.

Miss Freeman, herself, and Mr. Geoffrey Baker will take the leading roles. They will be assisted by Miss Freeman's group of players, all of whom have proven their ability.

West Newton is most fortunate in having a local company of this sort, whose purpose is to give a variety of the different types of plays.

The exact date of the performance will be announced later.

READ FUND LECTURES

Hunnewell Hall was filled to capacity on Monday night to hear Mr. Loring Underwood on "Historic New England Gardens." This was the opening lecture of the course this year, a course which offers a program more than usually attractive.

Mr. Loring's photographs which were in the colors of nature, were, if possible, more beautiful than those shown by him last year in connection with the Arnold Arboretum.

The pictures covered many gardens in Cambridge, Brookline, Dedham, the Cape and the Mountains, and were of great variety. The speaker showed the advantage in the making of a garden of following the natural contour of the land, and of having flowers grow naturally interspersed with green, and with trees for a background, rather than placing them in formal gardens in masses.

What not to do was well illustrated by a photograph of Cortland Pk., New York. The lecturer introduced interesting personal anecdotes and humorous comments into his lecture which added much to its interest.

Several unusual photographs from the photographic point of view were shown, as when a photograph of his little daughter was exhibited upside down, and attention called to the vividness of the reflection in the water.

BUSINESS MEN MEET

Newton Corner business men held an interesting meeting at the Newton Library on Monday evening, under the auspices of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, when Newton Corner matters and problems of local merchants were discussed, more or less informally, by those present. President John T. Burns of the Chamber presided, while Day Baker, chairman of the legislative committees of the Boston Commercial Motor Vehicle Association and the Massachusetts Automobile Dealers and Garage Association, addressed the meeting regarding the proposed new terminal station of the Boston Elevated at Braves Field.

According to Mr. Baker, the new terminal, for which a permit was granted in September by the Public Utilities Commission, the plan will result in serious congestion of traffic on Commonwealth avenue, and also oblige all Elevated passengers making the trip between Newton and Boston, in either direction, to transfer at the proposed terminal, in much the same way as at Harvard Square, Sullivan Square, Forest Hills, etc.

Several of those present spoke upon the matter, and the manner in which it might affect Newton and Newton people, it being voted that the matter be referred to the Newton Chamber for investigation and such action as the Chamber deemed proper at the hearing at the State House on Tuesday, January 17, when a hearing will be held upon a petition to revoke the permit granted in September.

Discussion of matters of special interest to the merchants, and to business men of the Newton Corner section, was participated in by President Burns, Harold Moore, Samuel Marshall, W. L. Sampson, George Wilson, William M. Cahill, Michael O'Connor, and others. While the attendance was not as large as hoped for, the meeting was an interesting and helpful one in many ways.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

A very successful ladies' and gentlemen's bridge was held on Tuesday of this week with eleven tables. Mrs. Arthur W. Blakemore was hostess, and Mrs. Edward O. Gruener, Mrs. Goldwin S. Sprague, Mrs. Edward M. Moore and Mrs. Alfred Robbins presided. The prizes were won by Mr. Philip Nichols and Mrs. A. DeV. Sampson.

BANK DIRECTORS

Many Newton men are interested in the banking institutions of Boston, and the annual elections this year show that the following directors are residents of this city:

First National Bank—Edward E. Blodgett, Frank J. Hale, Charles P. Hall, and Daniel G. Wing of West Newton; George W. Brown and Frank B. Hopewell of Newton. Mr. Wing was re-elected president and Mr. Clifton H. Dwinell of West Newton, a vice-president.

Shawmut National Bank—Louis K. Liggett of Chestnut Hill and William T. Rich of Newton.

Merchants National Bank—James L. Richards of Newtonville.

Fourth Atlantic National Bank—Herbert K. Hallett and Edward F. Woods of West Newton. Mr. Hallett was re-elected president.

Commercial National Bank—Robert H. Gross of West Newton and Mr. Arthur H. Soden of Newtonville. Mr. Soden was re-elected vice-president.

Boylston National Bank—Austin H. Decatur and William D. Harvey of West Newton, George S. Smith of Newton Centre.

Rockland National Bank—Stanley M. Bolster of West Newton, and Louis K. Liggett of Chestnut Hill.

Massachusetts Trust Co.—Samuel W. Bridges of Newton and Harry F. Stimpson of Chestnut Hill, John C. Paine of West Newton.

International Trust Co.—Edwin P. Brown, Oliver M. Fisher, and Loren D. Towle of Newton.

Security National Bank—J. N. Damon, and F. M. Ferrin of Newton.

Second—A. Farwell Bemis of Chestnut Hill and Wm. E. Jones of Newton. American Trust Co.—S. Harold Greene of Newton Centre.

Market Trust, Brighton. George M. Angier of Waban and Leon B. Rogers of West Newton.

NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY

The first rehearsal for the spring concert was held Tuesday night with an attendance of 116 and much enthusiasm for the new music.

The following new members were present: Mrs. Alice F. Macuen, Miss H. H. Henry, Newton; Miss Doris M. Smith, Miss Marion E. Forbes, Mr. F. M. Yelland, Mrs. Margaret Bevan, West Newton; Mrs. M. A. Wagner, Waban; Miss Cynthia Blake, Miss Gertrude L. Spear, Mr. Stuart M. Hagar, Newtonville; Dr. Ruth E. Humphries, Waltham; Mrs. Emma A. Proctor, Newton Highlands; Mr. John W. F. Maxwell, Newton Centre.

One of the three compositions now taken up for study has its own interest, and the program promises to be the best yet. The Holy Grail music from "Parsifal" is the most unusual, and is one of the noted passages in an opera that many authorities consider the most wonderful in the world. The several of the famous leitmotifs of this opera appear in this selection, and the phrase representing the ringing of bells occurring over and over again is a most fascinating bit of musical description.

Gounod's "Gallia," which was suggested to the great French composer by the fall of Paris in the Franco-Prussian war, is one of the noblest selections of the choral library. The third selection, Max Bruch's "Fair Ellen," is a thrilling and dramatic piece with the tang and rhythm of Scotch music, making use as one motive of the old air "The Campbells Are Coming."

Rehearsals each Tuesday evening at 7.30 at the Central Church, Newtonville. New singers can still be received.

There is to be another special Movie for children at the Exeter St. Theatre on Saturday, January 28th, at 10.30 A. M. for the benefit of the Mass. League of Girls' Clubs of which the Newton Girls' Club is a member. The films to be shown are "Finest on Four Feet," "Little Red Riding Hood," and a comedy acted by animated dolls.

A RELIGIOUS CENSUS

The united Protestant church religious census, to take place at Newton Corner on Sunday afternoon, January 22, is in charge of a committee consisting of the ministers of the six churches, together with representatives from each church and the executive secretary of the Norumbega District Sunday School Association. The Sunday School Association is co-operating in the undertaking, being especially interested that all churches should have information concerning Sunday school attendance (or non-attendance) of children and young people.

Each of the six churches is to provide 25 or 30 volunteer visitors, who constitute the "team" from that church. Each team has a district assigned to it and carefully mapped out by those in charge. The outside boundaries of entire district to be covered at this time are as follows: Aqueduct, near Boston line, Montrose street; Cotton street, Mill street, Blake street, Parkview avenue, then crossing Washington street, along Jackson road, Morse street, Water-town street, then following Charles River to Boston line, then including a small section of Brighton adjoining Newton, and back to starting point. This is seen to include a section of Watertown on the Newton side of the Charles River. The North Church will take a section outside the boundaries mentioned, using whatever streets they think advisable.

A visitation or record card, especially prepared for this occasion, will be used, asking comparatively few questions, but so worded as to give the information needed concerning church and church school preference for every member of the household.

Although this card is comparatively simple, some complications may arise, and interpretation of all items on it should be uniform. It is therefore deemed absolutely essential that every visitor should attend one of the periods for information and training. The director of the survey, Mrs. Allen Chamberlain of Boston, will be present at all such periods, which have been arranged as follows: Monday, January 16, at 7.30 P. M., at the Unitarian Church; Wednesday, January 18, at 7.30 P. M., at the Baptist Church, and later in the same evening at the Eliot Church; Thursday, January 19, at 7.45 P. M., at Grace Church, and Friday, January 20, at 8.30 P. M., at the Methodist Church. In addition to this there will be a period on Friday at 2.30 P. M., at Eliot Church for those of any denomination who prefer an afternoon.

Boy Scouts will distribute at all homes during the coming week a flier card to explain the purpose of the survey and to announce the date. It is hoped that people will make an effort to be at home on the afternoon of January 22nd, to give information and to extend a welcome to the visitors.

TRUST CO. BANQUET

The officers and employees of the Newton Trust Company held a banquet and dance on Wednesday evening, at the Newton Club, with about sixty persons present. Following the banquet President Seward W. Jones announced that the custody of a silver cup would be given to the employee of the company who brings in the greatest amount of new business during the next six months, and a similar award for each six months' period following, the person winning the cup three times to hold it as his or her personal property.

Mr. Frank L. Richardson was the toastmaster, and Mayor Childs and the officers of the company were the speakers. Dancing followed the banquet.

CHARITY BALL

Unusual interest attaches to the announcement that Newton Lodge of Elks will hold its first annual charity ball Friday evening, Jan. 20, at the State Armory, West Newton. The affair is the principal social event to be held under the lodge's auspices this Winter and every assurance of its success is to be found in the committee's plans. There will be an augmented orchestra, elaborate decorations, together with a variety of other attractive features that will add to the brilliancy of the occasion.

The lodge's special invitation to Governor Channing H. Cox has been heartily accepted by His Excellency. This assures the presence of a Representative of the Commonwealth who will be escorted by members of the Governor's staff in full dress uniform.

Exalted Ruler George P. Flood will be floor marshal. His assistants will be Dr. Howard Moore, E. L. K., Malcolm P. McKinnon, E. L. K., and Willard Sampson, E. L. K.

John L. Theriault will be chief aid. The other aids will be Charles J. Mahoney, A. Avantaggio, C. Axel Collins, Joaquin Gonzalez, J. Edmund Doherty, Edwin W. Fairweather, Robert J. Vachon, Albany Boudrot, Louis E. Gleason, Charles B. Timmons, Ernest O'Rourke, Charles L. Simpkins, John J. Goldrick, William B. Graham, John Joyce, William U. Fogwill, Paul Murray, Carl E. Besse, George W. Grebenstein, J. Ralph Marchant, Bernard S. Mough, and William P. Whelan. Others who will assist are as follows:

Patronesses—Mrs. Edwin O. Childs, Mrs. James T. Burns, Mrs. Joseph J. Murray, Mrs. Edward N. Soules, Mrs. Clarence A. L. Langton, Miss Katherine C. Sullivan, Mrs. George P. Flood, Mrs. Howard Moore, Mrs. Charles S. Ensign, Mrs. Thomas Weston, Jr., Mrs. Michael Chiruz, Mrs. Thomas W. White, Mrs. Edward J. St. Coeur, Mrs. Walter I. Hannigan, Mrs. Willard L. John Flood, together with all officers of the lodge, John T. Burns, Charles E. Hatfield, George M. Heathcote, Arthur W. Hollis, P. A. Murray, Burt M. Rich, H. B. Ross, Capt. Albert D. W. Sampson, Edwin J. St. Coeur, George E. Stuart, Thomas W. White, Dr. C. N. Brady, Dr. F. G. Curtis, Dr. C. A. Enholm, Dr. C. F. Fair, Dr. H. F. Fessenden, Dr. T. M. Gallagher, Dr. W. N. Hoey, Dr. F. M. Lowe, Dr. W. W. Marston, Dr. E. F. McCarthy and Dr. W. L. Ripley.

SAD DEATH

Mrs. Alcide Vachon of 73 Faxon street, Newton, died at her home last week Thursday, after receiving the news of her little boy Wilfred's death in a coasting accident on Faxon street the previous Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Vachon had given birth to a child on the day previous to her boy's death and she had not been told about the severity of the accident, but believed that the child had been only slightly injured and that he was staying at the Newton Hospital. On hearing of the death she fainted and did not recover consciousness. Mrs. Vachon was the mother of ten children.

The INDIVIDUAL versus the TRUST COMPANY as executor and trustee.

1. Financial responsibility for funds entrusted to care.
2. Thorough knowledge of duties.
3. Ability to invest funds of Estate.
4. Possibility of death or moving away of one or the other.
5. Accessibility and prompt rendering of accounts and information at all times.
6. Supervision. The individual's accounts and securities are not subject to State supervision. The Trust Company operates under direct and careful supervision of State Banking Department.

The wise selection of an Executor or Trustee is of vital importance to every person who makes a will. Our officers will be glad of the opportunity to explain this service and answer questions.

NOVEMBER DUSK

"When this terrestrial ball," says Professor William Lyon Phelps in a recent issue of the Yale Alumni Weekly, "begins to turn its northern pole away from the pleasant sunshine into the unfathomable darkness, when every house has a warm, glowing heart in the cellar, and the window eyes gleam, then books take on a flavor all their own. Books, like apples, seem to ripen during the summer heat, and taste the best around the autumn fire. Many people waste the golden moments between five and seven, when the curtains are drawn, the lamps are lighted, and the books beckon from the shelves, begging you to release them from the company of their mates. For books are like dogs; they would much rather associate with men and women than with their own kind. The early twilight seems made for the best indoor sport-reading."

Forty-odd years in the literary shop, by James L. Ford. EF753.F.
This book is interesting for what the author has seen and remembered. He describes with reverence artistic nobility like Howells and Edwin Booth, but somehow he writes with more zest about vaudeville acrobats, clowns, dancers, bums, and crooks. His gossip is always entertaining, and in these pages old "resorts" like that of Harry Hill open their long-closed doors; again "The Black Crook" appears upon the stage. What betrays his years is not the length of his memory, but his dislike of colleges, scholars, and all idealists; to hear him rant against professors is to get a whiff from a prehistoric time.

Peter Binney, by Archibald Marshall. This novel, although published in America only recently, is its author's first book, and appeared in England in 1899. The plot is so preposterous that many will not like it, and only those should read it who have acquired an unshakable faith in Mr. Marshall through his other stories. For the charm of his novels lies in the naturalness and probability of the characters and incidents; whereas Peter Binney is impossible and does impossible things. Yet to all college men this book is worth reading, because it gives so faithful a picture of undergraduate life at Cambridge, especially from the social and athletic point of view. Every American student who reads this book will want to spend three years at Cambridge perhaps the most interesting place in England; and it is pleasant to observe that Peter Binney's son, who rows bow on the University crew, is exactly the type of lad who is universally and deservedly popular today at Yale and Harvard.

King Cole, by John Masefield. YP-M37k.
Before the war, Mr. Masefield's problems for the most part concerned themselves with crime or tragedy or both; since the war, he has written three poems that are the spirit of joy. Perhaps he is attempting to preserve the wholesome English life of the countryside. At all events, he is doing for the 20th century in England what Chaucer did for the 14th—giving perfect pictures of some of the most characteristic features of Merry England. Of course I do not mean that Masefield is as great as Chaucer—I mean that he is the most certain of living poets in his ability to make group pictures, where every individual is defined, and yet where the whole assembly is homogeneous and unmistakable. Reynard the Fox—of which a delightfully illustrated quarto has just appeared—shows England as a hunting; Right Royal shows the passion for horse-racing; King Cole is the travelling circus. Every one who reads Masefield's poems should read them twice on the same day; first, for the breathless interest of the story; second, for the extraordinary beauty of his descriptions. He is a true poet, a sincere and noble-minded artist; these poems, which recall the ineffable loveliness of English scenery and the hearty enjoyment of English customs, have in my judgment the spirit of healing. After suffering and weariness and bitterness, these three poems bring us home.

Memories and notes of persons and places, by Sidney Colvin. ZY-C725
This is a growing book of reminiscences, by a scholar and a gentleman, by the highest type of English university man. I wish that he had included the chapter on Cambridge that he originally planned. Perhaps now he will do something even better—write a whole book on Cambridge; he ought to. In this volume he talks engagingly and affectionately about Stevenson, George Eliot, Ruskin, Burne-Jones, Rossetti, Watts, Gladstone, Meredith, Browning, and others, all of whom he knew intimately. The chapter on Browning is the most interesting, because I am just as strong an admirer of Browning's personality as I am of his poetry.

The Girls, by Edna Ferber.
Ever since Eve picked the apple, women have had the worst of it. Man gets the apple, woman gets the worm. I am not at all surprised that so many novels today are in the key of feminine revolt. This is a keen and brilliant book, as crisp as a sharp morning. The story never sags. In the three generations, one is reminded of the play Milestones. The older woman has suffered so much by repression, that she is all on the side of youth. The brassbounder, by David W. Bone.

A ripping romance of the sea, told by a seagull, who knows exactly what he is talking about, and knows how to talk. This is deep-sea, blue-water life, and has a fascination all its own. I can feel the salt air in my face. Newton Free Library.

—SELWYN PAR KSQUARE THEATRE—"Happy Go Lucky" will end its four weeks' visit at the Selwyn Park Square Theatre, Boston, on Saturday, Jan. 21st. This is the hilarious comedy by Ian Hay which has been conquering theatregoers for three weeks and in which O. P. Heggie has created a sensation. Not a person who has seen "Happy Go Lucky" has voiced anything but praise of it, and it is to be regretted that it must end its run in Boston in the height of its success. No one who wishes to see the best the stage has to offer can afford to miss the fine cast and the fine production which go to make up one of the finest attractions ever sent from New York to Boston. "Happy Go Lucky" will not be seen in any other New England city.

Following "Happy Go Lucky" another New York attraction entitled "Back Pay" will come to the Selwyn. "Back Pay" will have the original New York cast headed by Helen MacKellar. This remarkable play was written by Fannie Hurst, the well known magazine and photo-play author.

LODGES

District Deputy, Grand Exalted Ruler Edward D. Larkin of Quincy Lodge made an official visitation last night to Newton Lodge, No. 1327, of Elks.

NEWTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The city is fortunate in being able to command the services of many of its best citizens for this important work. The new Chamber is not being created for the benefit of any individuals or any group, but to promote through carefully considered and properly directed effort the welfare of the community as a whole. Much service can, and should be extended to individual members of the Chamber. This is, however, but incidental to the chief objective of community service and development. An effort will be made to create and maintain an all-Newton organization, one that will foster and develop an all-Newton spirit and mean as much to one village or section of the city as to others. With this thought in mind, the reorganization committee has been chosen from all villages and is deemed fairly representative of the city as a whole.

The reorganization committee has been given full authority by the present board of directors to take any and all steps deemed necessary or desirable to give Newton just the type of organization that it desires and needs. The committee will not only plan the structure, divisions of activity, and objectives of the Chamber, but has also been delegated authority to name those men who should be nominated to serve as officers of the Chamber during the coming year.

Pending the development of the work and plans of the special reorganization committee of the Newton Chamber, the present board of directors and secretary have mapped out a program of vigorous activity and preliminary development. This began this week with the beginning of the year, and will be more or less continuous with two or three meetings to be held each week, of special groups of members, or in the various villages in the interests of the Chamber.

Three meetings were held last week, the board of directors holding an extended session on Tuesday evening, while a group of twenty or more interested members met at Newtonville on Thursday evening to discuss ways and means of building up the membership, the plans considered and tentatively adopted being devised to the purpose of insuring continuous inflow of new members into the Chamber.

A meeting is also being planned for the near future when the real estate men, contractors and builders, plumbing contractors, electrical contractors, interior and exterior decorators, and all others connected in any way with building and development projects in the city will be invited to meet and discuss matters of common interest, determine what desirable things can best be accomplished through co-operative effort, and take such steps as they may desire to stimulate business in their lines of work for the spring months.

At the Tuesday evening meeting of the board of directors, it was voted to retain the services of the present secretary until such time as the reorganization committee or the next board might desire to make permanent arrangements. Much routine business was transacted and tentative plans discussed for the annual meeting on Tuesday evening, January 24.

DOES EACH ADVERTISEMENT PAY FOR ITSELF?

An eastern merchant of a national reputation stated that his advertising had accomplished three outstanding things: It had built the business to remarkable proportions; it had improved the class of merchandise carried; and, lastly, the most important of all, it had made a better man of him!

This was more than a glowing tribute to advertising, it struck a deep fundamental truth—that advertising, aside from increasing sales, exerts a powerful influence on business. The advertiser takes on new responsibilities; and he has responsibility thrust upon him. His light is no longer hidden under the proverbial bushel. All that he is and hopes to be; what he sells and how he sells it; the kind of service he gives and the way he gives it; the people he employs and what they say about him—all these are brought under the microscope of public scrutiny.

Advertising is an investment. It is the source of the greatest commercial asset—public friendliness. And this business good will is the principal that bears a cumulative return, produced by the advertising.

The advertiser who looks no further than the creating of today's sales sees no further than the nose on his face. His vision is warped by the most obvious fact that the advertising is producing results—today. He is too concerned that each advertisement pays for itself in a visible and immediate return.

This does not mean that he should substitute good-will advertising for that actually selling the merchandise. Each advertisement must pay for itself, where direct sales are desired. But the selling of merchandise must be combined with selling good-will, which is building sales for the future.

There are two things for which the public spends its money—goods and service. And service in the broader sense, includes the right kind of merchandise at the right price, in that that is really serving the customers' best interests. And in really serving the public, their friendliness is brought around to the extent that they buy, not because you want them to, but because they want to buy from you. And advertising is not securing maximum efficiency if it disregards good will in the sole endeavor to make sales.

Such advertising as does not pay, should never be conducted under the guise that it is good publicity. Each advertisement must have a specific and definite purpose, and be part of the entire campaign. Each advertisement must pay for itself—and does, when properly executed, either in immediate dollars and cents or in unearned increment. So all advertising must produce earned and unearned increment.

The time for cashing-in on the unearned increment is when it is needed. Many foresighted firms continued their advertising during the war when they were far over-sold, and they were creating an unearned increment or good will. Now is the time they are cashing it!

The reading room under the auspices of this house has been opened at the Science Building, many of the boys gather there afternoons and read. I am being convinced more and more, that a work of this kind is needed in West Newton and I shall struggle and sacrifice that it may be founded. I can see great possibilities in the lives of these boys and girls; and I find that it lies within me to help them and I owe it to myself and to them to do it. I believe that my ministry should not be confined to my church only; but that it should be a ministry to the community. The social life requires development as well as the spiritual life; in fact Christianity is for the whole man; mind, body and spirit. I am trying to develop the whole youth by directing them properly.

EDITORIAL

Mayor Childs inaugural address this year was the best he has ever made and is well worth the perusal of every tax payer in Newton. In only two instances could even the most discriminating critic find any reference to the late campaign, one where he emphasizes the duty of the school board to request additional school accommodations where and when needed and again, in his rather fulsome remarks regarding the Newton Police force. While we agree with the statement regarding the police that it is "unfair to judge the whole group by the exception," yet we would be far better satisfied if we had the assurance of the mayor that he would use his utmost efforts to see that the "exceptions" in the Newton police force were removed. The mayor strikes a sympathetic chord in his eulogistic words regarding the death of our school teachers. Everything he said about them will have the hearty endorsement of thousands of our citizens.

All in all it was a good address and one well worth reading.

The so-called Childs aldermen evidently do not intend to take any chances in the control of the city government as the committee list shows that a majority of the two important committees on Finance and on Public Works are of their number. To accomplish this result it was necessary to remove Alderman Philip Nichols from his former place as chairman of the Finance committee and transfer him to the Public Works committee. The city thus loses the services of an exceptionally well qualified man for that important position merely to gratify petty political spite.

Parents of growing boys are urged to pay careful attention to the reading matter which their children are using. The news-stands are being flooded nowadays with a class of so called "pocket size" paper covered pamphlets which the Los Angeles Times aptly characterizes as "smut". The Times says:

"One of the peculiar phases of the publishing business for the last few years has been commercialized printed smut."

"In the years preceding the war there were a few newspapers of abandoned and malignant heart and a still fewer magazines which made a specialty of printing obscene pictures and wallowing in the filth of suggestive printed matter."

"Most of these have now passed; even the yellow newspapers have moved in the direction of reform; but the evil niche has been filled by an unclean outburst of little pocket-sized magazines which are, in effect, a morbidly morose and filthy and suggestive jokers. It costs nothing to print them and the publishers at least made a lot of money from the publication of this garbage."

One of our local newsdealers informs us that the demand for this vicious class of so called literature is rapidly increasing and that he sells hundreds of them each week. Our authorities take steps to prohibit the sale of these books which are a menace to good morals and right living.

"The thousands of Newton residents who use the Elevated cars to and from Boston will be deeply interested in the proposition now pending to require a change of cars at Braves Field both on the inward as well as on the outward bound cars. In its laudable attempt to extend its present lines, the Elevated has, in this instance gone altogether too far and if allowed to put this present scheme into operation will entail a great inconvenience on all its Newton patrons. It would be a serious bother in any event, but to turn out the ordinary traffic into the crowds which attend the ball games would make confusion worst confounded and undoubtedly lead to personal injuries."

The hearing next Tuesday morning at Room 166, State House, on this matter ought to be attended by a large number of representative citizens of Newton and a vigorous protest entered with the Public Utilities Commission.

Friday, the 13th.

LESSONS IN SPANISH

Editor of Newton Graphic:—
I wish to extend a cordial invitation through your paper to the members and friends of the Newton Y. M. C. A. to attend our first Spanish lecture in this building, Friday evening, at 8 o'clock. This lesson will be free of charge and all that each person needs is pencil and paper. On Tuesday evening, January 17, the regular class begins and the charge will be low enough to suit each individual. I thank you in advance for the use of your good paper.

Yours respectfully,

WM. WALLIS,
Instructor of Spanish at Newton Y. M. C. A.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The first week of the General Court is always spent in marking time and waiting for the time when the business session will expire. The polls close this year tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock and the indications are that many bills will be filed before that time.

The splendid financial showing for 1921 is highly creditable to the administration of Governor Cox, and in a way, is a vindication of the budget system.

The death of Councillor John F. C. Slayton raises a question as to the method of filling his place on the Governor's Council, by appointment of the Governor or by election by the Legislature. Mrs. Slayton was formerly Miss Margaret Clifford of Newton before her marriage.

In response to the increasing public demand for greater protection from automobile accidents, by making more secure the indemnification of injured persons, the special commission on insurance, which was appointed by the governor last year, in its report filed in the Legislature, recommends a bill permitting a person injured by an automobile driven by another to have a lien on the car, for the satisfaction of any judgment he may recover against the owner.

Several such plans were recommended to the commission last year, among them being one to compel each owner of a motor vehicle to carry liability insurance or to furnish a bond for the protection of any person who might be injured by his car. The commission declined to recommend this compulsory scheme, stating that because of losses on this class of business the insurance companies are beginning to draw the lines closer with respect to those to whom they will sell insurance, and further, that compulsory insurance might have the effect of increasing accidents.

In this connection the writer has filed a bill prepared by Mr. A. C. Bang of this city which apparently meets this situation in a most satisfactory manner. Mr. Bang proposes a compulsory insurance law for all automobile owners, with compensation for those injured, at the same rates and under the same conditions as are now in force for workmen's compensation.

A hearing will be given next Tuesday at room 166 at 10:30 A. M., by the Public Utilities Commission on the proposed loop of the Boston Elevated at Braves Field. This loop is part of the plan of the Elevated to establish a five-cent fare from Watertown thru Newton to Braves Field and from Park street subway to Braves Field. Strong objection however is being made to this project as it will require the running of elevated cars and trains, if they are run through the commercial ward bound road way of Common wealth avenue at least four times, and may prove to be quite an obstruction to the large amount of traffic on that thoroughfare.

J. C. Brimblecom.

GUILD ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Woman's Guild of the Second Church of West Newton, was held on Tuesday, January 8, at 8 o'clock. The members' time from 11 until 1, when luncheon was served by Mrs. Joseph Eldridge and her committee. A flowering plant on each table and carnations on the piano and platform made attractive decorations. Card invitations were sent to all the women of the parish to attend the luncheon and 140 responded.

After the luncheon, the president, Mrs. F. S. Blodgett, extended a cordial greeting to all present and an invitation to attend the Guild meetings whether members or not.

Reports of the year's work were read by the following officers and chairmen:

Rec. Sec., Mrs. Willard C. Church; Treas., Miss Grace M. Isaac; Work Com., Mrs. E. H. Rogers; Social Com., Mrs. A. S. Woods; Chancel Choir Mother, Mrs. C. E. Bramer; Red Bank Society, Mrs. L. A. Bacon; Missionary Committee, Mrs. Thomas Chalmers. Mrs. J. Edgar Park, chairman of the nominating committee for 1922 gave the following list of officers: President, Mrs. F. S. Blodgett; Rec. Sec., Mrs. Willard C. Church; Cor. Sec., Miss Margaret King; Treas., Miss Grace M. Isaac; Missionary Com., Mrs. Thomas Chalmers; Social Com., Mrs. Andrew S. Woods; Work Com., Mrs. Edwin H. Rogers; Programme Com., Mrs. Henry B. Patrick; Choir Com., Mrs. Thomas Cooper (Chancel Choir Mother); Mrs. W. B. Phelps (Junior Choir Mother); Housekeeping Com., Mrs. Robert H. Gross; Art and Library Com., Mrs. J. F. McGuire; Auditor, Mr. Warren S. Kilburn; and these persons were elected.

The financial report for The Woman's Guild of the Second Church was most satisfactory. Receipts for the year amounted to $5,377.93. This included the receipts from the Oriental Bazaar, which amounted to $4,209.85. Of this sum, $2,500 has been deposited in the Savings Bank. $723.23 were spent for gifts and supplies for Benevolent Work. Miscellaneous Expenses were $113.43. For the year 1922, to date, $157 has been received for annual dues, which would indicate a prosperous year with an increased membership.

TRULY WIZARD WITH PEN

Englishman of Queen Elizabeth's Time Did Work That Probably Never Was Equaled.

England at one time possessed a penman capable of rivaling Nessi Effendi Markarem, an Arab now on a visit to Cairo with specimens of his art, including a grain of rice on which he has written 100 words from the Koran. Peter Bales, as we learn from Hollinshead's Chronicle, put in the compass of a silver penny more things than fill several ordinary pages, and presented Queen Elizabeth with the manuscript set in a gold ring and covered with a crystal, together with a magnifying glass so powerful that the queen could easily decipher the manuscript, which she held on her thumbnail and commended the same to the lords of the council and the ambassadors.

Bales subsequently issued a challenge "to the Englishmen and strangers" to write, for a pen of gold of £20 value, in all kinds of hands, "best, straightest and fastest," and most kinds of ways, "a full, a mean, a small, with line and without line; in a slow set hand, a mean facile hand, and a fast running hand," and further, to write "truest and speediest, most secretary and clearlike, from a man's mouth, reading, or pronouncing, either English or Latin."

Another writing master, David Johnson, accepted the challenge, and the contest opened on Michaelmas day, 1595, before five judges and a hundred spectators. Bales was adjudged the winner in all three sections, though the competition in "writing sundry kinds of fair hands" proved a near thing for him. He gained points for the beauty and "most authentic proportion" of his "Roman hand," but Johnson scored more marks in court hand and in "bastard secretary" hand. Bales, being then on his mettle, presented his "Master Piece," composed of "secretary and Roman hand four ways varied," and offered to forego all his previous advantages if Johnson could better it. This proved impossible, so Bales carried off the gold pen and had it painted and set up for his sign.—Manchester Guardian.

Taming the Wild Flowers.

At a flower show held in New York city, one naturally expects to see hot-house plants or at most such pampered exotics as appear in cultivated gardens. At the recent annual show, however, there was an exhibit that was a veritable wild garden, comprising exclusively plants that are native to the New England fields and woodlands. The developer of this garden, Edward Gillett, has made a hobby of bringing the wildlings into the dooryard, and teaching them to make themselves at home there. The result is highly gratifying, for not only do a large number of these plants lend themselves to decorative and ornamental effects, but, quite apart from this, there is an inherent interest in the indigenous flora that gives even a very modest plant precedence in the affections of many of us over the most gorgeous visitants from far-off lands.

Now that Mr. Gillett has shown the way, there will be many an amateur who will not be satisfied unless a considerable corner of his garden is given over to wild azaleas and laurel and hepatics and lady-slippers and trilliums and sundry other modest but winsome native flowers.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Kongo Airplane Service.

It is reported that the directors of the Forminere Diamond Mines company have suggested the inauguration of an air service by seaplane, which would operate between the mines at Djoko Punda, on the Kasai (a tributary of the Congo) and Kinshasa, on the Congo—from which latter point the railroad runs to Matadinoki, a steamer port on the lower Congo. The directors offer to defray the greater part of the initial cost of the scheme. In the meantime a survey of the route is being undertaken. The distance from Kinshasa to the mines is approximately 500 miles, which could be covered in two days, as contrasted with over a month by the existing river transport.—Scientific American.

How Co-operation Changes.

Both the government and organized labor of Germany have changed their attitude toward consumers' co-operation, with the result that, since the downfall of the kaiser, the membership of the leading co-operatives, previously largely composed of professional and business people, has become overwhelmingly composed of working people. The Production Society of Hamburg, for instance, has among its members 7,889 metal workers, 2,492 bricklayers, 2,084 tailors, 4,648 transport workers, 2,967 woodworkers, as against 65 writers, 377 musicians and one artist. Government officials, previously forbidden to join co-operatives, now avail themselves of the permission to do so in increasing numbers.

Matter Explained.

When I was seventeen I was permitted for the first time to go shopping alone. It was in Philadelphia. Just as I was about to enter Wanamaker's store I was tipped twice upon the shoulder, turned by a strong hand and chuckled under the chin. Frightened and insulted, I looked at my accoster, and found a young man in track suit. "Quiet, please," he said, sternly. "Give me your name and address." In my terror and confusion I gave them. Several weeks later the mail brought me a formal note, thanking me for my co-operation, and briefly stating that certain things were necessary for initiation into the Alpha Sigma fraternity.—Chicago Journal.

NEWTONVILLE COMMUNITY FORUM

On Sunday, January 15th, at 4 P. M., at Central Church, Mr. Whiting Williams, who has recently returned from a close-up contact with the near-revolutionary labor conditions in the old world, will speak on a most important subject, "What's on the Worker's Mind in Europe, Britain and America?" Opportunity will be given for discussion after the address.

MR. WHITING WILLIAMS,
Formerly assistant to the president of Oberlin College; Executive Secretary of Cleveland Welfare Federation; Personal Director Hydraulic Steel Co.

Mr. Williams is the first of three speakers to address the Newtonville Community Forum, which is open to the public. Following this first forum on January 15th, at 4 P. M., there will be two others.

Sunday, February 12th, 4 P. M., Dr. Tehyi Hsieh will speak on "China's Aspirations at the Washington Conference." Must be by the Newton Choral Society. Third meeting, Sunday, March 12th. All meetings will be held in the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville. The public is cordially invited to attend.

GIRL SCOUTS

The first regular meeting of the Girl Scout training course was held on Friday, January 6, in the parish house of the Unitarian Church, West Newton. This class has a registration of over 20, and it is expected that at the next meeting there will be three full patrols—twenty-four members. The class is organized as a troop, and the regular troop opening, business meeting and closing are gone through at each meeting.

Those taking the course will get scouting first hand, and will get the practical knowledge of organizing and conducting a troop. The members showed great interest in the work and entered into it, from learning how to make a drawing of our National Flag, using the proper proportions to composing patrol cheers with great enthusiasm. Time is time to be given at each meeting to setting up exercises, drill and scout games. This part of the program is given by Miss Florence Malcolm of Newtonville, a graduate of the Boston School of Physical Education. Scout singing is also included in the work under the direction of Miss Marion Clapp of Brookline. Mrs. Walton S. Redfield, Miss Helen Potter, both of West Newton, are on the staff of instruction; also Mrs. Edward Stannard of Wellesley, and Miss Mary Sprague is troop bugler.

The Newton Girl Scout Officers Association held its January meeting on Wednesday evening, the 11th of the month, in the Parish House of the Unitarian Church, West Newton. Supper was served at 6:30. In spite of the storm quite a large number of officers and committee members attended the meeting. After the regular business meeting which followed the supper, Mr. Sherratt, Boy Scout executive for Newton, gave a very interesting and enlightening talk on "Camp Craft." He also spoke on how Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts might cooperate, and it is hoped that this talk may lead to some definite co-operation between the two organizations.

Troop 2, the meetings of the Newton Girl Scouts, Troop 2, are being held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall. It is a splendid, airy place, and we enjoy it very much. At Thanksgiving we filled four big boxes with good things to eat and gave them to the families of invalid ex-service men. At Christmas time the troop entertained the Girl Scouts of Troop 6 and enjoyed so much meeting a fellow troop. Mrs. Day and the Troop Committee gave ice cream and cakes. Five boxes containing, books, candy, cigarettes and useful articles were sent to Miss Evelyn Cunningham for boys at the Parker Hill Hospital who would have had no Christmas gifts, and a large basket full of toys, as well as a sled, was sent to Mrs. Hull at the Newton Welfare Bureau to be given where they were most needed. Three Girl Scouts from this troop, with Miss Adelaide Ball, took charge of the ladies' coat room at the reception given at the Newton Hospital for Miss Riddle. Over eleven dollars have been made by scouts doing extra work at home to help towards Newton's quota for the yearly campaign for funds. Mary Marshall, Scribner, Troop 2. The first meeting of the Bugle and Drum Corps was held on Thursday, this week, at the Newton High School. It is hoped that this corps will do fine work this year, and with instructors such as Mr. Frank Russell for the drummers, and Mr. Arthur Whitcomb for the buglers, great progress should be made.

REAL ESTATE

Through the office of Alvord Bros., the Holland System, Inc., has sold to the Newton Theological Institution a lot of land on Institution avenue, Newton Centre, containing about 6000 square feet, and assessed for $12,000. Alvord Bros. have sold for Samuel Orr to H. W. Marshall the estate numbered 50 Victoria Circle, Newtonville, consisting of a modern single house, garage and about 10,000 square feet of land, valued at about $16,000.

HIGH SCHOOL HOCKEY

Newton's failure to defeat Somerville in the contest at the Arena last Monday night proved a surprise to all scholastic hockey followers and a real disappointment to supporters of the Orange and Black six. Newton went into the game a logical favorite and emerged from the conflict with nothing better than a one to one tie.

It was the first Suburban League hockey game for both teams, and it was the first time this year that either outfit had played on the Arena surface. Newton had the decided advantage of several days' hard practice on excellent ice, not to mention games with Boston College High and the Newton Alumni. Somerville had been unfortunate in securing a suitable pond for practice and went into the Newton game with the intention of making the contest an interesting one and keeping the Newton score as low as possible. Somerville accomplished both intentions and a little more in addition.

The first period of play saw the two teams doing a great amount of unnecessary dashing back and forth on the ice. Somerville made no pretence of teaming together, while Newton, despite days of careful coaching, acted as if the art of passing the puck was out of fashion. Somerville scored first in the second period when Jeremiah, the Red and Blue center, took a pass from behind the Newton goal, and flipped it by Captain Drowne into the Newton net. Newton tied the score a few minutes later, Dunlop tallying on a play similar to the one scored by the Somerville center. The remainder of the game produced no more scoring, every attempt made by Newton being checked by the clever goal tending of Roberts of Somerville.

Needless to say, the game from a Newton standpoint was far from encouraging. As a hockey team, Somerville is not in the same class with Cambridge Latin or Melrose. Newton's rivals for the title, yet the Red and Blue, was fully capable of giving Newton the most strenuous sort of argument. Somerville was, of course, the more aggressive. We have often wondered why the Garden City six does not show a little more "pep" on the ice. As student players of the game of hockey, the Newton boys were far superior to the Somerville lads, but as enthusiastic fighters for the glory of their school they were not so impressive. Somerville went into the game confident only of giving the very best that was in them. Newton, it seemed to us, went into the fray under the impression that they would give Somerville a few lessons on how hockey should be played. But the order of things was reversed, for Somerville did most of the teaching and Newton most of the learning. We hope the Orange and Black will long remember their lesson.

Of course, we may be all wrong in our harsh judgment of the Newton team, but we are not alone in our belief that Newton needs to forget that they have nothing more to learn about the ice game. There isn't a fellow on the Newton team who can play hockey well enough to attract special attention, and the sooner Newton realizes this fact the better will it be for the school and the team. And what we say in regard to the hockey team also applies to certain performers in other branches of sport at the High School, fellows who seem to think that one or two successful achievements entitles them to strut about like little "in gods." More true school spirit and less "look me over, girls, I'm clever" stuff, will go a great way in turning out a real athlete.

Malden shut out Rindge Tech, 3 to 0, in the other Suburban League game which was held at the Arena last Wednesday afternoon.

LODGES

The officers of Garden City Grange, P. of H., were installed Tuesday evening in Odd Fellows Hall, Newtonville, by H. R. Wallace, assisted by Frances W. Dent, Marshal; Hattie Mott, Emblem Bearer; Mrs. Louis Dean, Regalia Bearer; and Mrs. Charles Cahill, all of Waltham.

Officers installed: Worthy Master, Edwin P. Pitt; Overseer, John L. Sullivan; Lecturer, Geo. E. Hardy; Steward, Leonard Frost; Chaplain, Frank W. Chase; Treas., A. C. Baxter; Secretary, Chas. F. Dow; Gatekeeper, L. P. Frost; Assistant Steward, C. A. Frost; Ceres, Marion Sullivan; Pomona, Mary Pitt; Flora, Leslie R. Murray; Lady Asst. Steward, Effie Dinsmore. After installation the entertainment consisted of Vocal Solo by Muriel Anderson, recitations by Lottie P. Wyle and Eva Hopwood, and baritone solo by Frank W. Chase. Refreshments were served in banquet hall after which the rest of the evening was enjoyed by the members in dancing.

Garden City Encampment No. 62, and Waban Lodge 156, I. O. O. F., will have a joint public installation at Odd Fellows Hall, Newtonville, Wednesday evening, Jan. 18th. Supper, 6:30.

GETHESEMANE DANCE

The Gethsemane Commandery Es-cort gave a very successful dance in Temple Hall, Newtonville, on Tuesday evening. Through the kindness of the Past Eminent Commander, Sir Knight A. C. Jewett, the hall was decorated with large banners, upon which were emblems and characters pertaining to the Order of Knighthood. Very artistic hats were presented to the ladies, which were worn during the dancing, adding much color and beauty to the occasion. Everyone enjoyed the dancing, the music for which was furnished by a splendid eight piece orchestra. Among those present were Eminent Commander Charles E. Fogg and Mrs. Fogg, Generalissimo Roland C. March and Mrs. March, Captain General Dr. H. Alton Rourke and Mrs. Rourke, Mrs. Harry B. Ross, Worthy Matron of the Palestine Chapter, and the Worthy Patron of the Palestine Chapter, Dr. Edward St. Coeur.

The committee in charge of the entertainments for the year includes the Eminent Commander, ex-officio; Gerald F. Zedren, Lowell D. Mac Nutt and James H. Anderson. Eminent Sir A. C. Jewett is chairman of the refreshment committee. Members of the commandery and their friends are looking forward to the next social gathering, which will be a Mardi Gras, to take place at Temple Hall on March 23d.

of Charles Lawrence Hosmer, died at her home on Mt. Vernon street on Monday in her 92nd year. Mrs. Hosmer was born in Cornville, Me., and her early married life was spent in Natick, but for the last thirty-nine years of her life she lived at 284 Mt. Vernon street, where services were held on Tuesday,

the Rev. Edward D. Eaton officiating, and the burial was in Natick.

—"The hot-water tank in the barber shop of Jeffrey Perry, 132 River street exploded early yesterday morning and blew out five windows in the barber shop and three in the grocery store

next door. It is believed that the tank had been left lighted during the night and that this was the cause of the explosion. The interior of the store was damaged considerably, but no one was injured.

—The West Newton Day Nursery,

Inc., and Neighborhood House will hold its annual meeting at the Neighborhood House, 89 Elm street, on Tuesday, January 17, 1922, at half past two o'clock to hear the annual reports and to elect officers. Miss Grace T.

Wills, superintendent of the Lincoln

House, Boston, will speak on "The Need of a Neighborhood Club." Tea will be served. The hostesses will be

Mrs. F. E. Jones, Mrs. L. B. Rogers,

Mrs. A. S. Woods, Mrs. C. S. Cook, Jr.,

Mrs. Grace A. Cormier, re-elected president, was presented with a large basket of roses from members of the Auxiliary as a token of confidence and esteem. The other officers to go into their chairs were as follows: Vice-President, Mrs. Margaret

Reinharter; treasurer, Miss Emma J.

Edmonds; secretary, Miss Lillian

Mathews; the following executive committee: Mrs. Edward Gray, Mrs.

Heywood S. French, Mrs. Jessie

Barry, Mrs. J. P. Tischer, Mrs. S. M.

Hurst, Miss Beatrice M. Bennett and Mrs. Alice C. Beckwith, and as members-at-large, Mrs. Hazel M. Frayne and Miss Harriet N. Perkins.

A number of standing committees for the year were appointed and plans for an active year were discussed. It was voted to invite the post to attend jointly with the Auxiliary in the matter of conducting a dancing party at the West Newton Armory on Washington's Birthday.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

The club women of Newton will recall the efforts put into securing the passage of the Weeks bill in 1911, which provided for the purchase of waste timber land about the heads of navigable streams in the White and Appalachian mountains, and the feeling of rejoicing when the bill was finally signed. This carried an appropriation of $2,000,000 a year for five years. Since that amount has been exhausted, Congress has provided intermittent appropriations, but not nearly enough to secure tracts much needed, which could then have been acquired at nominal sums.

Now a critical situation has arisen from the fact that the budget committee framed a bill cutting out all appropriations whatsoever for this purpose, and the Budget bill has passed Congress. The Conservation department of the Newton Federation, through its chairman, Mrs. Fred H. Tucker, has framed this following communication, which has been signed by the president and other officers of the Federation, by the members of the Conservation and Legislative departments and by individuals, to be sent to each member of the House Committee on Agriculture, to Secretary Weeks, to President Harding and others:

The Newton Federation, comprising seventeen clubs and seven associate organizations—10,000 women in all—wishes to express through its officers and the Conservation and Legislative Departments, its deep regret at the action of the budget committee in cutting off appropriations for purchase of national forest land at the head waters of navigable streams and for the adequate payment of the expert and already trained purchasing organization.

This action is directly opposed to the far-sighted Weeks Act passed in 1911. Since the exhaustion of the original five-year appropriation under this Act—all too small at best—the irregular appropriations from year to year have fallen far behind the purchases as originally planned, while still larger and greatly needed protective areas are constantly becoming available at low prices, but no money to buy them.

This is not a sectional matter. Even if it concerned only the Atlantic watershed, where industrial, commercial, or recreational facilities affected would be of moment to the whole country. But the Appalachian Range has a western watershed as well, which through the Ohio River alone has a dominating effect upon the destructive Mississippi floods. Shall we lose the opportunity now offered for protecting the headwaters of the Monongahela and Allegheny, by which the Ohio and Mississippi floods may be lessened?

Soil erosion and the increasingly acute timber shortage should alone be conclusive arguments for generous forest-land provisions. Many states are doing much for themselves, but this is an inter-state and national concern. The Newton Federation therefore earnestly and respectfully urges every member of the Committee on Agriculture to do all in his power toward influencing Congress to take far-sighted and adequate measures as soon as possible for the acquisition and best management of forest lands at the headwaters of navigable streams.

The women of the country will anxiously await action by your committee and Congress.

Local Announcements

The Christian Era Study Club will meet on Monday afternoon with Mrs. John F. Dunton, 30 Williston road. Mrs. A. W. C. Desoe will present a paper on the Independence of Holland and Mrs. Dunton on VanDyck.

On Monday evening Mr. Daniel J. Gallagher will give an address before the Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls.

Dr. George H. Blakeslee, of Clark University, will speak before the Newtonville Woman's Club next Tuesday afternoon upon "Apparent Conflicts in Interest and Policy between the United States and Japan." Dr. Blakeslee is spending the winter in Washington, being a member of the advisory board to the Armaments Conference.

The Auburdale Review Club holds a business meeting on January 17, at 10 A. M., at the home of Mrs. S. W. Dike, 113 Hancock street. Each member is requested to bring a topic or suggestion for the subject of next year's study.

The legislative committee of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands, Mrs. Sanford E. Thompson, chairman, announces that Commissioner Sanford Bates and Commissioner Alfred Cutting will debate on the Penal Institutions Bill at the next meeting, Tuesday afternoon, January 17, in the Congregational Church. A representative of the State Federation Legislative committee will present other bills briefly. Tea and a social hour will follow the program.

At the meeting of the Newton Social Science Club on Wednesday morning, January 18, Mrs. Everett S. Kent will give a paper upon "Nicholas II."

The Newton Ladies' Home Circle will hold its regular meeting in G. A. R. hall, Newtonville, on Thursday, January 19. Important business will be transacted.

The Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club will meet with Mrs. F. S. Keith on Saturday, January 21, and will begin the study of King Henry VI, Part III. Mrs. Herbert S. Drew will have the quiz.

The Group Activities committee of the Newton Community Club announces the following program for the remaining months of the season: January 19, Newton North telephone exchange, Lewandows cleansing and dyeing plant; February 16, Schrafft's candy factory; March 16, Perkins Institution for the Blind; April 20, Concord and Lexington; May 18, Arnold Arboretum. Detailed announcements will be given at the meetings of the club just preceding the trips.

On Thursday, January 26, the Home Economics Committee of the Newton Community Club has arranged to hold one of the most interesting meetings of the club year in the Hunnewell Club house at 2.30 P. M. Miss Maude Evelyn Bradley will have for her subject "Fashion, Style, and Art in Dress" illustrated by crayon sketches and living models. Miss Bradley is a designer for "Good Housekeeping," the "Delineator," and the "Designer," and served one of New York's large wholesale dress houses in that capacity for two years. She is at present at the head of the Applied Design department of the High School in Pawtucket, R. I. Guest tickets for this meeting may be obtained at the door.

The Fortnightly Club of Newton Centre will meet on Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, D. D., will speak on "The Woman Behind the Man" at the home of Mrs. C. N. Fitz-Tee will be served by Mrs. F. D. Robinson.

Local Happenings

Mrs. Grace M. Poole in her lecture upon current events before the Newton Community Club last week reviewed the President's message, considered the progress made by the Washington Conference and brought the Irish question up to date.

At a special meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club on Thursday, January 5th, Captain Daniel A. MacKay gave a most interesting lecture on "Riding the Plains with the Royal Northwest Mounted Police." Yesterday morning Mrs. Grace M. Poole gave her monthly talk upon current events. The club is looking forward to the celebration of its thirty-fifth birthday on the afternoon of January 26th. Mrs. George Minot Baker will be the guest of honor. The musical program promises to be unusually attractive.

At the regular meeting of the Auburdale Review Club held at the home of Mrs. Robert P. Gilman on Tuesday the members listened with great interest, first, to a paper by Mrs. Thomas B. Scott on "Ceylon," based on many years' residence there, and on "Tasmania"; next, to Mrs. Nelson Freeman on "New Zealand"; and lastly, to Mrs. J. Scott Rider on the "South Sea Islands." Each one made the members feel that her particular subject was truly the "Paradise of the World," and that they must immediately journey thither, especially in the winter!

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Grace M. Poole gave a very full and enlightening talk upon current events before the Newtonville Woman's Club, the break caused by the holidays having brought much new material to be reviewed.

The regular meeting of the Travel Class of January 9th was held at the home of Mrs. Bernard Early, with Mrs. W. D. Keefe also as hostess. Mrs. Glendenning Smith made the trip through Perugia and Assisi most interesting, illustrating her story with many pictures. A visit to Florence in the springtime with Mrs. W. C. Church followed, which was very complete and satisfactory. Following appropriately after this the Life and Works of Dante were considered by Mrs. Frank Chaplin. The whole made a most enjoyable as well as instructive program.

Miss Nellie Skillin, of Radcliffe College, who had previously presented some of the early history of Russia, continued the study of that country at the meeting of the Newton Social Science Club on January 11. Taking up the subject at the time of the death of Catherine II, in 1796, she touched upon the reign of Paul, Catherine's son, and covered the history of the reigns of Alexander I, Nicholas I, and that of Alexander II, bringing the history down to 1881.

With the death of Catherine, the territorial struggle was practically ended, and the area of the Empire enormous, containing one-fifth of the total population of Europe. Fully 94 per cent of the people were peasants, many of whom were virtually slaves. The government was an absolute monarchy, but under Paul there was more of liberalism. Alexander, at first a leader against Napoleon, later his ally, but in the end on the side of the allies, became the hero of the occasion when the allies marched into Paris in 1815, and Russia reached the pinnacle of her glory. Fear of revolution led Alexander to become more and more autocratic. The thirty years of Nicholas' reign were reactionary—a prolonged and intense despotism. Alexander II, although a firm believer in autocracy, introduced great reforms, emancipating private serfs, mitigating the most pressing grievances and thus staving off the revolution for forty years.

SOCIAL SERVICE LEAGUE

The Newton Hospital Social Service League held a meeting at the New Church on Monday, Mrs. Harold T. Sherman presiding.

Following the business of the day, Mrs. Allen played several selections on the piano.

The speaker of the afternoon was Miss Mabel C. Bragg, Asst. Superintendent of Schools. Miss Bragg told of the changes in the school system in the last few years as a direct result of the discoveries made during the war.

The schools have come to realize that the child is a physical, intellectual, primary and grammar grades there has been a strong effort through the mid-day lunches to eliminate the fatigue point of the morning, and also to keep the children up to standard weight.

The lack of personal efficiency made evident during the war has resulted in the efforts of the schools to acquire not only skill and information, but right habits and attributes.

The question of the right use of leisure is, according to the speaker, an important one for adults as well as for children. In the schools children are given an opportunity to read or to work with their hands when their regularly assigned work is done.

In regard to no school on Tuesdays and Thursdays, Miss Bragg stated that this was done at the request of the parents of Newton who wished this time for music lessons, dancing lessons, etc.

A very lively and interesting discussion followed the address which proved stimulating and helpful to all who were present.

SERVICE OF INSTALLATION

Rev. Chester A. Drummond will be formally installed as minister of Channing church next Sunday evening at seven-thirty. Rev. Paul Revere Frothingham will preach the sermon; Rev. George L. Parker, of Newton Centre, will give the invocation; Rev. Seth C. Beach, D. D., will read the scriptures; Rev. Louis C. Cornish, will offer the prayer of installation; Rev. Harry Lutz will give the address to the people; and Rev. H. Grant Person, D. D., will extend the welcome to Newton. The act of installation will be conducted by Mr. Philip Nichols. There will be special music by the choir. The people of Newton are most cordially invited to be present.

You can't convince the youth who is taking the hills of life "on high," that he'll ever have to put on the brakes for the descent.

NEWTON CENTRAL COUNCIL

The Newton Central Council met Tuesday evening, January 10th, at the Red Cross House, Newtonville. The new president, Mr. Henry I. Harriman, presided.A subject vital to the future welfare of Newton was introduced by Mr.
George M. Angier, namely the advantage of establishing a Community Center in this city. This important matter was referred for further investigation to a Special Committee to be appointed by the president.The next meeting of the Council will be held Tuesday evening, March 14th, will be the annual meeting. Plans are underway to open this meeting to all citizens of Newton who are concerned about the Health Community and Civic Welfare of this city. Further detailed notice of the meeting will appear later.The Executive Committee of the Council wishes the organizations represented in the Council to understand that all plans for a Community Center have been postponed for the present.

A SUGGESTION

"A town never loses anything by extending a warm welcome to every deserving stranger who appears in its midst. Hospitality is a priceless gem and it costs very little."This might apply very acceptably to churches. The loss may not be very perceptible but there are those, strangers in some communities who might feel more comfortable if the people of the congregations extended to them the "Glad Hand" of welcome as they attended their services—and perhaps at no loss to the churches.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake

HIGH SCHOOLS

There is a comparatively new sport springing up which attracts the attention at the high school, namely the Girls' Ice Hockey Team. Tryouts are given at Bulloughs' Pond and a good, fast team should develop.Newton has a great advantage in having a good skating pond within walking distance of the school. The city keeps the ice cleared off and the pond is kept in excellent condition for skaters and hockey.There are two hockey rinks which must be put up and then taken care of during the skating season. This work is done very efficiently by the city and Newtonians should appreciate this.The library of the Technical High School has had several additions recently among which are two new atlases, one in two volumes beautifully bound.The Glee Club of the Classical High had its weekly assembly. Before long they are planning to give a concert which should attract the attention of music lovers.Mr. Kidger, teacher in the Technical High School, was delighted at the birth of a little girl on Saturday, January 7.The Newton Ice Hockey team battled Somerville to a 1-1 tie in the Arena on Monday, January 9. Dunlop made Newton's only goal.The Sub-Senior Class of the Classical High School is giving an informal dance in the Gym on Friday, January 13. Spalding's orchestra will furnish the music.On Friday, January 6, the Class of 1921 gathered in the library of the Technical High School. There was an entertainment in which Marie Laffie sang. Afterwards there was a dance in which the patronesses were: Mrs.
Frail, Mrs. Goddard, Miss Wetherbee and Miss Katherine Goddard.

Mason School

The Literary Digest for January 7 is in demand by members of the seventh grade geography classes, as they are studying Japan.Mr. Kakuda of Newton Theological Seminary and Japan, will talk to the seventh grades, Friday morning, telling of his country.Many of the pupils are planning to go to Burton Holmes' lecture on Japan, tomorrow.Edison won't win an imaginary journey to Norway this week with the help of the lantern slides.For the month of December the attendance of the Mason was 94.3 per cent—not one room being below 90.
The highest per cent was 96.3.The eighth grade has chosen its officers. The president is Eleanor Phillips; the vice-president, Arnold Rich; the secretary, Elizabeth Bartlett; and the treasurer, William Cummings.A radio club has just been formed by Newton Centre boys interested in that activity. An enthusiastic meeting was held on Saturday night, January 7th, at the Newton Centre Playground House.A committee was chosen composed of Gerald Hudson, George Brewer, Donald Perry and Fowler Cole to draw up a constitution for the club.

Stearns School

Children's Night was observed at the Mothers' Club meeting held last Monday evening in the Stearns School Hall. Recitations, violin and piano solos were rendered by the children.The Stearns School Glee Club gave several well rendered selections. Refreshments were served and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed by old and young.The eighth grade class held its first debate of the year this morning. The subject chosen; Resolved, That Newton should adopt the "Sunday Sports Law." The leader of the affirmative side is Margaret Boudreau, assisted by Elizabeth Shortton, Charles La-Croix, Irene Brouillette, Elsie Clam-bell. The leader of the negative, Hazel Leith, assisted by Amodeo De-Simon, Florence Sampson, Joseph Bergen, Estelle LaCroix. Mr. Winslow will judge the debate.The Stearns School hockey team was defeated in the first game of the season by the boys of the Mason School with a score of 2 to 1. The game was played on Bulloughs' Pond, Tuesday afternoon. John Ruto played brilliantly while LaCroix at goal made several remarkable stops. Slamin scored the goal thru a pass, from Lyman. Stearns is satisfied with the game as it was played without ice practice.Miss Sara Schlechter entertained the teachers of the Stearns School at her home, at 22 Richardson street, Tuesday afternoon. The occasion being a linen shower given in honor of Miss Doris Logue.Mayor Childs was the speaker at the assembly last Friday morning.
His talk on the true American and the ideals of our country was very inspiring.The highest per cents for the attendance reports ending January sixth were Miss Munn, grade two—98.8, Miss Stoddard, grade seven—97.9, and Miss McLaughlin, grade six—97.6.

Hyde School

During the Christmas vacation, the center rooms of the Old Hyde building were equipped with electric lights.
Each of these rooms, which have formerly been dark on cloudy days now have six, well-placed lights. It is hoped that the other rooms will be likewise equipped during the summer months.Friday afternoon, Lindley-Eagle gave a lecture and entertainment on Indian life and customs. The children received both pleasure and information from a "really truly" Indian in his paint and feathers. Thirty-five dollars and ten cents was netted for school funds.The seventh grade has had election of officers. Elizabeth Bicknell is Governor; Richard Pennell, Lieutenant-Governor; and Floyd Sawyer is Secretary. The Governor has appointedthe heads of the departments, who in turn, have chosen their assistants.The eighth-grade vocational Guide-ance Class, under Mrs. Blakemore, held a debate on: Resolved: That the fireman renders more service to society than does the policeman. The negative side was victorious, however.Miss Perkins' second grade is enjoying its penmanship lesson through copying health-rhymes into little booklets such as: "B is for bed with windows open wide—"Many hours little children there should abide."

Clafin School

The Class of 1922 has organized with the following officers: President, Robert Andres; Vice President, Jessie Batson; Secretary, Gwendy Quimby; Executive Committee, Edgar Kent, Dorothy Purcell, Francesca Barker.The attendance report for the four weeks ending January 6, shows the banner room to be Grade V, having an attendance of 97.8 and no tardy marks for the four weeks.Athletic interest at present centers around hockey. The boys of the Horace Mann and Clafin Schools have a very good team. The upper grade girls at the Clafin also have organized a team for practice.

Burr School

Burr School hockey team played the Clafin School team at Bulloughs' Pond Thursday.At practice on Tuesday the second team defeated the first team.Miss Higgins gave on Wednesday, an illustrated talk on the British Isles, to the 7th and 8th grades. Her pictures were those which she got on her trip to Europe in 1914.

Lasell

After a three weeks vacation Las-sell and Woodland opened on Thursday of last week, classes beginning in the morning.The first vesper of the New Year were led by Rev. Harper of Auburndale last Sunday when the service was a very unusual and beautiful one.
Mr. Harper illustrating his talk with hymns sung by the audience and a very finely rendered solo by Mrs. Harper.The students have been taking advantage of the splendid ice skating and all week there have been many parties on the Charles River, chapered by the teachers from the physical training department.Roger Babson of Wellesley is to be the speaker at vesper on Sunday afternoon. The hour for the services has been changed from 6:15 to 4 o'clock.In the evening the Lasell Glee Club is to give a sacred concert at the Franklin Square House, Boston.

DEATH OF DR. HAYDEN

Dr. Robert Ferguson Hayden, for many years a practicing dentist in Boston, died Wednesday at his home, 27 Albion street, Newton Centre, in his forty-third year.He was born on July 11, 1879, in Sable River, Nova Scotia, a son of Robert Ferguson and Mary Olivia (Harlow) Hayden, and was graduated

NOTICE TO EX-SERVICE MEN

It has been brought to the attention of the Red Cross, Home Service Section, that certain lawyers are sending out notices that disabled veterans can thru them secure back pay, compensation, vocational training, and reimbursement for physicians' bills. We want every ex-service man in Newton to be thoroughly informed regarding these matters. These men who are so adversely expect a fee. The Red cross office is open every day, except Saturday, from 9 to 5, Friday evening from 7:30 to 9, and Saturdays from 9

HOLDS WILDERNESS IN SCORN

Japanese Adventurer Thrives on Such Perils as Might Well Daunt Even the Bravest.

Jujiro Wada has always played a lone hand. Up and down the northern fringes of civilization he has pioneered for 30 years. He has been in the thick of every gold rush from the Klondike to Hanson Creek. He is an expert trapper, hunter, cook, prospector and dog-team driver. From Athabasca to the mouth of the Mackenzie, all old-timers know the little yellow wilderness adventurer.

Soon after the discovery of a gusher well at Fort Norman last fall, winter closed the trails to the new oil bonanza on the Mackenzie. But it did not shut out Jujiro Wada. Ice and snow and howling blizzards have no terrors for him. Employed by Vancouver capitalists to go to Fort Norman and stake claims for them, he struck out for Peace river with a team of dogs in the dead of winter. For 1,200 miles he mushed alone through the frozen, wolf-haunted solitudes, staked his claims and came back across the snow to Peace river.

Now he has been employed by a New York syndicate to go to the top of the world on a hunt for gold. A rumor has long been bruited about the arctic that Herschel Island conceals rich gold deposits. The little Jap will soon leave for the north prepared to spend at least a year on this thunder-riven, desolate rock in the arctic seas. If he uncovers treasure, there will be no delay in bringing out samples. No matter if it is 90 degrees below, Jujiro Wada will harness up his malamutes and break trail back toward civilization. That's his way.

CANDIDATE GOT ONE VOTE

Humiliating Practical Joke Played on Italian Who Had Made Himself Politically Unpopular.

Solicitor Gandolfi of Cremona, Italy, besides being a poet, is also a bombastic meddler in political matters. Because of this it was arranged by a party of jokers to bring him forward as a candidate for the polls. The electoral committee was duly constituted and Gandolfi's name was entered on the government lists.

The unlucky solicitor was forced during the fortnight to do his own canvassing and to drive about from village to village delivering speeches. When election day came, no voting papers having been distributed by the committee for him, it was found that the only vote he received was his own. His discomfiture may be imagined, but it is said that a radical cure for his political tendencies has been found.

A still more unfortunate candidate was a communist in the same town named Lodolini. After the communists had officially announced their intentions to carry him, the man disappeared. It was found that the Fascisti had seized him at night time and driven him to Casalmaggiore, where he was forced under the severest threats to remain during election time. Once Lodolini returned to Cremona to see his wife, but the same night the Fascisti again entered the house and forced him to dress and drove him again to seclusion and meditation over the rules for the Third International.—New York Tribune.

Signs of Age.

"Uncle Dunk is getting along in years," regretfully said a resident of the Ozarks.

"Eh-yah," replied an acquaintance. "He's som'ers about eighty-one, ain't he?"

"Yes, and I scarcely ever seed a man so old for his years as he 'pears to be of late. He rid into the county seat with me tuther day. We got there about nine o'clock in the morning and before 5.30 he came around whur I was talking swap with some fellers, and 'lowed that as he didn't know nobody in town skurely and hadn't any business there, no-way, and nuthin' had happened of any interest so fur and didn't 'pear likely to, he was just about ready to go home. Uncle Dunk is feeling his age powerful."—Kansas City Star.

Milk From Peanuts.

The common peanut is the source of a new substitute for milk which so closely resembles its prototype that it turns sour and curdles, produces butter-milk when churned and may be made into cheese, says the Scientific American. The flavor, in which the nut characteristically persists, is declared to be practically its only point of variance with cow's milk. The new lactical product originated in the laboratory of an American university where the peanut kernels are converted into four times their volume of milk, varying from 4 to 8 per cent in fat content and from 2.4 to 3.3 per cent in protein. The cost of production is said to be considerably less than the market price of dairy milk.

Boy Scouts Aid Birds.

The birds in the neighborhood of St. Louis have had their housing problems reduced to lowest terms by the act of the boy scouts of St. Louis, who, as a result of a contest, provided 2,368 well-built bird houses, which have been placed in the public parks and other reserves. The winning troop turned out 651 bird houses. The scout executive writes that much interest was roused locally, not only in the house building which it is proposed to make an annual good turn event, but also in the scouts themselves.

HIGH SCHOOL SPORTS

Our Sporting Editor Frankly Replies to Recent Criticisms of His Articles

The past week has not been particularly favorable to the Newton High hockey team. Last Saturday afternoon Newton went up to Andover and dropped a 5 to 0 game to the Academy boys. On Monday afternoon, at the Boston Arena, Brookline High defeated the Orange and Black, 1 to 0. Newton's sole win of the week was gained over an independent team from Belmont High, on Bulough's Pond, last Wednesday afternoon. The score was 4 to 0.

Newton's defeat at the hands of Andover was no surprise. The Academy lads, with many former high school stars in the lineup, proved too much for the Garden City team to cope with, and the 5 to 0 score just spells the difference between the two teams. The Brookline High game at the Arena on Monday afternoon was a hard game for Newton to lose. The two teams were evenly matched, and the outcome was always in doubt. Brookline's winning tally came in the first period, when Alec Murray, the Brookline centre, caught the puck at mid-ice and sent in flying past Captain Drowne for the solitary score of the game.

In this contest with Brookline, Newton still seemed to lack the finish and team play that has been characteristic of the Newton hockey team in former years. The weak defensive play of the Orange and Black stood out quite prominently at times, and it did look as if the Newton defense men were largely responsible for the Brookline score. At one time during the game Brookline played with but four men on the ice, yet the superb fighting spirit of the Wealthy Towners, and the remarkable goal tending of Whittemore, kept Newton from tying the score. In short, Brookline deserved to win.

Newton's 4 to 0 victory over the Belmont High Independents was earned without any great amount of exertion, and there were occasions when the game was exceedingly listless.

Tonight Newton plays Malden at the Arena. Here is a good opportunity for Captain Drowne's men to gain some of the ground they have lost in the Suburban League race. Malden may surprise us and show unexpected strength, after the fashion of Somerville, but we do not believe the Yellow and Blue are good enough to outpoint Newton. It looks as if the Malden fellows will have to wait a while yet before getting revenge for that grand Newton football victory of last November.

Our criticism of the Newton High hockey team, published last week's issue of the GRAPHIC, caused more than a little comment. A number of folks told us that what we said was about right; others insisted that we were "off our trolley," and that we must have had a swell grouch at the time of writing. One resident of this city wrote to the editor of the GRAPHIC and declared that last week's criticism was unjust and entirely uncalculated. This gentleman believes that an apology is due the Newton High School boys for all the mean things we said about them. The editor of the GRAPHIC turned the letter over to the writer of this column.

The writer is truly sorry if he has hurt any one's feelings. It was not his intention when writing the criticism to stir up any ill feeling, and if the writer is guilty of such a mistake he repeats that he is more than sorry. But if he had the column to write over again he would not change his views in regard to the Somerville game and to "certain performers" in athletics at the High School. The writer has followed Newton athletics for seven years and has been writing sporting news for about four years. It has always been his intention to state things as he sees them, and to be absolutely impartial in his treatment of all Newton athletic events. He is never slow to praise the Orange and Black when deserving, nor is he at all slow to censure the Newtonians when he deems it advisable. The fact that he is writing for a Newton publication does not make him blind to the fact that a Newton team is not above criticism, nor does it encourage him to alter his viewpoints in order to color the news with a Newton tinge. Of course, the writer has made many mistakes, oh, ever so many. But never has he been insincere.

The Newton gentleman who took exception to last week's article remarked that he did not agree with what the writer said. One could hardly blame him for that. It would be a dreadfully dull old world if everyone's thoughts ran in exactly the same channel. When we criticized the Newton hockey team we knew very well that there would be those who would say that we were far from right. The writer clearly admitted that what he said might have been all wrong. But the fact remains that the writer wrote only what he thought was right, and he can see no reason why he should apologize for what he honestly believed to be the truth.

The writer of this column is always glad to receive letters from readers, whether these letters contain praise, criticism or advice. The Newton gentleman who disagreed with last week's article is the kind of man any high school would be proud to claim as a booster. His loyalty to the boys of Newton High is unquestionable, and he is to be complimented for rallying to their support. His is the sort of spirit that would do the hockey team a world of good. Last week he and the writer disagreed most decidedly; next week we may see things in the same light.

RELIGIOUS CENSUS

Much interest has been aroused by the group meetings held during the past week for those volunteer visitors who were to take part in the united Protestant church survey at Newton Corner on Sunday, January 22.

Before explaining in detail the card system, Mrs. Allen Chamberlain, director of the survey, explained the need for uniformity in filling out the cards, and some of the immediate results which are to be expected from the canvass. The spirit of the campaign is to assume that church attendance is a real privilege, and that all people in Newton will be glad to co-operate by extending a welcome to the volunteer visitors and by having information ready. Wherever non-Protestant families are found, the family name and the fact of church affiliation are the only two items to be recorded or asked.

There are two types of cards to be used, one a white card, called "the family card," which records the husband and wife and the adult and minor children living at home, or, in other words, the immediate family. The other card, a salmon colored card, is for all other members of one's household, as sisters, cousins, aunts, in-laws, paying guests, employees, etc. There are only a few questions to be asked, primarily those about church membership or preference.

The hours for visitation on Sunday are from 2 to 5 P. M., all canvassers to start from and report at the Eliot Church. These canvassers go out not as representatives of any special denomination, but as representatives of a united church movement and of the Northumbria District Sunday School Association.

NEWTON POST, A. L.

The new officers of Newton Post, 48, of the American Legion, were duly installed last evening at a public meeting held in Players' Hall, West Newton. The installing officer was General Clarence Edwards, who was greeted with prolonged applause when he appeared on the stage.

Before introducing General Edwards the retiring commander, C. Raymond Cabot, made a short address.

These officers were installed: Commander, Henry D. Cormerais; vice-commander, Levi Libby; finance officer, Sinclair Weeks; adjutant, E. T. Dungan; chaplain, Rev. Fr. William J. Farrell; historian, Leo Taffe; sergeant-at-arms, Julius B. Ramm.

After the installation ceremony General Edwards gave a short and pungent talk, in which he spoke right from the shoulder in opposition to disarmament.

Remarks were also made by Assistant Adjutant-General W. A. Wetherill for the Grand Army, and by Mayor Edwin O. Childs.

WEST NEWTON W. C. T. U.

The West Newton W. C. T. U. celebrated the second anniversary of National Prohibition by holding a "Guest Night" in the Parish Hall of the Church of the Messiah, Auburn-dale, last Monday evening, January 16th.

After some cordial words of welcome by the president, Mrs. M. Millie Beardsley, she introduced the rector of the church, Rev. P. M. Wood, who very heartily welcomed all present, and was ardent in his praise of the progress of the W. C. T. U.

A most enjoyable program was presented, consisting of songs, in costume, by Gladys Sweett, representing China; Annie King, Japan; Mildred Beardsley, Turkey; Dorothy King, India; Anne Wood, Scotland.

Annie King told briefly what the W. C. T. U. are doing in Japan, and Gladys Sweett told about the progress made in China.

Mrs. Lillian B. Marshall of Beach Bluff sang several solos in a most admirable manner. Her wonderful voice and pleasing personality won the admiration of the audience.

Anne Wood sang a group of children's songs, which was very sweet. Mildred Beardsley gave two piano-logues, which were very much appreciated. At the close of this part of the program the president introduced Mrs. Ella A. Gleason, Mass. State President of the W. C. T. U.

She was received with great enthusiasm. She gave to the audience some alarming facts and held their attention to the close of her most remarkable, interesting and instructive address.

Mrs. Beardsley was presented with a magnificent bouquet of violets from her union, to which she responded in a most appreciative manner.

Mr. Raymond Sikes was pianist for the evening. Among those present were Rev. and Mrs. E. P. Drew, Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Brady, Rev. and Mrs. P. M. Wood, and Rev. F. W. Peakes.

Mrs. P. M. Wood and her committee served refreshments, and a social hour closed a very pleasant and profitable evening. New members were added to this progressive W. C. T. U.

AUCTION WHIST

If you play auction, you probably have noticed how white and smooth some of the ladies' hands were, while yours were red and roughened from your housework. Your hands can look as nice as theirs if you will apply a little Red Cross Lotion every night. For sale at all drug stores. Take no substitute.—Advertisement.

NEW MINISTER INSTALLED

Rev. Chester A. Drummond was installed as minister of Channing Church with an impressive service last Sunday evening. Rev. George Lawrence Parker, of Newton Centre, offered the invocation, after which the choir sang "Lovely Appearance," by Gounod. Rev. Seth C. Beach, D. D., read appropriate passages of scripture, both from the Old and from the New Testaments. A hymn, written for the occasion by Dr. Beach, was then sung. Rev. Paul Revere Frothingham, D. D., who was the preacher, took for his text a passage from the Apocryphal book, Second Esdras, 14:19. "Then opened I my mouth, and behold, he reached me a full cup, which was full as it were with water, but the color of it was like fire."

REV. CHESTER A. DRUMMOND, Minister of Channing Church.

After a soprano solo by Miss Avery, "Lead Me to Light," by Ward Stephens, the act of installation was conducted by Mr. Philip Nichols, chairman of the Standing Committee of the church, the people joining in the pledge of loyalty. "On our part we now solemnly pledge ourselves, so far as in us lieth, to walk with you in unity of spirit, and in all the ways of God, revealed, or to be revealed to us." To this the minister responded: "Members of Channing Church, I accept with humble spirit the high and solemn office to which you have called me. In the spirit of Jesus and in the love of truth may we earnestly labor together for the worship of God and the service of man."

Rev. Louis Craig Cornish, secretary of the American Unitarian Association, offered the prayer of installation. Rev. H. Grant Person, D. D., in a happy vein extended the welcome to Newton, touching upon its many advantages as a place of residence and its delightful and congenial social atmosphere, and the brotherly spirit of its clergymen.

Rev. Harry Lutz in the address to the people reminded them of the obligation resting upon them no less than upon the minister for maintaining and upbuilding the church. Samuel Longfellow's hymn, "One Holy Church of God Appears," was sung, and the benediction was pronounced by the minister.

THE CITY GOVERNMENT

Many Admirable Appointments and Re-appointments by Mayor Childs

The aldermen of 1922 held a routine session on Monday evening, and would undoubtedly have made a record for the shortest session had not a recess been taken for committee meetings.

President Hollis was in the chair, and all were present save Aldermen Hickey and Jewell.

The petition of the Edison Company for four poles on Charlesbank road was unopposed.

There seemed to be some misunderstanding at the hearing on request of M. J. Norton to use a building on Adams street for a four-car garage and repair shop. Five people stood up as being in favor of the petition, and for some unknown reason persons present who opposed the matter failed to make their wishes known. Later the License Committee were authorized to give both sides a hearing.

Mayor Childs sent in a large number of appointments and recommendations.

Albert M. Lyon was named for a place on the Planning Board, in place of George R. Pulsifer, resigned, and James Kingman and Vernon B. Sweet were reappointed to the same board. Mrs. Virginia M. Hutchinson, of Newton Highlands, was named as a trustee of the Free Library, in place of Ernest G. Hapgood, resigned. James S. Cannon was named as a trustee of the Read Fund and the Eliot Memorial Fund, in place of Arthur W. Hollis, resigned. Assessor John R. Prescott was named for another three years, and George B. H. Macomber was reappointed to the same board.

The recommendation of the Mayor for an additional award of $705.75 for land taken from Harry E. Benson for the new Junior High School, that an appropriation at the rate of $2500 be made for a captain of police, that $1000 be appropriated for fire insurance at the Newton Free Library, and that a sewer be authorized in Crafts street to serve the new school house, were immediately granted.

These recommendations of the Mayor were referred to committees—for $12,000 for purchase of 246 tons of water main, and $4000 for purchase of a carload of water pipe, for sewer in Chestnut and Woodward streets, Waban; for $3500 additional for changes in plan of Junior High School (this revises a matter killed by the 1921 board) for changes in the sick leave ordinance, for a permanent clerk, and $300 for a new automobile for Buildings Commissioner; approving convenience station for Cabot Park playground, on request of Playground Commission for three, one each at Cabot, Bullocks and Boyd Parks; favoring $4500 for salary of Comptroller of Accounts, and a pension for P. E. Ellis, member of the Fire Department.

Petitions of the Edison Company for relocations on Gramere street; of the Longwood Cricket Club to move a building across Middlesex road; of the Delesdernier Food Company for a victualler license at 5 Chestnut street; of a transfer of pool table of Domenico Rizzo from 1244 Washington street, to 107 Elm street; of the Newton Motor Sales Company for an automobile license of the first class, and of the J. B. Jurad Motor Company for one of the second class; of Aug. P. White for a private garage on Reed court, and to move a building, and of the Gas Company to open certain streets to lay its mains were granted.

Leave to withdraw was granted on petitions of Samuel Bram for an automobile license of the third class, and of Frank Cavereto for a gas filling station at 107 Elm street.

May O. Brown petitioned for the covering of Hyde brook, and there were numerous applicants for soldiers' relief.

Leave to withdraw was granted on the laying out of Rustic street; for a sewer in Mague avenue, and for the laying out of Newland street. No action necessary was reported on communication of J. W. Gledhill for abatement of betterment assessment on Carlton road.

Hearings were assigned for February 9, for the use of the north road-bed of Commonwealth avenue for motor vehicles, and for the laying out of Crofton road, Waban, and hearings were assigned for February 20 on the widening of Dedham and Walnut streets, from Boylston street to the Boston line; for establishing a building line on Washington street from the Boston line to the railroad bridge at Brook street, and for curbing on Green street.

A sewer was ordered in Ward street, near Westbourne road, and betterment assessments were levied for the construction of Rossmore street, Warwick road, Victoria Circle, Morton street, Royce road and Morton road.

An invitation was received to attend the installation exercises of Newton Post 48, on Thursday evening, and the Newton Civic Council urged speedy action on passing a zoning ordinance.

Before adjournment Alderman Nichols called attention to the financial statement of the Comptroller, by which it appeared that an actual inventory of supplies in the Street Department, and a close estimate of an inventory not yet completed in the Water Department, showed a supply account of $67,000. A year ago, in the absence of any inventory, the State accountants had required the city to set aside a reserve of $183,000 to cover the possible loss, and this sum, with certain other entries, now showed an unaccounted total of $104,000 in the supply account. Alderman White, as chairman of the Finance Committee, agreed that the figures were correct, and stated that in his opinion the former methods of handling the supply accounts were "fundamentally unsound."

A LONG TERM OF SERVICE
After a continuous service of forty-eight years as a traveling salesman for the National Biscuit Co. and its predecessors, Mr. George A. Allen, of Wildwood avenue, Newtonville, has been retired by the company on a substantial pension.

This is probably the longest time that anyone has been engaged in this particular line in New England.
Mr. Allen has purchased a small place "up state," and in the early spring will take up the "simple life."

DAUGHTERS OF VETERANS

Mrs. A. E. Cunningham Tent 2, D. of V., held its installation last night in G. A. R. Hall. Mrs. Emma Dunn, department president, installed the newly elected officers with Mrs. Helen Phinny of Roxbury as Guide.

The officers were as follows:
President, Mrs. Susie R. Wetherbee; senior vice president, Miss Frances Cahill; junior vice president, Mrs.
Elsa Malloy; chaplain, Mrs. Alice G.
Beckwith; treasurer, Mrs. Mary G.
Kidder.

Members of the council, Mrs. Ida
J. Allen, Mrs. Elizabeth Sheridan, Mrs.
Matilda Caldwell; patriotic instructor,
Mrs. Leonora Kerns; secretary,
Mrs. Helen Fisher; guide, Mrs. Grace
C. Keefe; guard, Miss Alice E. Cunningham; assistant guard, Miss Nellie M. Osborne; color bearer No. 1, Mrs. Alice K. Burns; color bearer No.
2, Mrs. Etta Soule; color bearer No.
3, Mrs. Mary Barry; color bearer No.
4, Miss Frances Fitzgerald; musician,
Miss Ella A. Curtis.

After the installation a short entertainment was held in which the following took part. Remarks were made by the Adjutant of Post 62, Wilfred A.
Wetherbee; James H. Wentworth, Commander of Camp 31, S. of V.; Mrs.
Lee Stuart Wadsworth, President of the Gov. John A. Andrew Home in Newtonville, and the installing officer,
Mrs. Emma Dunn. A song was given by Mr. Walter Kerns accompanied by Miss Clara Walsh.

The president, in behalf of the members of Tent 2, presented the installing officer and guide with a gift. After the salute to the flag and the singing of America a light collation was served by the Daughters which ended the evening's entertainment.

BRAE BURN CLUB

The following entertained at the Brae Burn Club last Sunday preceding the concert: West Newton—Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Ayer, Mr. and Mrs. E.
E. Blodgett, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Carleton, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Cook, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Eaton, Mr. and Mrs.
C. R. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. H. C.
Philbrick, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Rich, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Benzaquin, and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Breck, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Masters, and Mr. and Mrs.
G. E. Crampton of Newton Centre, and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Smith of Newton-ville.

GLEE CLUBS' BANQUET

The Federated Glee Clubs of Boston held their first annual banquet at the Boston City Club last Saturday evening, with 150 men in attendance.
The Highland Glee Club of Newton is a member of this federation.

The entertainment of the evening was provided by the four clubs making up the membership of this federation, each club providing a twenty-minute stunt. The Highland Club offered Harrison Potter in a short piano recital, which was highly appreciated. Mr. James Kingman, of Newton Highlands, was in charge of the entertainment features of the evening. Mr. John F. Capron delivered a three-minute address in his capacity as president of the club, three minutes being allotted to each of the club presidents.

The federation has a treat in store for the music lovers of Boston in the shape of a concert at Symphony Hall on April 27th, when the four combined clubs of two hundred male voices will present a program of songs, with some eminent soloist as an added attraction.

The banquet was a means of drawing the men closer together, thereby creating greater solidarity of the various units.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

Nearly one hundred people attended the lecture on "Events of the Day" and afterward sat down to luncheon in the dining room and dining verandahs of the Commonwealth Country Club, Monday, January 16.

The hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Reginald K. Fessenden, of Chesnut Hill, and Mrs. James D. Henderson, of Brookline.
The lecture was given by Mrs. J.
W. Ferguson Kennedy (Barbara Bradford). She spoke of the sensational situation in the various States which hold elections next autumn; of the emergency immigration bill and the effect it had already produced; of the four power treaty and of the Newberry case.

A concert will be given at the clubhouse next Sunday afternoon, January 22, at 3:30 o'clock, for members and their guests. The artists will be Mme. Szumowska, the celebrated pianist, and Irma Seydel, the noted violinist. They will be accompanied by the Ampico.

MR. KEMPTON DEAD

Herbert Sumner Kempton, a former well known resident of Newtonville, and one-time associate editor of the Boston Herald, died last Friday morning at his apartment in the Hotel Bristol, Boston. He was born in Phillips, Me., in 1849, a son of Ezra and Mary (Haines) Kempton. The family later moved to Winthrop in that State and settled on a large farm, which since has become the homestead and gathering place for grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Ezra Kempton, the father, who was the town's leading lawyer, practised under difficulties as on three separate occasions his office was broken into and his entire collection of law books stolen, supposedly by enemies.

At the age of fourteen years the son, Herbert Kempton, left home to earn his own living. He worked first at a railroad lunch counter at Danville Junction, but soon afterward learned the Morse code and became a telegraph operator at Portland. Meanwhile Mr.
Kempton had become interested in newspaper work, and in 1871 came to Boston as a reporter on the Boston Herald. He remained with that paper for forty years, and was steadily promoted through different editorial positions to that of associate editor.

In 1911 the management of the Herald changed hands, and at this time
Mr. Kempton retired from the staff.
Since then he had written for various publications, including the Boston Evening Transcript. Mr. Kempton was especially interested in dramatic criticism, and was a founder of and active in a dramatic club of this community called The Players. Mr. Kempton was an ardent lover of nature and life in the open, and was also an enthusiastic fisherman and mountain climber. He was much interested in his library, in chess and in golf.

Mr. Kempton is survived by a widow, Mrs. Grace (Call) Kempton, originally of Newtonville, whom he married on May 29, 1883; a son, Kenneth
P. Kempton, who resides in Newton-ville; also the daughters, Miss Helen Kempton of New Bedford; Miss Rosal-yn Kempton of Milton and Mrs. Glu-yas Williams, wife of the well-known artist, and who lives in Thomaston, Me.

Funeral services were held Monday forenoon at the Church of the New Jerusalem, Highland avenue, Newton-ville, and among those attending were former associates of Mr. Kempton, especially from the Boston Herald. Two ministers officiated, Rev. John Goddard, the present pastor, and Rev. William L. Worcester, D. D., president of the New Church Theological School in Cambridge, and son of the first pastor of the Newtonville Society. The ushers were Prescott Wellman, Harold O.
Wellman and Bertram Wellman, all relatives, and Clinton B. Willey, a family friend. The body was taken to Mount Auburn Cemetery for cremation, and the ashes will later be interred in Newton Cemetery.

WHITING WILLIAMS ADDRESSES NEWTONVILLE FORUM

The first meeting of the Newtonville Community Forum held last Sunday at 4:00 P. M. in the Central Congregational Church was highly successful.
A larger audience was present at this first meeting than at any of the meetings last year. This seems to point to the steadily increasing success of the forum. The attendance of last Sunday was 360.

Prof. G. W. Harris of Simmons College presided at this meeting, Rev. C.
R. Ross delivered the invocation and Miss Gladys Avery rendered several pleasing vocal selections.

Mr. Whiting Williams' address proved most stimulating and gave rise to much enlightening discussion. The next meeting on February 12th should likewise be of special interest to everybody. Dr. Tehy Hsieh speaks on "China's Aspiration at the Washington Conference." The public is cordially invited to attend these community forums.

MAN ASPHYXIATED

Michael Maloney, 55 years of age, was killed, and several other men and women in a boarding house at 1640 Centre street, Newton Highlands, were seriously affected by illuminating gas which filled the house early Monday morning. Maloney was in his room on the third floor.

On the arrival of the police several of the inmates of the house were suffering from the fumes and a physician was called. Medical Examiner George L. West was also summoned and ascribed Maloney's death as due to accidental asphyxiation.

Maloney was employed by the Pet-tee Machine Co. at Upper Falls. He has relatives in Waltham and efforts are being made to find them.

57 YEARS IN SERVICE

Mr. Frank Houghton Ratcliffe celebrated the fifty-seventh anniversary of his employment by the Boston and Albany Railroad by working as usual on Monday. He will be seventy-seven years old on May 26th.

On January 16, 1865, Mr. Ratcliffe went into the office of the treasurer of the Western Railroad as a clerk.
The office was then located at the Railroad Exchange in Court Square, back of the old Boston Museum. The Western Railroad was combined with the Boston and Worcester Railroad in 1867, under the title of the Boston and Albany Railroad. Mr. Ratcliffe continued his service, being promoted to chief clerk, assistant treasurer, and on September 27, 1899, to treasurer of the Boston and Albany Railroad, which position he has filled ever since.

Mr. Ratcliffe was born in Faversham, Kent, England, on May 26, 1845.
He came to Boston in October, 1854, attended the old Brimmer School, and at the age of fourteen went to work for Joseph Whitney & Company, wholesale boot, shoe and leather house at 40 Pearl street.

Mr. Ratcliffe resides on Rice street, Newton Centre. He has always taken a great interest in music, and for several years was secretary of the Boylston Club. Since the foundation of Trinity parish, Newton Centre, Mr.
Ratcliffe has served as vestryman, junior warden, and senior warden, retiring from that service in 1904. He is in the best of health, and attends to his duties regularly.

READ FUND LECTURE

Leroy Jeffers, F. R. G. S., will give the next lecture in the Read Fund course next Monday evening at the Hunnewell Assembly Hall. He will speak on the National Wonders of the United States and Canada. Mr. Jeffers has over 200 superbly colored slides, none of which are ordinary travel views of familiar points. They include the exceptionally beautiful and wonderful scenic features of our National Parks and Monuments, and of our little known mountain and canyon scenery, much of which has been seen as yet only by the mountaineer and the explorer. Unique views are shown of our finest waterfalls, with occasional glimpses of bird and animal life, of tree and flower.

Among the regions described and illustrated are the following: North Shore of Massachusetts with the magnificent surf of its winter storms. The Mammoth Cave, and the newly discovered Great Onyx Cave of Kentucky. The Rocky Mountain National Park, Colorado. Zion Canyon and the remarkable, almost unknown, Kolab Plateau of southwestern Utah. The Grand Canyon of the Colorado, many of whose northern and southern points have been visited as well as its trails to the river. The recently discovered Temple of the Gods in the Sevier National Forest, Utah. In the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the wonders of the Yosemite National Park, the Kings and Kern River Canyons are shown. The Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone. The Mount Ranier National Park with an ascent of our greatest glacier-hung mountain.

Many slides illustrate the finest scenery of the Canadian Rockies, including a expedition to Mt. Assiniboine, the beauty spots of the Rocky Mountains National Park, and of the Yoho Park. The Selkirk mountains of British Columbia. The Mount Robson Park with exploration in the vicinity of the highest mountain in Canada, etc.

JAKEMAN-ROCKEFELLER

Last Saturday, Miss Wanda H. Rockefeller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller of Melrose street, Auburndale, became the bride of Mr. Brooks F. Jakeman of Providence, R. I. The ceremony took place at the Methodist Church, the Rev. Earl E. Harper officiating.

The bride wore a simple gown of georgette crepe and silk lace with a veil. The maid of honor, Miss Doris E. Mann of Auburndale, wore a gown of pale pink crepe meteor with silver lace.

The best man was Mr. Adelbert Jakeman of Wakefield, Mass., and the ushers were Raymond Bradley, and Donald Eldredge, both of Winchester.

A reception was held in the church parlors, which were tastefully decorated for the occasion, immediately following the ceremony.

After March 1st, Mr. and Mrs. Jakeman are to make their home in Providence.

Miss Rockefeller is a graduate of the Boston School of Physical Education, and, during the war, was affiliated with the Y. W. C. A. in Brockton. Recently she has been teaching in Howard Seminary, West Bridgewater.

Mr. Jakeman is a graduate of the Mass. Agricultural College, where he was very active in athletics, and was Vice-President of his class, and a member of the Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity.

Many guests were present from Brockton, Winchester, Chelsea, Brookline, Boston, Newton, and the surrounding suburbs.

OBSERVES 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. Joseph L. Foster of Lake avenue, Newton Centre, on Monday observed the 50th anniversary of his connection with the Webster and Atlas National Bank. Fellow officers and employees presented him with a handsome silver tray. When he came to his office Mr. Foster found a bouquet of 50 American Beauty roses, given him by the employees and officers.

The directors of the bank adopted a resolution commending Mr. Foster for his long and faithful service and also gave him a substantial token of their appreciation. Mr. Foster received many friends during the day.

In 1872 Mr. Foster was elected messenger in the old Atlas National Bank, when he was 18 years old. In 1876 the bank moved from the corner of Kilby and Doane streets to Washington and Court streets where it now is. The Webster and Atlas banks joined in 1904.

At first Mr. Foster served as messenger and was then promoted to receiving teller and then to paying teller. In 1896 he became cashier. Two years ago he was made a vice president in addition to his duties as cashier.

WILBUR THEATRE—"Red Pepper," the musical comedy relish with the ever-popular McIntyre and Heath, has caught the popular fancy of the town and there has been an unbroken line of ticket purchasers at the box office window of the Wilbur Theatre all the past week. The Messrs. Shubert feel that they are presenting these two clever blackface artists, McIntyre and Heath, in the funniest musical comedy yet provided for their mirthmaking.

"Red Pepper" is the name of a race horse. When it is explained that the scenes are race tracks and resorts in Havana, Arizona and Georgia, and that the cast is made up of horse owners, actresses and sports, it will be easy to obtain some idea of the "pep" in this latest McIntyre and Heath laughing success.

"Red Pepper" is elaborately staged in two acts and seven scenes. The book presents the joint work of Edgar Smith and Emily M. Young, while Howard Rogers and Owen Murphy supplied the lyrics. The musical score was written by Albert Gumble and Owen Murphy.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NEWS

The details of the reorganization plan of the Newton Chamber of Commerce are being worked out by the sub-committee of ten appointed from the general reorganization committee, and material progress has already been made. This includes the appointment of other sub-committees, and the adoption of definite plans for the development of a Chamber that will be especially adapted to meet the needs of Newton, as well as to give various types of specialized service to its members.

The initial meeting of this committee of ten, which includes Mayor Edwin O. Childs, President John T. Burns, and first Vice-President Joseph B. Jamieson of the Chamber, Arthur W. Hollis, James Kingman, George J. Martin, William H. Rice, Leon B. Rogers, Thomas J. Sullivan, and Rupert C. Thompson, was held on January 12. All members were present, with the secretary of the Chamber, Mr. Thompson was elected chairman.

It was voted to divide the general activities of the Chamber into four sub-divisions—civic, mercantile, industrial, and building and development—each to be in charge of a vice-president. Also, that the board of directors will include the president, the four vice-presidents, the treasurer, and one representative from each of the eleven villages of the city. This gives a board of 17 members, with the president and four vice-presidents constituting the executive committee.

It was voted to refer several matters to the new board of directors, such as budget and finance, membership campaign, and other questions brought up, it being generally agreed by this committee that the new officers should be permitted as far as possible to determine their own policies and the manner in which they should be applied and carried out.

President Burns, Chairman Thompson of the committee, and the secretary of the Chamber were appointed a committee to revise the by-laws to conform to the new working plan and structure of the Chamber, notice of this proposed revision to be given at the next meeting of the Chamber.

Arthur W. Hollis, George J. Martin and Leon B. Rogers were appointed a sub-committee to determine a program of work for the Chamber. It was voted to change the date of the January meeting of the Chamber to Tuesday, January 31, and to place this meeting in charge of the new "Program Committee."

To conform to the present by-laws and meet the requirement that notice be given of proposed changes or amendments at a regular meeting preceding the presentation of revised or amended by-laws for adoption, it was voted to hold a meeting in February for the adoption of the new by-laws, the nomination and election of officers, and the disposition of other business not completed at the January meeting.

Chairman Thompson was authorized to appoint a nominating committee, to report at that time. The following have been appointed: William T. Halliday, Charles E. Hatfield, James Kingman, Horace W. Orr and William H. Rice.

While having no authority to take formal action in behalf of the Chamber in regard to the proposed plan of the Boston Elevated to establish the Braves Field Terminal, which will affect all Newton citizens coming from Boston by trolley, the general sub-committee discussed the matter in considerable detail and suggested to the secretary that he ascertain the general sentiment of the Chamber and attend the hearing of the Public Utilities Commission on Tuesday of this week. The continuance of that hearing until February 14 now provides an opportunity for this matter to be considered by the entire membership of the Chamber at its meeting on January 31.

STONE INSTITUTE AND NEWTON HOME FOR AGED PEOPLE

OFFICERS INSTALLED

On Thursday evening, January 12th, the officers of Newton Lodge, No. 92, I. O. O. F., were installed by John E. Greene, district deputy grand master, and suite, from Quincy. The following are the officers for the year 1922: Roy C. Buck, noble grand; Ellwood C. Barker, vice noble grand; Harvey C. Wood, recording secretary; Wilber A. Paine, financial secretary; Frank E. Hunter, treasurer; William E. Potter, warden; Fred A. Miller, conductor; Arthur C. Smith, chaplain; F. Henry Brewer, R. S. S.; George W. Harvey, L. S. S.; Henry K. Buck, R. S. N. G.; William T. Campbell, L. S. N. G.; Ralph F. Card, R. S. V. G.; Peter Capodanno, L. S. V. G.; Henry J. Gammons, I. G.; Archie A. Wilson, O. G.

"Dog Love" leaves a thought in the mind to turn over and deliberate on, attaining a purpose above that of entertaining. It has to do with the often overplayed affection for canines, the breaking up of homes through too great love for pets. "When I see a dog on one end of a chain and a human on the other end, I sometimes wonder which is the more intelligent," says Hodge.

EDITORIAL

Mayor Childs has made most excellent appointments in the new names submitted this week to the aldermen for confirmation in several city offices, and his reappointments of Mr. John R. Prescott as assessor, Mr. George B. H. Macomber as a member of the Board of Appeal, and of Messrs. James Kingman and Vernon B. Swett as members of the Planning Board, are equally to be commended. His choice of Mr. Albert M. Lyon as a member of the Planning Board is not only a graceful courtesy to a political opponent, but it gives to the city the benefit of the advice and influence of a citizen who would do honor to any office. In his selection of Mrs. Virginia M. Hutchinson as a trustee of the Newton Free Library, the Mayor takes a plank from the platform of Mr. Rogers, and for the first time in the history of the city a woman is placed on one of its important boards. Mrs. Hutchinson will make a valuable city official. Mr. James S. Cannon, who becomes a trustee of the Read Fund and Eliot Memorial Fund, should also make good in that office, as he is both able and well informed. The Mayor and the city alike are to be congratulated on all these appointments.

With a reduction of two millions in the State tax, notwithstanding an increase for a State election costing $175,000, and a half million dollars more for educational reimbursements to cities and towns, Governor Cox has certainly made a ten-strike with his budget message. His suggestion that the cost of our State highways should also be met by special revenue from persons who use them, will also be carried into effect, materially reduce the sum of general taxation. The Governor fully deserves the commendation of the entire Commonwealth for his stewardship during the past year, and arouse high hopes for an excellent and economical administration for they ear 1922.

The attention of our readers is called to the very pertinent quotation of the words of Governor Cox in regard to the recent Quincy House raid. The Governor says:

"The prohibition law has been honored altogether too much in the breach rather than in the observance. If public sentiment tolerates any considerable extent of the open violation of the prohibition law it will not be long before other laws which are not approved by individuals will be violated. It is not enough to believe in abstract law. We must obey, in spirit and in act, each concrete law. A good citizen will keep the prohibition law without dissimulation."

Our city authorities should watch with some interest the outcome of suits brought by the national banks of this State to recover taxes which the banks claim to have been illegally assessed against them. In brief, the contention of the banks is, that instead of being assessed on the market value of the stock, they should be assessed under the income tax law. With the possibility that our present receipts of $120,000 will drop to about $40,000 if the banks win their case, the taxpayers of Newton have a decided interest in the matter.

Two residents of Newton Centre observe this week a half century or more of consecutive employment with one concern, Mr. F. H. Ratcliffe having been for 57 years with the Boston & Albany Railroad, and Mr. Foster for 50 years with the Webster & Atlas Bank of Boston. These gentlemen, the firms who employ them and the city of Newton should be equally proud of such records. They prove that Newton citizenship is of the solid, substantial sort, and that honest, conscientious work is still being done in this world.

We are glad to note Alderman White's characterization of present methods of handling the supply accounts of the city as "fundamentally unsound." Possibly the alderman has sufficient influence with the administration to have this matter put on a business-like basis. Incidentally, it was a wise move, politically, to delay the inventory of city supplies until after the recent city election. An unaccounted sum of $104,000 wouldn't have looked pretty in a mayoralty campaign.

BIGELOW NOTES

The school orchestra resumed its rehearsals this week, Mr. Chase conducting.

Bigelow defeated Peirce in the first game of the Grammar School Hockey League by a score of 1-0. The game was fast and interesting, and the result was in doubt up to the final whistle. "June" Stubbs scored the only point of the game in the second period on a pass from Francis Monahan. Captain Macpherson played well for Bigelow. Tedesco was the best player for Peirce.

Bigelow plays Mason Saturday morning in another league game.

The record attendance for the past four weeks was made by Miss Dyer's division of Eighth, 96.5 per cent. Miss Searle's Seventh was a close second, with an average of 95.9 per cent.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Bridgman observed their golden wedding anniversary on Wednesday evening with a reception to their intimate friends at their home on Newtonville avenue, Newtonville. Mr. and Mrs. Bridgman were assisted in receiving, by their niece, Miss Tucker.

Mr. and Mrs. Bridgman (Adelaide Swallow) were married in Boston on January 18, 1872, but have resided all their married life in Newtonville. It is an interesting fact that the parents of both Mr. and Mrs. Bridgman, also observed their golden wedding anniversaries, making three in the family.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The chief feature of the sessions of the General Court this week was the budget message of Governor Cox, and the welcome news that the State tax can be reduced two million dollars, thus saving the city of Newton about $20,000 from the cost of last year. Governor Cox has certainly made good on his promise of a year ago, for not only is the State tax reduced, but something like four millions more can be saved on the elimination of other forms of taxes. The Governor also makes a new and thoughtful suggestion that the great and constantly increasing burden of our good roads should be met by special revenues upon individuals who use them, indicating that His Excellency evidently agrees with the recommendation of the Webster Commission for a tax on gasoline.

The time limit for new business expired at 5 P. M. last Saturday, and there was the usual flood of petitions and bills, the total being somewhat larger than last year. The committees are getting right down to work, however, and a number of hearings were held this week.

Representative Rice of this city was in the limelight with his bill to enable the Governor and Council to remove the mayor of Boston from office. Mr. Rice later filed another bill to enable the Governor and Council to remove the mayor of any city from office. It is a curious fact that while almost every elected officer in the Commonwealth can be either impeached or removed from office by some tribunal, the mayor of a city cannot be reached, no matter how much he abuses his position of trust. There was considerable opposition on Tuesday to the bill to enable the farmers to sell fruit and vegetables on Sundays to the thousands of motorists who drive out into the country. Under present conditions each sale made on Sunday is a violation of the law. The bill was opposed by the Lord's Day League and similar organizations.

The hearing before the Public Utilities Commission on the proposed loop terminal for Newton and Lake street cars at Braves Field was postponed by agreement of counsel on both sides, to February 14th. This will enable the city and State authorities to give the matter the careful study it deserves.

J. C. BRIMBLECOM.

WEST NEWTON DAY NURSERY AND NEIGHBORHOOD HOUSE

The annual meeting of the West Newton Day Nursery, Inc., Neighborhood House, was held at the Neighborhood House on Tuesday afternoon. The officers for the following year were elected. President, Mrs. Fred S. Sawyer; secretary, Mrs. Ernest Gile, and treasurer, Mrs. George P. Hatch. It was unusually well attended, and an appreciative interest was shown in this work that is surely encouraging. The reports of the House were most interesting and demonstrated how valuable this work has proved to be in the community, and what a refuge and strength it is to the neighborhood.

Miss Willis, of Lincoln House, spoke on the great advantages of a Neighborhood House, and also emphasized the recreational side of the work as being a necessary and an important part.

Tea was served later and music by members of the Music School was a pleasing part of a thoroughly enjoyable and well worth while afternoon.

A fire discovered early Friday morning in Stevens Block, Lincoln street, caused a damage to the building, estimated at $7000 at least. The fire, it is believed, was caused by a cigarette dropped on the floor at a club meeting in Lincoln Hall the preceding night. The hall is on the third floor. The fire worked its way through to the second story, completely gutting the floor before gotten under control. The stores of J. J. Burke, Columbia Shoe Shop, G. A. Coley and S. Nicola, all situated on the ground floor, were considerably damaged by smoke and water. The dental office of Dr. Bruce M. Wolff suffered much from smoke and water. The building is owned by Mrs. Anna Cline.

Arthur Distanella and William Dondero, both of East Boston, appealed sentences of two years each given them in the Municipal Court of Boston Saturday on charges of stealing and burning an auto belonging to Mrs. Mary Barrows of Newton Highlands. Dondero admitted he took the car from Park square. He said that Thomas H. Woodman of Boston paid him $50 to steal and burn the car in order that the insurance might be collected. Mr. Woodman denied any knowledge of the theft or burning of the car. Distanella denied he had anything to do with stealing of the car. He said Dondero met him in East Boston and asked him to take a ride. He said Dondero told him he was to get $50 for burning the car. Distanella said he threw gasoline into the car and that it was soon ablaze.

A brief service was held at his late residence on Monday, Rev. Charles R. Ross officiating, and a Masonic service was held at Wellfleet. The burial was in Brookline.

—Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Ruby MacDonald, of 58 Highland avenue, to Mr. Alfred George Moxley, of Boston, formerly of England. Miss MacDonald is one of the daughters of Mrs. Sarah MacDonald and the late Donald MacDonald, the latter an artist of much ability and recalled as a pioneer in the manufacturing of memorial stained glass windows. Miss MacDonald is a member of the executive committee of the Waban City Club and has an unusually extensive acquaintance. She is well known in art circles and has been associated in Boston with her sister, Miss Flora MacDonald, in the interior decorating business.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

The modern popular song came in for its share of condemnation at the meeting of the executive board of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs on Monday morning, and the delegates quite agreed that it was all down to the fact that the songs were served when they listened to the words of some of them read by Mrs. Russell T. Hatch, of the music department of the State Federation, for they were disgusting, vile, unspeakable. Mrs. Hatch hit out from the shoulder in no uncertain terms at the harm that is being wrought, in part unconsciously, by the persistent singing of these trash. Social workers, she said, are everywhere raising a protest, for they who see to the bottom of things know the insidious poison which these songs are putting into the minds of youth today. She enjoined the women present to go home and look over the songs upon their own pianos, particularly if they had young people in their homes, for she was sure many of them would be shocked at what they found. Mrs. Hatch told of watching near the music counter of one of the prominent cheap stores to see what the young men were buying, and of how many calls there were for some of the trash, which she had read to her audience. The music departments of the Federations of the country are taking the matter up, and when once public opinion is aroused to condition, Mrs. Hatch feels that some of this filth will be suppressed. She believes that in this way more surely than in any other, will the evil be overcome. Nothing can be accomplished by direct legislation until public opinion is behind it. Let Newton mothers generally look into the songs their children are singing. Let us begin at home in our house cleaning.

Under a misapprehension it was stated last week in this department that the Budget bill had been passed. This is not the case. It has merely been reported to Congress by the committee. Hence work for its amendment to include an appropriation for the purchase of forest land in the Appalachian mountains is still in order.

State Federation

Legislative matters are taking precedence in Federation activities the coming week. Conferences are announced as follows:

Monday, January 23, 10.30 A. M. All day at Lowell, with the Middlesex Woman's Club.

Wednesday, January 25, 2.30 P. M. At Danvers for Fifth district.

Thursday, January 26, 10.30 A. M. All day at Braintree, with the Philermians.

Friday, January 27, 2.30 P. M. At Reading for Fourth district.

Tuesday, January 24, 10.30 A. M. All-day Mothercraft and Civics conference at Medford. Mothercraft session in the morning, when Mrs. Henry Coolidge Mulligan will give an illustrated lecture.

Afternoon session under the Civics department. Speakers: Mrs. Isabelle D. MacLean, City Supervisor of Americanization; Miss Agnes Hassett, "Investments and Finance"; Mrs. Wallace P. Hood, on "New Volunteer Service."

Newton Federation

Wednesday, February 15, 2.30 P. M. The mid-winter meeting will be held at the Hunnewell Club, Newton. Hon. B. Loring Young and Robert A. Woods will give addresses along exceedingly interesting lines touching legislative problems and civic betterment. The Newton Community Club chorus will furnish a musical program.

The Education Committee of the Newton Federation will meet on Monday, January 23, at 10.15 A. M., at the home of the chairman, Mrs. B. W.

Public Lecture

Attention is called to the lecture on Sunday, January 22, at 8 o'clock, in the Boston Public Library, by John Sturgis Codman, on "Vivisection and the Public Conscience." This is an extra in the Public Library course, and is a reply to Ernest Harold Baynes on "The Truth About Vivisection." Admission free. No tickets required.

Local Announcements

Tomorrow afternoon Mrs. F. S. Keith, representing the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club, when the study of King Henry VI, Part III, will be begun.

On January 23, the Monday Club of Newton Highlands will meet with Mrs. Florence E. Foster, 1068 Walnut street. Mr. C. S. Luitwiler will give impressions of Mexico, and Mrs. Miller will speak of recent short stories.

The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will meet on January 23, with Mrs. Sanford E. Thompson. Mrs. H. A. Miller is in charge. A one-act play will be read.

The Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will hold its annual meeting on Monday, January 23rd, with Mrs. Joseph A. McDonald, 14 Central terrace, Auburndale, when the subject for next year's study will be decided upon.

Next Monday, January 23rd, Elizabeth F. Fisher will give an illustrated lecture, "The Personality of Mountains," before the Waban Woman's Club.

Tuesday, January 24, the Auburndale Review Club will meet with Mrs. Amos R. Wells of Williston road. Some of the possessions of Great Britain will be considered, Mrs. R. O. Walter taking Newfoundland and Vancouver; Mrs. W. A. Leighton, Nova Scotia and Cape Breton; Mrs. George P. Knapp, Malta, Cyprus and St. Helena.

Mrs. Grace M. Poole lectures on current events before the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon, January 24th.

On Wednesday morning the Newton Social Science Club will hold a guest meeting in Grace Church parish house. Miss Mary Deborgy, a former resident of Petrograd, will be the speaker.

Much curiosity is being aroused among the members of the Newton Community Club relative to the program for the meeting of the club on Thursday, January 26, which is in charge of the Home Economics Committee. The chairman, Mrs. C. G. Francis, hints that it will be well to be on hand early, for there is no knowing when the features will be staged, and no one can afford to miss any of them. "Fashion, Style and Art in Dress" is the subject of Miss Maude Evelyn Bradley's talk.

The annual bridge and whist party of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, for the benefit of the scholarship fund, will be held at the Brae Burn Country Club on Friday, January 27th, at 2.30. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Allan H. MacCaffray, chairman, and from the members of the committee, Mrs. George W. St. Amant, Auburndale; Mrs. James D. Bancroft, West Newton; Mrs. Charles L. Anderson, and Mrs. Charles E. Quinn, Newton Centre.

Mrs. Claude U. Gilson will begin her second series of lectures upon current events before the Community Service Club of West Newton, on Friday, January 27, in the Congregational Church parish house.

Local Happenings

Mr. Daniel J. Gallagher gave an interesting talk before the Woman's Club of Newton Upper Falls on Monday evening, in which he compared the women of Roman times with those of today, and pointed out that the Roman women had many of the same struggles and privations which we have had, and that they were just as interested in the things of their times as we are in the twentieth century.

Dr. George H. Blakeslee, who had been engaged as the speaker for the meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday, was obliged to cancel his appointment on account of his duties on the advisory board of the Washington Conference. His place was taken by George A. Sweetser of Boston, who spoke on "The Relations of the United States and Japan." His point of view is that of the optimist, and the audience were much pleased with the lecture. The club has voted to increase its membership limit from 400 to 450, and has been fortunate in raising its full quota in the sale of Christmas seals for the health work in the city.

On Saturday afternoon the children of Waban were the guests of the Woman's Club at their annual "party" at the clubhouse. A Tom Thumb Wedding was presented under the direction of Mrs. J. Earle Parker. The audience was so enthusiastic that plans are being made to repeat the performance. Ice cream and cake were served to the bridal party, and the children in the audience received ice cream cones.

At the regular meeting of the Social Science Club on Wednesday, January 18, Mrs. Everett E. Kent read a most interesting paper on Nicholas II, the last in the series of programs on Russia.

Nicholas came to the throne in 1894. He had been carefully educated by his father, Alexander III, and was a man of generous impulses, simple and kindly in his home and married life, and possessing real charm and a sense of humor, but he was a weakling and never at ease with persons of superior intelligence.

His chief minister, Count Witte, was a great financier, established the gold standard, and brought Russia out of a condition of bankruptcy. He realized the seriousness of the condition of the peasantry—that the problem was most vital, and suggested the formation of a commission to study it, but his letter to the Czar on the subject was never answered.

Nicholas' treatment of the Jews was most severe—they were forced to live in the so-called "pales of settlement," and many massacres or pogroms occurred during his reign.

Mrs. Kent outlined the causes which led up to the Russo-Japanese war, until in January, 1904, the Japanese attacked the Russian squadron in the harbor of Port Arthur without warning. The war was most unpopular in Russia, and disaster followed disaster. When Count Witte returned from the peace conference arranged at Portsmouth by President Roosevelt, he found Russia in revolution.

The first and second Dumas, finally conceded, lasted only two months each, and the third was merely a consultative body.

The career of the monk Rasputin was sketched by Mrs. Kent—a man of extraordinary personal magnetism, who exercised great influence over the Czarina.

In 1917, when economic and military conditions in Russia were alarming in the extreme, the Czar abdicated in favor of his brother, the Grand Duke Michael. The royal family was sent to Tobolsk in Siberia, and later, when the Bolsheviks had succeeded the Kerensky government, to Ekaterinburg, where early in 1920 they were assassinated.

Newton Federation

At the meeting of the executive board of the Newton Federation on Monday morning it was announced that about $600 has been raised for the Philanthropic Fund through the voluntary contributions of the club women. Several clubs desired an extension of time in which to complete their quota, which was gladly granted. The chairman of Conservation reported that the uses of and substitutes for wood will be the general topic for study at the meetings of her committee, and that anyone is welcome. The next meeting will be on January 30. The present needs of the city's trees was emphasized, for they must have scientific treatment in order to be saved. Mrs. B. W. Godsoe, chairman of Education, announced that to date $4201.11 has been realized from the sale of Christmas seals, with more to come. She also reported that the petition sent by the Federation to the Mayor and the Board of Aldermen had resulted in the appropriation of $800 towards additional lighting facilities in certain of the schools, and some assurance that the new schools will receive attention in the near future.

Mrs. Abbot Rice, chairman of legislative matters, announced that the billboards of Newton are soon to be limited in size and restrictions placed upon their position, a very welcome announcement, directly due to the efforts of the women. Mrs. Rice brought up the question of compulsory insurance against automobile accidents, and the desirability of legislative action similar to that of the employers' liability act. The bills selected by the State Federation for the particular attention and work of the club women were outlined.

Mrs. Joseph N. Draper, chairman of Home Economics, hespoke interest in the Home Economics work of the Middlesex County Farm Bureau. After some discussion of financial matters and a vote authorizing the president to appoint a temporary Finance Committee to consider appropriations from the Philanthropic Fund, it was voted to give the Welfare Bureau $300 immediately, with the hope of increasing it later. The question of creating a permanent Finance Committee was referred to the Emergency Committee, consisting of the president and four other officers.

Mrs. Russell T. Hatch, of the music department of the State Federation, gave an illuminating talk upon the subject of the modern popular song, reference to which is made at the head of this column.

Legislative Conference

By invitation of the Auburndale Woman's Club, the Legislative department of the State Federation held a conference in the Methodist parish house on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Wilbur D. Gilpatrick, president of the hostess club, welcomed the representatives and then turned the meeting over to the chairman, Mrs. Charles May, who outlined the three State bills which the Federation will work for this year: That for State control of penal institutions, or a unification of the penal system of the State; for a new State prison, and for the State's acceptance of the Sheppard-Towner maternity act.

Mrs. Ropes, first vice-president of the Massachusetts W. C. T. U., spoke on behalf of a resolution presented to the Legislature asking that laws be enacted in Massachusetts in harmony with the 18th amendment. All the States of the Union except Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Maryland and California, have fallen into line. Mrs. Ropes asked the women to do all in their power to secure the enactment of an enforcement law. She expressed the opinion that the men who have formed an organization to repeal the 18th amendment stand in the same class as the undesirable aliens whom we are trying to exclude from this country as dangerous to the country's safety.

Mrs. Walter Perham, director for the Sixth district, brought greetings from the Federation, and suggested that unless a club is alive to the needs of her community and also to those outside of her community that club will surely die.

Dr. Lakeman, of the State division of hygiene, spoke on behalf of the bill for the acceptance of the Sheppard-Towner Maternity act. She stated that there are today as many mothers lost in child birth, and as many babies die in the first month, as there did twenty years ago. Certain cities have made some headway, but in rural communities almost SHUBERT THEATRE—"Irene" continues its record-breaking success at the Shubert Theatre, Boston, where it will enter on the second month of its return engagement next Monday, January 23.

"Once in a lifetime a girl with prima donna aspirations meets the opportunity to play in a big hit like 'Irene' and that is why I am more determined than ever to reach the grand opera stage."

This is the very practical viewpoint of Path Harrald, the little prima donna with the big voice, who is playing the title role in the record-breaking musical comedy at the Shubert Theatre, Boston.

"You see, it's just like this: 'Irene' is so popular simply for the reason that its story is intensely human, the very essence of everyday comedy; and its music is extremely tuneful."

nothing has been done. Through acceptance of this act $72,000 will be available for the work the first year. Her division already is sending out monthly letters to expectant mothers, and quotations from replies were read showing great appreciation of the assistance which has been received in this way. From 2200 to 2300 have been reached in this way, but they would like to reach 50,000. Ignorance, she said, is the most common cause for mortality at this time. Should the money be available the division plans to put in a corps of nurses, probably eight, one for each health district of the State, who can reach all cases and build up clinics, and put the mothers in the care of physicians and nurses. The division also wishes to make a further study into the causes, and this cannot be done without financial aid. She stated that the organization of physicians have withdrawn open opposition to the measure.

Interest in the conference centered around the bill for State control. Robert Kelso, executive secretary of the Council of Social Agencies, spoke in favor, and County Commissioner Wardwell of Middlesex in opposition. Mr. Kelso treated the matter on such broad lines that Mr. Wardwell had little to bring in opposition, so that the firework of last year's meeting were entirely lacking. Mr. Kelso stated that in the treatment of the law breakers there must be some unification of the system, the question of the punishment of crime cannot be left to the local government alone; it must be a broad appeal to the whole jurisdiction of the State. Massachusetts is in the Middle Ages in its dealings with offenders, and its system must be brought up to present day methods. We have got to revise our approach against the offenders by seeing that the second and third offence shall not happen. We must treat them according to their condition rather than according to their conduct. There must be a classification of inmates; we must break away from the covering of buildings and let in God's sunshine, and make the offender work his passage. The speaker admitted that in many of the counties the work is well done, but that others must be brought up to the standard, and this can only be accomplished through a unification of the system.

Mr. Wardwell said he had no issue with his opponent, generally speaking. That there is always a chance to improve conditions, and that the county is always ready to meet the State. He felt that the State officials haven't always dealt quite squarely with them.

The next bill, House 93, for a new State prison, was spoken of by Mr. Kelso. The need was made manifest in no uncertain terms, for the present building was built in 1894, of a construction similar to that of Bunker Hill, monument, with the cells so arranged that never a ray of sunlight reaches them.

Mrs. McDaniel, of the Massachusetts League of Women Voters, spoke on behalf of the Federal bill, known as the Curtis bill, or the married women's citizenship bill. At present the American woman who marries an alien loses her citizenship, while the alien woman becomes a citizen when her husband has become naturalized. The proposed bill aims to make the provisions for both American and alien women the same. It has passed the Senate and is now in the House.

Following the conference the hostess club entertained the delegates with tea and a social hour.

NEWTON CEMETERY CORPORATION—ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Newton Cemetery Corporation will be held at the office of the corporation in the Administration Building, Wednesday, February 1, 1922, at 4 o'clock P. M., for the election of trustees and the transaction of any other business that may legally come before the meeting.

JAMES B. MELCHER, Clerk.
Newton Centre, January 17, 1922.

No. 8482.
Commonwealth of Massachusetts, LAND COURT.

To the Old Colony Trust Company, Trustee, a duly existing corporation having an usual place of business in Boston, in the County of Suffolk and said Commonwealth; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Daniel F. Collins, of Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, to register and confirm his title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Newton, bounded and described as follows:

Northerly by the curve at the junction of Varick Road and Beacon Street, one hundred seventy-three and 47/100 (173.47) feet; Southeasterly by land of the Old Colony Trust Co., Tr., one hundred thirty and 58/100 (130.58) feet; and Southwesterly by land of said Old Colony Trust Co., Tr., one hundred six and 21/100 (106.21) feet.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the thirtieth day of February, A. D. 1922, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, the twelfth day of January, in the year nineteen hundred and twenty-two.

Attest with Seal of said Court,
(Seal) CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder.

BOY SCOUTS

The Annual Commissioned Officers' Banquet of Norumbega Council was held Thursday, January 12, at the Y. M. C. A. The evening was one of much interest and proved to be very successful. After a fine dinner, Scout Executive Sharratt, acting as Toastmaster, introduced President James A. Stafford of the Council who expressed his pleasure in being present and in meeting such a fine group of men who are devoting volunteer service for the good of the community's boys. Following Mr. Stafford's remarks, Commissioner Benbow gave a number of interesting announcements regarding the work of the Council in its relationship to the Troop. Hon. Commissioner Irwin, who for a number of years guided the Scout ship, offered his congratulations for the fine showing Scouting was making at the present time, and expressed his desire to still be of assistance in any way that he could be used. Deputy Commissioners Everett W. Varney, chairman of the Court of Honor, Walter L. Putnam, Deputy for Waterbury, William O. Kenney, Deputy of West, and Lewis E. Moore, Deputy for North Newton were introduced and added to the pleasure of the occasion by a few remarks. Assistant Deputy Irvington, attached to the Court of Honor, and also chairman of the Standardization Committee, spoke of the work he was endeavoring to do, and also introduced the subject of "The Eagles," an organization for the younger boys which he is directing so successfully in Auburn. Following these addresses all the Scoutmasters of Norumbega present were called upon to make two-minute speeches describing the activity of their troops and plans for the future, and then to introduce to the gathering their assistants. Scoutmasters present were: Richard W. Cotton, Troop 1, Newtonville; E. C. Hillard, Troop 2, Auburndale; Frank E. Lichtenthaler, Troop 4, Newton Highlands; Marshall I. Stone, Troop 5, Newton Centre; Everett E. Forknall, Troop 6, Nonantum; Harland D. Crowell, Troop 7, West Newton; John M. Woodbridge, Troop 11, Newton Corner; Rev. A. Virgess Hill, Troop 12, West Newton; Rev. H. M. B. Ogilby, Troop 2, Watertown; Ralph L. Perry, Troop 4, Watertown; Rev. Carl M. Gates, Troop 2, Wellesley Hills.

The speaker of the evening, Dr. W. L. Smith, Scout Executive of Brockton was introduced and gave an interesting version of the remarkable stories of wild hunting in South Africa.

It was a fine meeting and the Commissioned Officers' Association is planning through the Executive to hold a meeting such as this each month.

Scout Swimming Meet
The next Swimming Meet of Boy Scouts will be held next Thursday evening at 7 o'clock sharp. All entries should be sent to Headquarters by Wednesday, January 25.

A number of Troops are taking hikes, how about your Troop?

The following new members were received at the rehearsal of the Newton Choral society last Tuesday night:—Mr. Charles L. Frail, Mr. Thomas Kellar, Miss C. Marion Kellar, Mrs. Albert E. Leighton, West Newton; Mrs. W. G. Hannigan, Mrs. Genevieve B. Crawford, Mrs. Florence A. Rose, Newton; Miss Edith W. Peakes, Miss Doris G. Martin, Miss M. Emeline Wishart, Newtonville; Miss Florence E. Emery, North Cambridge.

New members can still join to take part in the spring concert. More orchestra players are desired. Rehearsals each Tuesday night at Central Church, Newtonville, at 7.30 P. M.

The conductor, Mr. William Lester Bates, spoke of the advantage that comes to a society in taking up works which require considerable study. He had seen a considerable number of choral societies live and die, he said, and when they soon disappear it is because they sing too easy things that can be learned in a very few rehearsals. He believes this society would live and become a permanent feature of Newton life, because the members were interested to take up a finer type of music. He also expressed the feeling that the society is purely a community institution, working for the public good and to provide fine music for Newton and give its citizens and young people the advantages of musical training, it ought to be favored by the city government with the use of some of the public buildings.

ABOUT THE MOTHER IN "OVER THE HILL"

With an ambition to be the greatest mother in the world rather than the greatest actress, Mrs. Mary Carr, the charming artist who essays the role of Ma Benton in the William Fox film presentation "Over the Hill," says that for her, the playing of such a part is merely transferring her household duties from the home to the screen. Six little Carrs and the father, William C. Carr, are in that happy home, and four of the children acted with their mother in "Over the Hill," which will be shown at The Newton Opera House next week. "I have three boys and three girls," Mrs. Carr explains, "and I am determined to bring up three gentlemen and three ladies. If I accomplish this, then I am sure my fondest ambition will have been realized. At least six little young women and young men should make any woman feel that she had been a success as a mother."

Mrs. Carr, under her maiden name of Mary Kennevan, began her stage career in a stock company in her home town of Philadelphia, in 1897. One of her earliest engagements was in ingenue parts in stock with Valerie Burgess. Later she appeared as Louise in "The Two Orphans" and as Carey in "Alabama." After her marriage and a brief service in pictures, when the babies began arriving she decided to give all her time to her home. "But I went back to pictures whenever I got the chance," she explains, "and was always happiest when playing mother roles. I had such roles in 'The Flames of Johanna,' 'The Light of Dusk,' 'The Barrier,' 'Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch,' and 'The Lion and the Mouse,' but enjoyed none of them half so much as my latest picture, 'Over the Hill,' under the direction of William Fox.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake

High Schools

On January 14th the hockey team met its first real setback of the year by the Andover team, 5 to 0, at the Arena.

The vocational seniors are preparing special lunches for the school teachers at 25 cents a plate. The food is served at the teachers' room or anywhere that is designated which is a great help to the ever busy faculty.

The Glee Club of the Classical high school held its weekly meeting in the Assembly Hall on Wednesday.

The Girls' Ice Hockey team is fast rounding into shape and should be in fine condition for its first game.

The Commercial Department of the Technical High School is giving an entertainment and dance on Friday, January 20th. It is called the Second Annual Alumni Entertainment as the graduates are doing a great deal to make it a success.

There will be two special Symphony Concerts given at the High School at 4 o'clock on Jan. 23-25 for the benefit of the students who appreciate good music and are interested in this kind of music.

Miss Eaton of the Science Department gave an interesting talk to the girls on Wednesday.

Plans are under way for the Annual Public Declaration of the Technical High School. The proceeds of this are always given to the school library to purchase new books and replace worn volumes.

Mr. Thurber has given a card file and a handsome revolving book-case to the library of the Technical High School.

Mr. Judkins of the Drawing Department returned to school Monday after a short absence on account of illness.

The Sub-Senior Spree, a dance given in the school gymnasium, proved to be a big success both socially and financially. Spalding's Orchestra furnished the music and the committee raffled off a 5-pound box of chocolates which was won by "Jake" Stoddard.

Vocational High School

The Alumni Association of the Vocational High School will give a play and dance in the hall of the Vocational High School on Friday, January 27th, at 7.45 o'clock. The title of the play is, "Turning the Trick," by McMullin. The Colonial Orchestra will play for dancing.

Burr School

In connection with the study of history the 8th grade boys are giving illustrated talks to the class. They use the reflectoscope and give a very interesting lecture showing phases of industrial growth.

The Burr Seventh Grade pupils have written, as part of their English work, to H. P. Hood & Co., requesting calendars for the class rooms.

This district is now taking more milk than at any previous time this year.

ADD LASELL . . . . . President Harding has been just elected honorary member of the Junior class. He graciously accepted Wednesday morning.

Mason

The pupils of the seventh grade geography classes are busy making a collection of post cards to send to the countries with which they are corresponding through the Red Cross. Mrs. Jackson's room has chosen France; Miss Crook's room, Holland; and Miss Merrill's room, Czechoslovakia.

Gerald Hudson has just completed the design of a poster to be given to the room which holds the record for Savings Bank Collections each week. The design shows a "safe combination" on which the numbers of all the rooms are printed. The number that opens the combinations to thrift is the number of the room that wins.

Stearns

The wedding of Miss Doris Logue to Mr. Harold Manning took place at the Manning mansion, at North Billerica, the ancestral home of the bridegroom, on Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. It was attended by some of the teachers.

A very interesting program was recently given by Mr. Lindley depicting life on the plains in the camps of the Sioux Indians. He gave an idea of their history, music, village customs, and home life, making these real to the children by dressing as an Indian and using the war drums and rattles. His daughter, an adopted Indian princess, gave the dances of the Indian children of the plains. The program was concluded with an explanation of Indian music, illustrated by songs in the native tongue.

The Junior Girls' Club gave the playlet, "The Fifteenth Candle," on Wednesday evening in Stearns School Hall which was well presented by five members of the Club. Mrs. Madeline Hunt Appel, executive secretary of the Massachusetts Committee on Child Labor, spoke on this subject after the production. The participants were May Boudrot, Ruth Kelly, Ida Melman, Ruth LaVoie, and Alice Leahy. A musical and elocution program followed, with selections by Margaret Flynn, Ethel Cantor, Sarah Silverman, May Boudrot, and Bertha Brand.

The hockey team was defeated by Horace Mann, 1 to 0, in a very close and exciting game on Bulough's Pond, Tuesday afternoon. Our boys surely deserve credit for playing such a splendid game with so little practice as a team.

The Junior hockey team defeated the Horace Mann boys by the score of 2 to 0. Gilbert Champagne and Wallace Sampson played the best game.

The eighth grade debate, "Resolved, that Newton should adopt the new 'Sunday Sports Law,'" was won by the negative side. Miss McLaughlin acted as judge.

Are Your Trees Damaged?

It is a well-known fact that injurious insects have devastated many valuable trees and shrubs—which could have been saved by attention at the proper season.

It is a deplorable sight to see many of our majestic trees rapidly declining through neglect and the work of the "Tree Butcher," when timely attention and efficient workmanship would have produced satisfactory results.

Do you realize that practical and theoretical knowledge of plant life are absolutely essential for successful tree surgery.

SPLASHES EXTRAORDINARY

Newton Y. M. C. A. Wins the Two State Swimming Championship

The local "Y" senior swimming team journeyed to Worcester last Saturday night and won the Massachusetts and Rhode Island Y. M. C. A. aquatic championship, splashing through for 32 points, winning the team trophy and eleven individual medals, eight of which were first-place prizes. Not only did the team win the meet and most of the prizes but two of the swimmers, Brown and Millard, made two national Y. M. C. A. records in the 50-yard and 100-yard, respectively.

Considering the fact that this meet brought out the best swimmers in the Y. M. C. A. ranks it required a very fast swimming team to win the title and for little old Newton to go down there and show the big fellows how to swim certainly is worthy of mention.

The first senior event of the evening was the relay. Contrary to an incorrect report by the Worcester papers, Newton won the event by several yards. Noonan was lead-off man, Barnes second, Brown swam third giving Millard swimming anchor a slight lead finishing with several yards to spare after a pretty swim down the 100-foot tank.

The 50-yard followed with Brown and Noonan of Newton swimming in the final heat, in which they finished first and second respectively after a very close and exciting race. Brown establishing a new Y. M. C. A. national record.

The back stroke followed later with Jaquith and Noonan of Newton entered. They finished first and second respectively and were not crowded at any time. Jaquith is a smooth back stroker and so far this year has had everything his own way in this event. Noonan who took up this event last year for the first time has developed fast and usually follows Jaquith across the finish.

The 220-yard swim was next on the program with Capt. Barnes the only Newton entry. He finished a good second after leading most of the way. Saunders of Providence just nosing him out.

Then came the final swimming event on the program the 100-yard swim.

Millard was the only Newton entry and he swam away for first place, establishing a new national Y. M. C. A. record in so doing. Winning this last event put the meet on ice for Newton. E. P. Bang, of Newton, was the only junior representing the local Y. M. C. A. and after swimming two preliminary heats in the 25-yard dash, won first place in the final heat against some of the best boy swimmers in the two states.

Following is a summary of the events:

50-yard swim. Won by Brown, Newton; Noonan, Newton, second; Anderson, Providence, third; Taylor, Lawrence, fourth. Time 28 1-5 seconds (new national Y. M. C. A. record).

50-yard back stroke. Won by Jaquith, Newton; Noonan, Newton, second; Lease, Providence, third; Berger, Worcester, fourth. Time 33 3-5 seconds.

220 Yards. Won by Saunders, Providence; Barnes, Newton, second; James, Worcester, third; Bryant, Worcester, fourth. Time 3 min., 17 2-5 seconds.

100 yards. Won by Millard, Newton; Oxtard, Boston, second; Peterson, Worcester, third; Moore, Boston, fourth. Time 1 min., 6 seconds (new national Y. M. C. A. record).

Relay Race. Won by Newton, Noonan, Barnes, Brown, Millard, Providence second; Worcester third; Lawrence, fourth.

Plunge. Won by Oatman, Providence, 68 feet; Weston, Providence, second, 66 feet; Bradley, Boston, third, 63 ft.; Rowe, Boston, fourth, 61 feet.

Fancy Diving. Won by Glaven, Providence; Dubois, Worcester, second; Peterson, Worcester, third; Knowlton, Boston, fourth.

Dual Meets at the Y. M. C. A.

Worcester and Providence are coming to Newton for dual swimming meets in February.

Worcester comes February 15, and Providence February 24. Both of these teams are strong and ought to force Newton to the limit.

Other dates are pending and will be announced later.

BARON KORFF'S LECTURE

That Bolshevism is a German invention, was emphatically denied by Baron Korff in his lecture last Friday evening in Channing Church before the Newton Community Club at its Guest Night. "It was a genuine social process, developing among the Russian people themselves." An audience that well-nigh taxed the capacity of the church listened with the keenest interest to every word that fell from the speaker's lips, and gained from his clear, concise statement of what had led up to the Russian Revolution and from the subsequent events the best idea of the situation yet presented in Newton. The audience was impressed not alone by his wonderful command of English, but also by the delightful personality of the man himself, and went away with the firm conviction that only the bringing together of people from the different countries and learning their problems and their aims at first hand will go a long way towards bringing about closer and more friendly international relations.

Preceding the lecture Mrs. Clara Sexton Crowley delighted the audience with a group of songs. She was accompanied by Mrs. Haddon.

In opening his lecture Baron Korff expressed his appreciation of "the great interest and sympathy that your people have for my poor country." It is not only the sympathy towards the suffering, but there is an unconscious feeling that some great social processes are developing in Russia which might be lessons for the outside world.

And yet your people feel that they know very little about it. The little news that percolates through is so often warped and misrepresented for selfish or political interests. How often you hear, for instance, that the Russian Revolution came like a bolt out of a clear sky and how very far from the truth that assertion would be. The social dissatisfaction that feeds a revolution goes back in Russia to the middle of the 19th century. At that time we had a war and Russia was badly beaten by England, France, and Turkey. As usual after a severe military defeat there comes the demoralization of the government. The government lost their heads. They felt for the first time that the nation was not backing them. They felt that they were forced to make at least a few concessions and it is from that day that the liberal movement in Russia really dates. From the very beginning that movement split the educated Russian people into two uneven parts. Of the larger part were the older people, who began to devote their time and energy to building up a system of local self-government. They considered, and I think quite rightly, that that is the essential condition of any constitutional movement. This process unfortunately was slow and tedious. The younger generation had no patience to wait. They naturally preferred revolution to evolution. But the Czar's government answered this movement by ruthless reaction, persecution, prison, exile. Consequently we find in the larger European centers numerous colonies of Russian exiles, living apart from the people of the country, devoting themselves to study of socialistic theories and in touch neither with modern democracy of the outside world nor with the hopes and ideals of their own people. Naturally, when by unexpected chance these men and women were allowed to return to Russia and came suddenly to power, the ideas that they began to apply to practical life did not correspond to the ideas of the people.

The defeat of Russia by Japan forced the government to make concessions and Russia received her first constitution. Bad as it was, it was still a step forward. But the liberal period was short, and as soon as the government felt that dissatisfaction was

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The next meeting of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, at the Newton Club, Newtonville, next Tuesday evening, January 31, will be in charge of the special committee appointed from the general reorganization committee to determine a program of work for the Chamber. This committee, which includes Arthur W. Hollis, George J. Martin and Leon B. Rogers, will be pleased to receive suggestions at this meeting from the members of the Chamber as to those activities which the Chamber should seek to develop at once, and those which it should plan to carry out during the coming year.

Dinner will be served at 6.30 P. M. sharp, and reservations must be received by the secretary at 363 Centre street, Newton, not later than Sunday noon. Four special topics, with especially qualified speakers to open the discussion on each topic, will be considered, after which suggestions as to other matters that should be considered by the Chamber will be welcomed from any member present. The plan of the so-called "program meeting" is arousing much interest among the membership, and a large attendance is expected to assist in making the meeting the most interesting and most important of the year.

The four special topics to be considered are:

(1) What action, if any, shall be taken by the Newton Chamber of Commerce to assist the special aldermanic zoning committee in determining the most desirable form of zoning ordinance for the city of Newton? Alderman George V. Phipps, chairman of the aldermanic zoning committee, will open the discussion on this question.

(2) What action, if any, shall be taken at this time by the Newton Chamber of Commerce to develop a practical, economical and comprehensive plan for the elimination of traffic congestion in Nonantum square? Discussion to be opened by Henry D. Lloyd.

(3) What action, if any, shall be taken by the Chamber in regard to the proposed terminal of the Boston Elevated Street Railway Company at Braves Field? Discussion will be opened by City Solicitor Joseph W. Bartlett.

(4) Shall the Newton Chamber, as a part of its direct service to members, seek to establish in the immediate future an efficient credit rating bureau for the benefit and protection of the retail merchants of the city? Discussion to be opened by George J. Martin.

That as much time as possible may be devoted to the consideration of these questions, a special effort will be made to start the dinner promptly at 6.30 o'clock. Accommodations cannot be guaranteed to those who fail to make their reservations before Saturday noon. This meeting also promises to mark another important step in the growth and advancement of the Chamber itself, with the applications of another large group of new members to be submitted for approval and acceptance.

FAREWELL DINNER

The Board of Aldermen of 1921 held a farewell dinner and theatre party on Monday evening. The dinner was served at the home of Alderman Hubert L. Carter on Otis street, Newtonville, in a most delightful fashion and enlivened with cabaret features, which were highly appreciated. Mayor Childs gave a short talk and swan songs were sung by the retiring aldermen. The party then went to the Colonial Theatre to see Fred Stone. Mayor Childs, City Clerk Grant and Clerk of Committees Brimblecom were guests of the board.

CLASS OF 1923 WINS

The class of 1923 won the Newton High School interclass meet in the school gymnasium last Friday afternoon, nosing out the class of 1922, 34 to 33. The class of 1924 scored 18 points and 1925 was fourth with 9 points. The sub-seniors of the class of 1923 had 5 points.

This was the first track meet of the season for Newton and it gave Coach Dickinson a good chance to size up his material.

Clarence McDavitt, captain of the team, took first place in the senior 30-yard dash and Stafford, captain of this year's champion football team, captured first honors in the senior 1000.

SENIOR DIVISION

30-Yard Dash—Won by McDavitt, '22; McQuesten, '22, second; Weeks, '23, third. Time, 8 3-5.

High Jump—Won by Blair, '22, height 5 ft 2 in; Walter, '22, second; Hazen, '23, third.

Shotput—Won by Hardy, '22. Distance 32 ft 7 in; Hodges, '23, second; Bowen, '24, third.

300-Yard Run—Won by McDavitt, '22; McQuesten, '23, second; Morton, '22, third. Time, 38 4-5.

600-Yard Run—Won by Ryall, '23; Meredith, '23, second; Duane, '23, third. Time, 1m 31 4-5.

1000-Yard Run—Won by Stafford, '22; Dicks, '23; second, Goddard, '23, third. Time, 2m 36 4-5.

30-Yard Dash—Won by Blair, '22; Considine, '25, second; Doyle, '22, third. Time, 4 2-5.

Relay—Won by 1924 (Mercer, Fay, Hunter, Place, Shanley).

INTERMEDIATE DIVISION

220-Yard Run—Won by Mercer, '24; McManus, '25, second; Hannagan, '23, third. Time, 28 2-5.

30-Yard Dash—First place tie, between Allen, '24, and Mercer, '24; Hannagan, '23, third. Time 3 4-5.

JUNIOR DIVISION

30-Yard Dash—Tie, between Sweeney, '25, and De George, '25; Hoyt, '24, third. Time, 4 2-5.

The Newton High School Alumni will hold its annual track meet on Saturday evening, Jan. 28, in the High School Gymnasium. Many of the former Newton track stars who are now in college, as well as a large number of the "old-timers" will be seen in action again. Dancing will follow the track events.

NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY

Singers who desire to join in time to take part in the April concert should attend the rehearsal next Tuesday night in Central Church, Newtonville, at 7.30. Men are especially invited. The orchestra is rapidly nearing completion, about 35 players having already joined. A few more can be admitted, and their rehearsals begin about February 20.

THE ZONING ORDINANCE

Public Meeting to be Held in Bigelow School Hall to Consider It

The Newton Improvement Association has arranged for a public meeting to be held at the hall of the Bigelow School Friday evening, February 3, at 8 P. M., to consider the proposed zoning ordinance of the city of Newton, particularly in its application to Wards 1 and 7.

This is a matter of the utmost importance to all property owners. Under the laws and ordinances as they stand today, anyone who wishes can build a factory, a store or an apartment house in any place in Newton where he can buy the land, and neither the State nor the city government has any power to stop him. If a block of one-story stores or a factory or an apartment house is built in a residential neighborhood and property values in the neighborhood are depreciated one-half, the owners have no protection and no redress. This has been done over and over again in Boston and Brookline and other cities and towns all over the State, and the whole character of a neighborhood ruined, sometimes in a few months. It will be done in Newton in a few years unless the people of Newton protect themselves. Last year, in Newtonville, a factory was built in a residential neighborhood against the violent protests of all the property owners in the vicinity; but the Mayor and the aldermen and the building commissioner had no power to prevent it. In Newton threatened developments of an injurious character have been in many cases bought off by the neighbors at heavy expense; but in some instances the neighbors have been unable to prevent them, and have had to suffer the consequences.

In New York and in many other cities in other States, and especially in residential towns of a character similar to Newton, so-called zoning ordinances have been enacted in recent years providing that in certain sections or zones nothing but single family residences shall be built, while in other sections, apartment houses, in others stores, and in others factories are permitted. These zoning ordinances have given great satisfaction wherever adopted.

In Massachusetts, zoning ordinances, it was thought, were not permitted by the constitution, and the Sixteenth Amendment to the Massachusetts Constitution was adopted in 1918, giving the Legislature power to authorize zoning. In 1920 the Legislature enacted a statute authorizing cities and towns to adopt zoning ordinances after an opinion of the Supreme Court that this might lawfully be done. Since the enactment of the statute the Planning Board and a committee of the Board of Aldermen have been engaged in drafting a zoning ordinance and preparing a map dividing the city into districts reserved for the different classes of buildings. A tentative ordinance and map have now been prepared.

The next step is to hold public meetings in the different sections of Newton, to get the sentiment of the people on this important matter. At some of the earlier meetings the position of those who felt that their right to build apartment houses, stores and factories wherever they saw fit should not be impaired, was put forward prominently. Other speakers felt that the ordinance put too drastic a restriction on the rights of individuals to develop their land as they thought best. The aldermen will undoubtedly not pass this ordinance unless they are satisfied that the people want it. If the people are not interested the matter will be dropped.

This is the opportunity for you to take your stand in this matter and make your wishes known.

If you believe in a zoning ordinance, come to the meeting and show your aldermen how you feel about it. If you stay away, and the matter is dropped, and next year an apartment house or a public garage is built next to your home, don't blame anyone but yourself.

If you don't believe in a zoning ordinance, come to the meeting and say so. If you stay away, and next year you want to build an apartment house or a garage or a block of stores on your own land, and find that the law will not permit it, and nobody wants to buy your land for any other purpose, don't blame anyone but yourself.

If you believe in a zoning ordinance, but feel that this draft and map can be improved upon, don't hesitate to give your aldermen the benefit of your suggestions. That is the very thing they are looking for.

The ordinance will be explained by Alderman Philip Nichols of Ward 7, who took an active part in the drafting of the zoning law in 1920, and in securing its enactment by the Legislature, and who is also a member of acted a statute authorizing cities and towns to adopt zoning ordinances after an opinion of the Supreme Court that this might lawfully be done. Since the enactment of the statute the Planning Board and a committee of the Board of Aldermen have been engaged in drafting a zoning ordinance and preparing a map dividing the city into districts reserved for the different classes of buildings. A tentative ordinance and map have now been prepared.

The next step is to hold public meetings in the different sections of Newton, to get the sentiment of the people on this important matter. At some of the earlier meetings the position of those who felt that their right to build apartment houses, stores and factories wherever they saw fit should not be impaired, was put forward prominently. Other speakers felt that the ordinance put too drastic a restriction on the rights of individuals to develop their land as they thought best. The aldermen will undoubtedly not pass this ordinance unless they are satisfied that the people want it. If the people are not interested the matter will be dropped.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by Dorothy Drake

HIGH SCHOOL

On Friday, January 27, Dr. Hoosie is to address the group of teachers taking the Junior High School course on Problems of English.

The Vocational High School is holding an entertainment and dance on Saturday, January 28th. Last year they gave a very successful play, which they expect to better this year.

The Classical High Club held its weekly meeting in the Assembly Hall.

Mr. Maxim of the commercial department is taking a course in advertising at Boston University evenings. As he teaches this subject daily, he brings the new ideas and experience of business men to class, which makes it very interesting as well as instructive.

On Friday, January 21, the second annual Alumni entertainment took place in the Assembly Hall of the Technical High School.

The program was: Claire Kineard, 1915, soprano; Philip Horne, 1915, piano; F. E. Doubleday, banjo; Ralph Keyes, 1915, baritone; Edwin McGill,
1915, reader, and the Technical High School Orchestra.

There was dancing in the library after the entertainment. This was a success, both socially and financially.
Over seventy dollars was given to the library fund as a result.

The sophomore class of the Classical High School is giving a dance in the "Gym" on Friday, January 27.
Students and faculty are working hard for the annual declamation in the Technical High School.

The election of officers for the junior class in the Technical High has caused great excitement. The election was held in the library on Wednesday, January 18. The Australian ballot method was used under the supervision of Mr. Kidger and Mr.
Oliver.

The results were:
President—Todd Wallace.
Vice-President—Lillian King.
Secretary—Dorothy Potter.
Treasurer—Sebe Caruso.

Ralph Waldo Emerson School

Hockey teams have been organized in the 6th, 7th and 8th grades. John Proctor is captain of the 6th grade team, Melvin Chambers of the 7th grade, and Norman Payne of the 8th grade.
The 6th grade team played a game with the 7th on Tuesday afternoon, on the Charles River, resulting in a score of 3 to 1 in favor of the 6th team. Interest is growing, and other games are being arranged.

Miss Dallinger, representing the New England Food Council, education committee, gave an illustrated talk on Thursday to the entire school assembled in two divisions. Her general subject was "Health and Food."

The girls of the eighth grade rounded out their lessons in cooking with an exhibition on Wednesday afternoon at the rooms of the new Hyde School. Miss Scully, the cooking teacher, had charge of the exhibition.

The seventh grade girls start their course in cooking next week.
Doris Egge entertained at the Monday assembly with a recitation. Other recent contributions given were a two-part song by grade six, and "The American's Creed," recited by grade seven.

MASON

The teachers of the Mason District were given a rare treat on January 18 by an organ recital held at the home of Mrs. W. A. Osgood on Montvale road.
The exquisite music and delightful hospitality of the hostess were thoroughly enjoyed by all who were there.

Mr. Temperley gave the boys and girls of the eighth grade an interesting talk on the subject of printing, that being their present work along vocational guidance lines. He emphasized the need of an all-round education and a high degree of accuracy in such an important work as furnishing news for the public.

It may be of interest to some to know that classes in millinery and in dressmaking are having regular meetings in the laboratory of the Mason School.

In Miss Tolman's room the milk lunch is producing good results, only three pupils being under weight at the present time.

The cooking class, under Miss Scully, last Friday gave an interesting exhibition of their work, including a model breakfast and the setting of a table.

January 25, the eighth grades invited the first grades of the Rice School to the Mason. Special pupils told the little folks about the different rooms, and some slides were put on in the hall. Both the entertainers and the entertained passed a pleasant hour together.

Tuesday afternoon, the league hockey game between Mason and Bigelow schools, which had been postponed from January 19th, was played at Bullock's Pond, Mason being defeated, 2-0. After the league game, however, the Masons somewhat redeemed themselves, the Mason second team defeating the Bigelow second team, 3-0, and the Mason seventh grade team defeating the Bigelow seventh grade team, 2-0.

Three special features made the last meeting of the Clever Clover Club one of the most interesting ever held. The program was as follows:

Victor selections by president, Albert Rochette; secretary's report, Lilian Buxbaum; treasurer's report, Eleanor Phillips; Current Event topics by everyone, and the following special selections: "Gimme a Penny," an Angelo Patri article read by Doris Siebert; "Selections from Martha," a violin solo by Herman Saltz, and "The Spirit of the Home," an Edgar Guest poem, read by Elizabeth Bonney.

Lasell

The campus band of Gardner was the scene of an ice carnival on Saturday evening, and proved a tremendous success, bringing in a good sum for the senior endowment fund. Beside the out-of-door sports, which were enlivened by the music of a hurdy-gurdy, there were marshmallows to toast in the fireplace in the garden gymnasium and sandwiches and other substantial eatables for sale.

Mr. Stanley High, who led vespers on Sunday evening, spoke on the subject of China. His talk was intensely interesting and illuminating. Special music was also enjoyed by the large audience. Mrs. Earl Harper and Miss Shapleigh, the latter a member of the Lasell faculty, sang.

Per M. H. Lichter is to be the leader at vespers on next Sunday.
There is much enthusiasm over the annual White Mountain trip which is scheduled for February 10th. Miss Wright is to be the chaperone, and Dr. and Mrs. Winslow are to accompany the party.

Friday, Dr. and Mrs. Winslow left for New York, to attend the New York Lasell Club reunion. The luncheon is to be held at the Pennsylvania Hotel on Saturday afternoon.

The junior rooms on Thursday afternoon were the scene of a very delightful party, when a number of the students entertained seven little girls from West Newton Community Home. A wonderful Jack Horner pie, gifts, decorations, refreshments and games made the party one long to be remembered.

HYDE SCHOOL

The school has recently purchased several new records from the proceeds of the Indian entertainment.

Miss Green's fifth grade gave a lantern lesson on Cotton Growing and Cotton Manufacture to Miss Ryder's fifth grade.

Miss Sampson's fourth graders are going to give a piano recital to the other fourth grade and friends.

The fifth grade boys are now making up basket weaving and cardboard work, while the girls have sewing.

The eighth grade, under Miss Hanscom, had 100 per cent. attendance and no tardy marks last week.

Miss Lewis reports that her first grade had no tardy marks last week.

Miss Christopher is the new primary assistant from Framingham.

The newly elected president of the freshman class at the High School, Holmes Whitmore, and the vice-president, Katharine Bonner, are both graduates of the Hyde School.

The music school is planning to give a recital to the parents of its pupils and friends, in the hall of the Hyde School.

A food exhibit in the form of a valentine luncheon was held on Wednesday afternoon in the Hyde School cooking room.

The girls in their white caps, and aprons, trimmed with red hearts, fulfilled their duties as hostesses charmingly.

A table correctly set stood in the center of the room. A good breakfast and dinner were also exhibited.
Parents and friends were allowed to sample the food.

All who were present agreed that great credit was due to the girls and to Miss Scully, the domestic science teacher, for the splendid exhibit.

STEARNS SCHOOL

The process of wine making as carried on in the countries of southern Europe was presented by the children of St. James' room, Grade 7.

This excellent dramatization was in charge of Paul Serkin, who represented a Spanish vine yard owner. The actors, tourists, who visited his "vineyards" were Elsie Marchand and May Terrio. The guests at the dramatization were Miss Stoddard and the other seventh grade.

The children of Miss Stoddard's room, Grade 7, had a debate on the following: Resolved, that England had the best part of the country in 1689.

Gilbert Champagne was the chairman. The affirmative side was led by Margaret McKonzie, assisted by Alma Borgnon and Bessie Silverman. The negative side was led by Wallace Sampson, assisted by George Mailly and William Morris.

Miss Lewis, Mr. Dacey and the other Seventh Grade were guests.

The winning side was the negative.
The Junior Girls' Club held a debate on Wednesday, January 25, in Stearns School. The topic was: "Resolved, that motion pictures have a bad influence upon boys and girls."

The participants were Sarah Silverman, chairman; Estelle LeFevre, Dorothy Connolly, Helen Fisher and Ethel Cantor, on the affirmative;
Blanche McDermott, Margaret Flynn, Eva Masse and Bertha Bram on the negative. Miss Elizabeth Carter and Mrs. Holzgart were the judges.

The Mott Club held its January meeting in the hall on Monday, January 23rd. An interesting program of "roci" songs and readings was given by Mrs. Van Dyne and Miss Ruth Van Dyne. The Girl Scout troop conducted a food sale at this meeting, and home-made candy, cakes and marmalade were sold. The next meeting will be held on February 13, when a progressive game party is scheduled.

MENTAL HYGIENE—A COMMUNITY PROBLEM

The importance of mental hygiene in the life of a community has been forcefully brought before the public recently by a series of drawing room meetings held in Boston and vicinity under the auspices of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene.

About fifty representative people of Newton, who are interested in this movement, met Saturday, Jan. 14, at the home of Miss Georgia Emery on Waverley avenue, Newton, to listen to Dr.
Fernald of the Waverley Hospital, Dr.
Williams, Editor of "Mental Hygiene", and Mr. Beers, author of "The Mind that Found Itself."

Dr. Fernald, who was chairman, spoke of the complexity of life today
as compared with a generation ago, and of the great difficulty many people find in adjusting themselves to present conditions.

Whereas there are at the present time splendid text books along the lines of physical hygiene, text books which tell the young mother how to feed and take care of her child's body, there are at present, no corresponding text books to help her to guide the mental life of her child.

Experiences of childhood, its rivalries, and competitions are often as tragic as are those of adults. The unsuccessful and misunderstood child is often as much to be pitied as the adult under similar circumstances, the former condition often leads to the latter and is incurable insanity.

Insanity, according to the speaker, should be dealt with in its early stages in childhood and the cure rests not with any one person but with all parents, teachers, companions, who have to do with youth. The time to reach these cases is in the formative period from 6-16.

There are one hundred children who cannot get along in school, many of whom parents are pitifully eager for help.

Dr. Fernald paid a fine tribute to the juvenile court of Newton, saying that its spirit of helpfulness to the individual offender is in contrast to that of other courts in the state.

In conclusion the speaker referred to the pamphlets published by the National Committee of Mental Hygiene on different phases of mental life which it is the desire of the society to have read by all in the community interested in this great problem.

The next speaker, Dr. Williams, paid a high tribute to Dr. Fernald and his work among the feeble minded in making them self respecting and self supporting. Admitting the expense to the state to train such people, he went on to show that it was far more expensive for the state not to train them.

That the states are increasingly realizing this is shown by the fact that every Southern state has established a school for the feeble minded within the last five years.

In New York there is building a new Sine Sing, the center of which will be a Psychopathic hospital for the study of the individual cases which come to the institution.

Dr. Williams defined insanity as a conflict either between the individual and his environment, or within the individual. Such conflicts occur in greater or less degree in the minds of all of us, the difference between those who are sane and those who are insane being one of degree. The former are able to understand what the conflict is and to conquer their difficulties, while the latter can often do neither.

It is an appalling fact that there are more beds in the United States occupied by those whom the courts have pronounced insane than by those afflicted by all other diseases. The great majority of these people are in their early twenties. In Massachusetts alone there are 5,000 new cases yearly.

When it is realized that one becomes insane at once, there are manifestations which, if taken in time, would in about half of the cases lead to a cure, the necessity of greater and more intelligent action on the part of the community is obvious.

The last speaker had only a few moments in which to tell of the work which the National Committee is trying to do in the way of education, and to appeal for financial aid in the near future.

ST. JAMES THEATRE—"Adam and Eva," which is to be presented at the St. James Theatre next week, is a comedy of home life in an average well-to-do American family. The authors, Messrs. Guy Bolton and George Middleton, have put a great deal of thought into this comedy, and as a result of it all there is a great deal of satisfying of the utter uselessness and extravagance of the modern generation of young men who are living on their father's hard earned money, and who have not yet had a taste of earning it themselves.

The authors have in a clever way spread through the play the idea that selfishness in the home should be avoided; idleness is demoralizing to the building up of a race, and lastly, a girl should marry the man of her choice and not the man picked for her.

ings are held weekly on Saturday nights, at 7.30, either at the Playground House or at some member's home.

The officers of the club are: President, Reginald Perry; vice-president, Maurice Whittinghill; secretary, Gerald Hudson; treasurer, George Brewer. The executive committee, which is composed of the foregoing officers and three others, is hard at work planning a schedule of interesting talks by club members and others, and also various activities for the club. We would be glad to have anyone interested in any way in wireless to correspond with Mr. Barton, Mason School, Newton Centre.

ADVERTISING LIKE THE WIND

You cannot see the force of advertising, but you can feel it—and Ernest C. Hastings, managing editor of the Dry Goods Economist, New York city, in speaking before the retail section of the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs, told a story of a conversation between an advertising man and a merchant that illustrates the point in interesting fashion.

"Ever have your hat blown off?"
asked the advertising man.

"Yes," said the merchant.

"What blew it off?"

"The wind."

"Did you ever see the wind?"

"No."

"Well, advertising is like the wind —an invisible force. You can't see it, but you can and will see the result just as you saw your hat go rolling down the street.

DEATH OF MRS. BOSWORTH

Mrs. Angelica Coolidge Bosworth, widow of Charles E. Bosworth, an old-time flour merchant of Boston, died on Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Augustus H. Withington, of 31 Chestnut terrace, Newton Centre, in her ninety-first year.

She was born in Solon, Me., in 1831,
the daughter of Eliza and Melitable (Boles) Coolidge, and was a resident of Boston for more than fifty years, removing to Newton Centre ten years ago.

Mrs. Bosworth is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Withington, a granddaughter, Mrs. Edward Boltwood Hull, of Pittsfield, and four grandsons who served in the World War. There are also three great-grandchildren and two sisters, Mrs. Emerson Coolidge and Mrs. William C. Morrill, of Roxbury.

Funeral services were held at her late residence on Monday and were conducted by the Rev.

UNLUCKY MISTAKES

Here are what Pres. Judge Paul J. McCormick of San Francisco has announced as "Thirteen Mistakes of Life":

1. To attempt to set up your own standard of right and wrong.
2. To try to measure the enjoyment of others by your own.
3. To expect uniformity of opinions in this world.
4. To fail to make allowance for inexperience.
5. To endeavor to mold all dispositions alike.
6. Not to yield to unimportant trifles.
7. To look for perfection in our own actions.
8. To worry ourselves and others about what cannot be remedied.
9. Not to help everybody, wherever, however and whenever we can.
10. To believe only what our finite minds can grasp.
11. To consider anything impossible that we cannot ourselves perform.
12. Not to make allowance for weaknesses of others.
13. To estimate by some outside quality which is within which makes the man.—San Francisco Chronicle.

NEW STORES AT WABAN

STORES FOR WABAN

It looks as though Waban was at last going to have a long-felt want fulfilled in the widening of Beacon street east and west of the railroad bridge.
Eighteen years ago the "Strong Estate" built a block of stores and apartments there, and at the request of the city set back to the supposedly new line, but during all these eighteen years there has been nothing done about widening the street.
At last the city has made a taking, and the work of widening the street will doubtless be commenced in the near future.

Waban has had a remarkable growth in the last few years, and has felt a need for more stores and a postoffice.
In view of this, the "Strong Estate" are now building an extension to the original group to take care of this demand.
The new building being erected from the plans furnished by E. B. Stratton, architect.

It is 50 feet wide on Beacon street and 32 feet deep, one story high.
It is to be carried out in the same style as the present building, even using the same red brick, Flemish gables with slate roofs, which will make a very picturesque group in keeping with the artistic character of the village.
There will be two stores and the postoffice on the street floor and three stores in the basement.

SONS OF ST. GEORGE

On Monday, January 23, William Hanson, Past Grand President of The Sons of St. George, paid an official visit to Kensington Lodge, No. 500, at its regular meeting in Foresters Hall at Upper Falls. He gave a very interesting talk on the progress the order had made during the past year, praising Kensington Lodge for its gain in membership.

After his talk he presented the lodge with a large St. George's flag for the efforts made to increase the membership. He also installed James Barlow as assistant messenger.
One candidate was initiated.
On Monday, Feb. 13, 1922, a whist party and dance will be held.

Path of Duty Is First.

We must not waste chances of bettering ourselves—unless we make something of our own lives we cannot do much for other people; yet the finest way of bettering ourselves is in the path of duty, kindness, unselfishness.—Arthur L. Salmon, in Chicago Daily News.

LETTER FROM POLAND

The following letter has just been received from Miss Lucy Turner, who is in Poland, in the service of the Red Cross. She was formerly with the Children's Aid Society of Boston, and that official force united in sending her a purse of $30 for her work in Poland. This letter was sent in acknowledgment.

Lomza, Poland,
December 18, 1921.

My dear Office:
The Christmas card with the check for Poland came this week. How shall I thank you for it? One of the hardest things about being over here is that I can do so little good. The Cross program is splendid, but so often the greatest suffering does not fall along its line, and it is not possible to relieve it in any way. I have many things longed for a small fund that I could use at my discretion, for although in theory there is no doubt that Poland should take care of itself now, in fact, it is exceedingly hard to know how a man can even look for work if he is bare foot. The A. R. C. is helping children, so that your money I am going to use for adults. As far as I know there is no society doing that at present.

In the first place I exchanged it for marks, getting the rate of three thousand and sixty marks for a dollar. In all it made 94,860 Polish marks. This is really a lot of money. I did not think it was best to mix it in any way with my health station, for we would be besieged if it was known that I gave adults anything, as I am expending it through a man in the town, in whom I have great confidence, and who is consulting me over every person helped. It is going to the people who are returning from Russia after the war.

At the beginning of the war, when the Germans rushed into this district, the Russians were our allies. All this district was Russian ruled, and when they evacuated they took many thousands of Poles with them. Thousands of other Polish people were living in Russia anyway. Nobody at that time could foresee the tragic ending of Russia nor the misery that Bolshevism has caused. The Polish in Russia were the better educated, and when the Bolsheviks began their killing they turned their most cruel work toward these people. They have been killed and abused by the thousands and you have all read of the escapes that some have had. The Polish government has an agreement now that these Polish people shall be allowed to return through certain routes, and they are pouring into Poland in large numbers.

We get very little news from Russia, and likewise these people get very little news from Poland. They therefore think that if they can only get back, that again they can start life. In the first place there is no provision for their return. They have no money, and if they did have money it would have no value. If the Bolsheviks have not taken their valuables they do so before they leave the country, and they land at the border absolutely destitute. Poland cannot take care of them, and thus a horde of hungry people are crowding into this small country without any apparent relief in sight. Two thousand a day are entering.

I send my best Christmas greetings to you all. Nobody ever had a better or more thoughtful office than mine, and I thank you many times for your generosity to Poland.

Cordially yours,
LUCY ASENATH TURNER.

Baronowicz and Rowno. From there they are sent to the part of the country from which they came, and that is all. They are detained a week to be disinfected, etc. There is no heat there, and except for the A. R. C. tents and the disinfecting barracks, no shelters. Many, many people die there. The stories that our workers tell from there are unbelievable, except that I get the sequels here in the towns.

From the time they enter everybody must look after themselves. When they get to their destination they find that their houses are burned, that all their property here has vanished, and already there are many, many men for every ob in Poland. These people have been through such experiences in Russia that their nerves are in terrible condition. The children are perhaps not so badly off. We put them first on our lists, and there are orphanages constantly being opened for them. The adults are in such bad shape that I really could not begin to tell you about it. Rags, literally no shoes, going days without food and with very little hope of relief. The government keeps making a money allotment, but it has almost nothing to give. The death rate is ghastly. For instance, almost no babies come at all, for they do not live. Of five hundred persons coming to Lomza, only two were under one year old. (Many are born along the way, but that is a story in itself.)

Now all this is to show you where your money is going. Mr. Marchewko is the refugee representative in this town. He is drawing on your money for the most deserving, or rather, the most desperate cases. I have asked him to spend in larger sums for shoes, a blanket, a railroad fare, etc., instead of in bread or such things, with the idea that if he could do that it was more possible permanently to help a person. I shall watch every cent, but have asked him to spend a little even if in question rather than not to relieve the most suffering.

Now you see I am in another city, Lomza is nearer Russia and naturally colder. It is in what is called the devastated district. First by the war and later by the Bolsheviks. We have a smaller station then in Czesochowa, and many more difficulties about starting it. In the first place the people are slower of thought, and in the second place this part of the country has had so much relief given it because of its desperate condition that our Health Centre plan, with no relief, is hard for the people to grasp. I at last have a committee of women collected, and they are taking hold wonderfully, but at first I was afraid we would be unable to carry out the program. My nurse and I feel very encouraged, however, tonight about the place.

I have been here in Poland over six months and am to have a vacation. I leave next Wednesday night for Rome. I had hoped to go to Vienna, but because of the riots there and general trouble about Americans, we had an order from Paris that no Red Cross workers would be allowed to go to that city until further notice. I'm sorry, but feel that Christmas in Rome is not to be despised. It will be at least warm and I hope to be thawed out once before returning in January to frozen up Poland.

I send my best Christmas greetings to you all. Nobody ever had a better or more thoughtful office than mine, and I thank you many times for your generosity to Poland.

Cordially yours,
LUCY ASENATH TURNER.

Anyone desiring to contribute to a fund to be sent to Miss Turner to use in her work in Poland, may send the same to Mrs. Percival M. Wood, 2039 Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

Mrs. Ester Ferrabini, mezzo-soprano, and Margaret Whitaker, violinist, will be the artists at the concert given at the Commonwealth Country Club for its members and their guests on Sunday afternoon, January 29, at 3.30 o'clock. Mme. Ferrabini has appeared at the noted La Scala Opera House at Milan under the famous Toscanini. She was heard at our own Boston Opera House during its season of Grand Opera. Mme. Ferrabini is the wife of Agide Jacchia, the well known conductor of the pop concerts. Miss Margaret Whitaker is well known to Boston audiences. The ampieo will also be heard at this concert.

PROHIBITION

The following statement was made this week by Mr. Elmer C. Potter, Federal Prohibition Director for Massachusetts:

Constitutional Prohibition has now been in effect two years. Reports from various parts of the country indicate that it is, on the whole, producing good results. That it has been absolutely effective in preventing traffic in alcoholic liquors no one would venture seriously to assert. That in many communities the law is openly violated is beyond a question. Many people inquire if the law can really be made effective. It can, but not in a moment.

A law like the Prohibition Law, which interferes with what many men call their personal liberty, must pass through several stages; open violation, secret violation, general enforcement and then general observance. Education, rather than fear, brings out the happy conclusion. Yet fear of punishment, in this as well as other crimes against public welfare, is a tremendous deterrent to violation of the law.

Our duty, then, in the Prohibition Office, is two-fold; enforcement and education. Good government is dependent upon good citizenship, and upon a continuous warfare against those who disregard and violate the laws. To this warfare we are pledged, to our aid we call all good citizens who believe in law and order.

Disregard of the 18th Amendment and laws passed for its enforcement will never bring about its repeal. Constitutional prohibition has come to stay. Disregard and violation of this law can have but one effect; to cause disregard and violation of other laws, laws dear to the hearts of many of those who cry loudest against this law. We cannot pick and choose what laws we shall obey, and deny to others a like privilege.

Our civilization is absolutely dependent upon observance of law. Encouragement of law violation is a powerful force for evil. It tends to the disintegration of the moral fibre of the community, and upon a healthy moral fibre our advancement is dependent. Therefore, I call on the community to awake to the danger of the propaganda in the interest of the liquor traffic, and to stand firm for the supremacy of law, and I venture to remind many of our citizens that the phrase "Law and Order" is not simply for application to the other fellows but primarily to themselves.

I shall not boast of what I have done in the few months I have been in office. I shall not boast of what I am going to do. As God gives me strength and wisdom, I shall do my part. I count not myself to have attained, but this one thing I do, forgetteth the things that are behind, and reaching out to the things ahead, I press forward toward the goal of effective enforcement and general observance of the Prohibition Law.

STEARNS SCHOOL CENTRE

A bridge was held at the Brae-Burn Country Club on Monday afternoon, for the benefit of the Stearns School Centre. One hundred and fifty tables were sold, and about three hundred and fifty people were present.

Miss Juliet Terella of the Perkins Institute was the soloist. During the afternoon candy was sold in attractively colored boxes by the following: Mrs. George Russell Brown, Miss Florence Brown, Mrs. Ashley Day, Jr., Mrs. Charles Myers, Miss Dorothy Henry, Miss Harriet Ellison, Miss Frances Stebbins and Miss Edith Fredericks.

Preceding the bridge the members of the executive board had luncheon at the club.

Are Your Trees Damaged?

It is a well-known fact that injurious insects have devastated many valuable trees and shrubs—which could have been saved by attention at the proper season.

It is a deplorable sight to see many of our majestic trees rapidly declining through neglect and the work of the "Tree Butcher," when timely attention and efficient workmanship would have produced satisfactory results.

Do you realize that practical and theoretical knowledge of plant life are absolutely essential for successful tree surgery.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC

Entered at the Post-office at Boston, Mass., as second-class matter, NEWTON GRAPHIC PUBLISHING CO. J. C. Brimblecom, Treas. Single Copies, 7 Cents $3.00 Per Year.

EDITORIAL

The approval of the city bill board ordinance by the Highway Commission is the starting point for a campaign in this city to eliminate what everybody believes to be an unmitigated nuisance. Let's go to it with everything we have and clean up the city as soon as possible.

The automobile is responsible for another change in our usual winter habits, for it makes coasting on our public streets a most serious danger to life and limb. Parents should take care that their children coast in a safe place, preferably away from the traveled streets.

The Chamber of Commerce is evidently alive to Newton needs and problems, as is evidenced by its program for its monthly meeting next Tuesday.

Now let the other parts of the city follow the example of Newton (Corner) and take a religious census of the whole community.

Wilson, that's all.

COURT OF HONOR

The January Court of Honor will be held this evening at the Scout room of the Congregational Church, West Newton. Scoutmaster Crowell and troop will be the host of the evening and present a number of Scout demonstrations. The public is cordially invited. Troop meeting will begin at 7:30. The Court of Honor will hold session later. Scouts desiring to be promoted, having completed their tests for advancement, should report early this evening to Executive Sharrett, who will be at the Scout room at 7:15.

CITY GOVERNMENT GUESTS

INSURANCE

GOOD DOCTRINE IN 1822

GOOD DOCTRINE IN 1922

Rousseau in one of his essays, stated that "A man must give up something in order not to run the risk of being stripped of everything." Insurance is just that. Every prudent and careful man will act with reference to future contingencies. Bodily injury by accident is one of the most frequent causes of distress.

—Mrs. Manning A. Williams of Rice street has returned from her recent visit to New York.

—Mrs. Arthur W. Barnard entertained her luncheon bridge at her home on Wednesday.

—Mrs. Harry P. Bradford entertained at bridge on Tuesday for the benefit of the Unitarian Church.

—A musicale for the benefit of the Russian Famine Relief will be held in the Unitarian Church tomorrow night.

—Mr. William T. May of Gray Cliff road was elected chairman of the Committee on Excursions at the annual meeting of the Appalachian Club.

—The Woman's Auxiliary of Trinity Parish will hold a luncheon on Monday, Jan. 30th, in the Parish House. Mr. Cammerer will speak upon the Church Service League in the afternoon.

—A luncheon will be served in the parish house of Trinity Church on Monday, at 12:15, to which every woman in the parish is invited. Rev. Dr. Percy Kammerer of Emmanuel Church, Boston, will speak on the work of the Church Service League.

—Miss Heloise E. Hersey will make an address in Trinity Church next Sunday evening, at 7:15, on "The Book By Which We Live." This address has made a great impression on those who have heard it. It was delivered at the Vendome last week, and many people were turned away for lack of room. This will be the only opportunity to hear Miss Hersey in Newton Centre this winter.

—The annual meeting of the Woman's Union of the 1st Baptist Church in Newton was held Tuesday. Most satisfactory reports were given of work accomplished by committees and neighborhood circles. The following officers were unanimously elected: president, Mrs. W. N. Donovan; 1st vice-president, Mrs. C. N. Arbuckle; 2nd vice president in charge of Foreign mission interests, Mrs. W. J. Phelps; 3rd vice president in charge of Home Mission interests, Mrs. Gardner Walworth; 4th vice-president in charge of work of benevolent committee, Mrs. George E. Tufts; secretary, Mrs. John A. Groves; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Young; auditor, Mrs. Frank Edmonds; directors for 3 years, Mrs. Guilford Stuart, Mrs. E. Clifford Potter, Mrs. Albert Everts.

TRACK MEET

The High School track team will try their skill against the School Alumni at the track meet to be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

The Alumni will be represented by the following men in the different events:

1. Chas. Wansker, Harvard, sprints.
2. Chas. Hayes, Newton, sprints.
3. Arthur Boudrot, Newton record holder, sprints.
4. Willis Bell and Hurley, 300-yard dash.
5. Leverett Woodworth, Mass. Agricultural College, 600.
6. Thomas Clausen, Worcester Academy, 1000.
7. William Duval, Boston University, 1000.
8. John Keller, former New England champion and record holder, now at M. I. T., in shotput.
9. Phil Newell, Amherst Agricultural College, shotput.
10. Ralph Walker, former school boy champion, shotput.
11. Henry Pierce, former captain of M. I. T., jumps.
12. Clark Macomber, Harvard shotput.

13. Arthur S. Roberts (holder of all-round record at Syracuse University) in shot, hurdles and jumping. Junior national and New England champion.

The meet is for the purpose of giving school boys the experience of strong competition, and by giving the Alumni a chance to reunite the championship teams of past years.

Dancing will follow.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

The recently elected officers of the Newton City Employees Union were installed last Friday evening at a meeting held in Bay State Hall, Newton. National Vice-President Lyons of Medford was the installing officer and these officers were installed: President, A. Leslie Moriarty; vice president, B. Flaherty; recording secretary, Jere Ford; treasurer, Jeremiah Herlihy; financial secretary, James Saunders; conductor, Patrick Monahan; and inside sentinel, Patrick Considine.

ELKS BALL

The first annual charity ball of the Newton Lodge of Elks which was held last Friday evening at the State Armory, West Newton, was a pronounced social and financial success and reflects great credit on the chairman, Dr. Michael Chirug, and his associates on the committee of arrangements.

The hall was lavishly decorated with the national colors, a most appropriate setting, as the Elks are intensely patriotic.

The grand march was led by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, Frederic W. Cook with Mrs. George P. Flood, the wife of the Exalted Ruler, while Mayor Childs and Mrs. Cook were next in line.

The impressive eleven o'clock toast of the order was given by Exalted Ruler George P. Flood.

We will not repeat the names of the committees in charge, as they were all given in our last week's issue, suffice it to say, that like the title of a recent novel by a well-known Newton author, "They were all valiant men."

AQUINAS ALUMNI ASSOCIATION TO DEBATE

An event of interest to Newtonians will take place this evening, when the newly organized Aquinas Alumni Association, composed of graduates and former members of the High School connected with the Church of Our Lady, will give its first concert in the school hall.

The object in view in forming this association is to create a closer bond of fellowship between the graduate body and the students. At present there are about one hundred past members of the school enrolled in the association, among them many who have made enviable records in college and the business world. The first election recently held resulted in the following choice for the ensuing year:

President, Mr. Jos. Campbell; vice president, Mr. Thos. Hanron; treasurer, Mr. Jos. A. Glida; recording secretary, Mr. J. Francis Whelen; financial secretary, Mr. Walter Hodgdon; sergeant-at-arms, Mr. Edward A. Hanlon.

The program for the evening opens with a concert, including vocal and instrumental solos by members of the Newton Choral Society, under the direction of Prof. Jos. Glida. The principal event of the entertainment will be the presentation of a debate upon a subject of national importance. The question for discussion reads: Resolved: "That an association of the nations of the world, holding yearly meetings for the discussion and settlement of international affairs (whose decisions are to be in the form of treaties) at this time would be more conducive to world peace than the present League of Nations." The affirmative side of the question will be upheld by Messrs. Charles P. Yorke and Walter Hodgdon, while Messrs. Thos. Hanron and James P. O'Donnell will argue against the question. The debate will be presided over by Mr. Jos. A. Glida, while three prominent Boston attorneys have been chosen to act as judges, namely, Mr. Francis W. Slattery, chairman, Mr. P. Sarsfield Cummin, Mr. James J. Gallagher.

The following members have been elected to make arrangements for the evening:

Publicity manager, Mr. Edwin C. Heislein; music, Prof. Jos. Glida; reception committee, Messrs. J. Francis Whelen, John E. Mahon, Edward Hanlon, Nicholas Murphy, Lewis Kern, Edward Thierault, John E. Murphy, Lawrence Lombardi.

The concert will begin promptly at 8 o'clock, and the public are cordially invited to attend.

DEATH OF MR. MACOMBER

Mr. Albert Howard Macomber died at his home, 36 Canterbury road, Newton Highlands, on Sunday, in his 71st year.

Mr. Macomber was born in Jamaica Plain seventy years ago, a son of Ichabod and Mary (Brewer) Macomber, and was educated in the public schools of Boston. As a boy he entered the tea business of the late A. S. Woodworth, who was succeeded by his son, Herbert Woodworth, now of the firm of Robinson & Woodworth, importers of teas, in Broad street.

In 1875 Albert Macomber left the employ of the elder Mr. Woodworth and entered the tea brokerage business for himself, in which he was active until about four months ago, since which time, owing to Mr. Macomber's ill health, his affairs have been carried on by a nephew, Charles S. Sanger. In his earlier life Mr. Macomber travelled a great deal in the Orient, in connection with his business interests.

He is survived by a widow, Mrs. Lillian (Sanger) Macomber; a son, Albert Howard Macomber, Jr., also of Newton Highlands, and three daughters, Mrs. Charles Arthur Boutelle of Newton Centre, Mrs. Winslow Smith Cobb of Wellesley Hills, and Miss Grace Macomber.

Services were held in the chapel of the Newton Cemetery on Tuesday. Rev. George L. Parker of Newton Centre officiated.

DEATH OF MR. WHITE

Mr. Frederick White, a resident of Sargent street, Newton, was found dead last Friday morning in a rooming house in the South End, Boston, where he had registered the night previous as John Moore. The body was taken to the morgue, where it was identified by Mr. Augustus Adams.

Mr. White was 79 years of age and was president and general manager of the National Air Treating Company. He was a native of Upton, Mass., and, besides his wife, leaves two sons, Hadden and Leslie White, and a daughter, Rhoda White.

He spent many years in working out a plan for humidifying the air in buildings in order to make the atmosphere clearer and more healthful. He finally perfected a device so arranged that by turning an electric button the temperature of a room could be lowered in the hottest weather. A company had been formed, with offices in Boston, and plans were under way for the manufacture of the device on a large scale.

Funeral services were held on Monday, the body being cremated at Mt. Auburn.

—Rev. W. T. Bowmar from Malaysia, was the speaker at the Methodist Church last Sunday evening. His talk was illustrated with the stereopticon.

Bella Halstead, faithful housekeeper in the home of William J. Cozens of Newton Highlands, for over twenty-two years, died in the Newton Hospital, January 18th.

—Mrs. Florence Foster of Walnut street entertained the Monday Club this week. At this meeting Mr. C. S. Luitwieler gave a very entertaining account of his late experiences in Mexico.

—Howard Weeks was the leader of the Congregational Church Young People's League meeting last Sunday evening; the subject was "Do Christian Principles Apply to Buying and Selling?"

—"The Story of An Old Violin," a music fantasy for the benefit of the West Newton Music School will be given by the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands in Lincoln hall, Wednesday, February 8th, at 8 P. M. Dancing will follow.

—Master Albert E. Cozens of 38 Woodward street, is now attending the Huntington School for boys in Boston. Almost every evening he can be found at home "listening in" with his Westinghouse radio apparatus to lectures and concerts from St. Petersburg, New Jersey, and other points.

—Mr. and Mrs. William P. Reed, of Newton Highlands, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Dorothy May Reed, to Henry Boardman Rising of Boston. Miss Reed is a graduate of Wellesley College, class of 1921. Mr. Rising served during the war with the Thirty-Sixth Machine Gun Battalion, commanding B Company. Mrs. Reed and Miss Reed will soon go South to spend the balance of the season in Florida.

MISS ELIZABETH SPEAR HONORED

It was a happy thought when some of the intimate friends of Miss Elizabeth Spear decided to take notice of her eightieth birthday, which occurred yesterday.

In order not to overtax her strength, and knowing that many friends would all want to extend their greetings to her, the committee arranged for callers to drop in from time to time during the day, and to limit the number to merely representatives from the various organizations and groups of people who wished to honor her. Among those who were thus privileged were: Dr. and Mrs. H. Grant, person of Eliot Church; Rev. and Mrs. Robert L. Rae of the North Church; Mayor Childs, Miss Lucrinda Fuller and Mrs. John L. Bailey, of her Sunday school class, as well as representatives of the Woman's Association of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A., of the various committees of Eliot Church, with which she has been associated; of her old pupils, and of Sandwich, N. H., where she spent many summers. Other friends showered her with cards and notes of greeting and flowers, while a substantial sum in gold, attractively arranged in a box made for the occasion, testified to the love and respect of her many friends. From those in Nonantum came a sum with which it was particularly requested she should purchase a cane to help her all the rest of her life, as she had in the past helped them.

In order not to prevent her friends from congratulating her upon this occasion, the birthday dinner was postponed until today, when Mrs. H. H. Keith entertained her at the Jackson homestead.

LEAGUE OF GIRLS' CLUBS

The Newton Girls' Clubs are to send to the Annual Rally Banquet of the Mass. League of Girls' Clubs to be held at the Hotel Westminster, Boston, tomorrow the following delegates: Mary Casey, Mary O'Connell, Theresa Constanza, Juliet Champagne, Florence Doucette, Mary Delaney, May Fisher, Louise Lovett, Antoinette La Croix, Irene Mullen, Anne Morrison, Mary Morrison, Louise Morrell, Anna Oliphant, Margaret Oliphant, Ellen Southgate, Sara Schlechter, Grace Stubbart, Ruth Stubbart, Catherine Sullivan, Doris Welsh, and Helen Wadham.

Hyde School

A Food Exhibit in the form of a Valentine Luncheon was held on Wednesday afternoon in the Hyde School cooking room.

The girls in their white caps and aprons trimmed with red hearts, fulfilled their duties as hostesses charmingly.

A table, correctly set, stood in the centre of the room. A good breakfast and dinner were also exhibited. Parents and friends were allowed to sample the food.

All who were present agreed that great credit was due to the girls and to Miss Scully, the domestic science teacher, for the splendid exhibit.

Bigelow Notes

Tuesday, Bigelow defeated Mason, 2 to 0, in the Grammar School League. The game was slow owing to the condition of the ice. Macpherson played the best game scoring both points. Monahan also played well.

Thursday, Bigelow won its third league game, defeating Stearns, 3 to 0. The game was fast and interesting. Stubbs was in fine form, scoring two goals. Captain Macpherson scored the other goal.

Bigelow hasn't been scored on this year and hopes to win the Grammar School Shield. The boys are showing a fine spirit in coming out for practice, and the success of the team is due in no small measure to the good substitute and second team material it has to practice against.

Bowen School

The shower bath record for the year reached its climax last Wednesday afternoon when forty-four children took advantage of the privilege of having a shower.

At the January City Election in Grades 5 and 6, Peter Sostilio was chosen mayor.

At the third in the series of teachers' luncheons was held on Tuesday, Jan. 17. It was given in the kindergarten room and the hostesses were the kindergartners, Miss Brewer and Miss Brimblecom. The table decorations and place cards were made by the kindergarten children as a project.

At a tea given at the school on Wednesday afternoon the engagement of Miss Alice Mac Glidden, the first grade teacher, to Mr. Edgar H. Redding, was announced. Mrs. Colton was the hostess and an enjoyable hour was spent.

The school has recently been presented with a set of bird pictures, one for each room. These were the gift of Mr. George Angier of Waban.

Lewandos, who do a very large laundry business, as well as cleansing and dyeing, being the largest concern of the kind in America, have made an additional reduction in their laundry prices of 10% on all starched and listed work. This was supplemented by a reduction last October of one cent per pound on Flat Work and a half cent each on collars and cuffs. A reduction has already been made in many lines of Dyeing and Cleansing, although they are paying all employees the same wages as a year ago—or "War Time" wages, as they are called.

A number of ladies, members of one of the Newton clubs visited the Lewandos works in Watertown last week and were much impressed with the care taken of customers' garments and laces and the absolute cleanliness of the whole plant.

DEATH OF MR. FROST

Mr. George G. Frost, a resident of Newton Centre for over forty years, died suddenly early yesterday morning at his home on Pleasant street. Mr. Frost was born in South Berwick, Me., and was 85 years of age. For many years he was interested in the New England Navigation Company and later was engaged in business in Boston.

For the past ten years he has been in poor health. He is survived by his widow, one daughter, Mildred Frost, and one son, George Frost, all of Newton Centre. He was for many years a member of the Plymouth Church of Brooklyn, N. Y.

FELLOWSHIP CLUB

Mr. Jack Manning, who is to conduct the free swimming campaign for boys at the Y. M. C. A. next week, will be the speaker at the Fellowship Club Monday evening, January 30th, taking as his subject "The Art of Swimming." The Newton Y. M. C. A. swimming team, which won the Two-State championship at Worcester last Saturday, will be the guests of the club.

MAJESTIC THEATRE—With the established success of Shubert Vaudeville, now about to enter on its twentieth week at the Majestic Theatre, Boston, beginning Monday, January 30th, it is interesting to review the progress already made in this mammoth undertaking on the part of the Messrs. Shubert, and take a peek into the future.

When the Messrs. Shubert announced that on September 19th, 1921, they would launch in one or more of their leading theatres in every important city of the country a new vaudeville circuit it was doubted by many wisacres in the show business whether an enterprise of this kind could succeed against the strong opposition of the vaudeville circuits already well established for thirty years or more. But it was not taken into account that the Messrs. Shubert already had control of more theatres and attractions of all kinds, comedy, opera, etc., than any other theatrical proprietor or manager, or group of same, and with such vast resources to draw upon could easily make a success of anything they chose to undertake.

WHEN?

(Newport, N. H., Argus and Spectator)
When the stomach juices digestin' to save the gastric juices, to hang 'em to save wear on the nooses, of the When the merchant burns the tallow dip to save his kilowatts, And the housewife cooks in china to save the tins and pots, When the hunter shoots with peanuts to save expensive bullets, And the farmer keeps his hens nine years to save 'im raising pullets—Then 'tis time the prudent merchant-diser finds that he is wise, When he saves his hard simoleons and doesn't advertise.

Optimism That Counts.

The optimism that counts most is the optimism of strong hearts, willing hands and cool heads, rather than that of the noisy boys who shout "Amen" and "Hallelujah" and do no work.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, will be the guest of honor and speaker at the afternoon session of the mid-winter meeting of the State Federation, which will be held in Allston on February 16. Mrs. Winter, who is generally known as the daughter of the Reverend Charles Gordon Ames, for many years minister of the Church of the Disciples in Boston. Those who knew and loved her father will welcome the opportunity to see and hear the daughter. She comes directly from Washington where she is one of the four women upon the advisory council of the Arms Conference, and will speak of the work of the conference.

Mrs. Winter has expressed a desire to attend one of the Massachusetts conventions, and we of Massachusetts are delighted to have her, and feel confident that she will find our sessions comparing favorably with those of any other state. This may be smug complacency on our part, but many of us are inclined to glory in our provincialism. Let us give a rousing welcome to Mrs. Winter, especially on account of the fact that she was the woman who defeated our own candidate, Miss Bacon, and thereby reveal to her the magnanimity of Massachusetts women.

State Federation

Further legislative conferences will be held during the coming week at the following places:

Monday at Lowell. All-day conference in Colonial Hall, with the Middlesex Woman's Club. Train leaves North Station at 9.30 A. M. Luncheon at 12.30.

Tuesday at Lawrence for the Fifth district in the Unitarian chapel. Wednesday at Danvers. Train leaves North station at 12 o'clock.

Thursday at Braintree by invitation of the Philergians. All-day conference in All Souls' church. Train leaves South Station at 9.35. Luncheon at 12.30.

Mothercraft and Civics Conference

By invitation of the Medford Woman's Club the Fourth district will hold an all-day conference devoting the morning session to Mothercraft and the afternoon to Civics. At the Mothercraft session, Superintendent of Schools Brooks will make an address and Mrs. Henry Coolidge Mulligan will present the illustrated mothercraft lecture. The slides used are made from "stills" taken in Los Angeles in connection with the making of the movie film. They are exceedingly beautiful and all club women should see them, if they have not been able to see the film itself.

At the Civics session at 2 P. M., the subjects will be "Americanization," "Investments and Finance," and "New Volunteer Service Work."

Newton Federation

At the mid-winter meeting on February 15, at the Hunnewell Club, Robert A. Woods, of the South End House, Boston, will discuss the responsibility and opportunity of the wife and mother in bringing her family into right relations with other families. Hon. Benjamin Loring Young, speaker of the House of Representatives, will handle legislative matters. Save the date.

Conservation Department

January 30, 10 A. M. Regular meeting of the department will be held at the Red Cross House, Newtonville, to which all club women are invited. Topics to be discussed: Reports of Wood; Latest Forestry Legislation, Eastern National Forests; National Parks, present situation and prospects; Newton Shade Tree Problems, solutions; Questionnaire for next meeting. Discussion.

Professional Women's Club

Tuesday, January 31, the Literature committee will meet at the home of Mrs. Malcolm French, 44 Clark road, Brookline. Josephine Peabody Marks will read, Mrs. Elizabeth Taber will give scenes in costume from "Judith's Garden"; Mme. di Pesa, soprano; Alice Grayce Lenk, piano.

At the Guest Night of the West Newton Community Service Club on Friday, February 3, at 8 o'clock, two plays will be presented in Players' Hall, under the direction of Mrs. Francis Newhall, "Sweethearts," and "Supper Desires." An orchestra will furnish music and there will be refreshments. Candy will be sold for the benefit of the Library Fund. Those taking part in the plays will be as follows: Mrs. Philip Dunbar, Mrs. Thomas Weston, Miss Marguerite Ayres, Miss Elizabeth Carter, Mr. Philip Carter, Mr. Robert Perry.

Saturday, February 4, the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club will meet at the home of Miss Marion White, when Acts III and IV of King Henry VI, Part III, will be read. Miss McCann is in charge.

The Dramatics committee of the Newton Community Club is already at work on the performances which will be given on March 23rd. A different plan has been adopted this year and an entirely new cast has been secured.

A class in Parliamentary Law under the leadership of the well-known teacher, Mrs. Electa Sherman is being formed by the Legislative committee of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, and will meet on Fridays, at 1 P. M., at Players' Small Hall. Any one interested, whether a member of the club or not, may join at the next meeting, Friday, February 3. Particulars may be obtained from Mrs. F. A. Cole, 55 Brookside avenue, Newtonville.

A charet, to be followed by dancing, is to be given by the Newton Centre Young People for the benefit of the Newton Centre Woman's Club Building Fund, on Friday evening, February seventeenth, at 8 o'clock. Table reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Edward A. Andrews, Centre Newton 45, between six and seven P. M.

Local Happenings

At the annual meeting of the Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club on Monday, January 23, Mrs. Francis E. Noyes was elected leader for next year, and the country chosen for study is Japan. Some time will also be spent on interesting facts regarding Boston.

Mrs. Ellen F. Reed, one of the members, is removing to California, and as a parting gift, Mrs. Jennings, on behalf of the class, presented her with a beautiful book, and read an original poem, written by Mrs. Bernard Early. Mrs. Reed responded graciously, and the members joined in singing Auld Lang Syne. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Joseph A. McDonald.

The regular meeting of the Auburndale Review Club was held Tuesday, January 24, at the home of Mrs. Amos R. Wells. Continuing the subject of the two previous meetings, the topics for this morning was more island possessions of Great Britain. Mrs. R. O. Walter told of Vancouver; Mrs. Leighton of Nova Scotia and Cape Breton; and Mrs. Knapp of Malta, Cyprus, and St. Helena. With these interesting papers, and music by Mrs. Spaulding and by Mrs. Freeman the members present felt well rewarded for facing the bitter cold.

On Wednesday morning, Miss Mary Deborgy gave a thrilling account of experiences in Russia during the past seven years, from July, 1914, to July, 1921. She had left Germany, where she had been studying music, to spend the summer with her sister in Russia, wholly unaware of the proximity of war, and although so near to it, she was unprepared for it as we in America were. During the early years she served as a nurse in the hospitals and after her health gave out, she lived in the home of the physician of the Czar where she was in close touch with the seething events, which led up to the Revolution. After the overthrow of the government she escaped to the Caucasus, where she supported herself by teaching music and English. The personal, intimate view of things was full of interest and threw a flood of light upon the situation in Russia today.

Thirty-fifth Anniversary

Yesterday afternoon the Newton Centre Woman's Club observed the passing of another milestone in its history, its thirty-fifth birthday. Mrs. George M. Baker, president of the State Federation, was the guest of honor and brought greetings to the club. Mrs. Walter Perham, the district director, was another honored guest. Mrs. E. F. Melcher, one of the charter members, gave a brief history of the club, after which a musical program of high order was presented. There was a chorus of women's voices made up of club members, Mrs. M. H. Guilian, piano, Mrs. Arthur Lewis, violin, played, Mrs. Arthur Wiliston of Holyoke, s.-ng. Trio selections were rendered by Mrs. Allen Hubbard, violin, Mrs. D. Bradley Rich, piano, Miss Farmer, cello.

At the conclusion of the program there was a social hour, when a birthday cake decorated with thirty-five lighted candles was cut and tea was served by four charter members, Mrs. Albert L. Harwood, Mrs. George Cobb, Mrs. David Claffin, Mrs. E. F. Melcher.

One State Bought Another. Massachusetts bought the claims of the Georges heirs to the state of Maine in 1877 for about $1250.

NEWTON RESIDENTS HONORED

Four of the forty-seven residents of Massachusetts, who have returned from service in the Near East and who were decorated on Monday at the State House, are citizens of Newton. They are Charles E. Bailey and Charles F. Weeden, Jr., of Newton Centre, Miss Louise R. Sherman of Newtonville and Carleton T. Smith of West Newton.

The presentations were made by Rev. Dr. James L. Barton of Newton Centre after a brief speech by Gov. Cox.

The medal—a plain bronze affair, bearing the association's initials on one side and on the other a seal representative of Turkey, Syria, Persia and Greece, with the Near East star above—is the gift of Cleveland H. Dodge, treasurer of the national committee, and has been awarded, according to Dr. Barton, to men and women no less heroic than wearers of the Victoria Cross.

In addition to the medal, the workers received a certificate bearing the words: "Near East Relief Medal, in recognition of humanitarian service involving courage, devotion and sacrifice, this medal is awarded as an expression of appreciation of the high qualities displayed in his (her) labor in behalf of the stricken people of the Near East." It is signed by Dr. Barton, Mr. Cleveland, John Finley, vice chairman of the board of trustees; C. V. Vickrey, general secretary, and Edwin Buckley, chairman of the executive committee.

A PRESSING NEED

In the vicinity of Adams and Hawthorne street, Nonantum, there are 2000 children within a radius of a few hundred yards. It is the most densely populated section of our beautiful city. The children crowd the streets, with electric cars and autos going in all directions. It is a miracle that more are not hurt.

Would it not be a Godsend to these children if they had a playground accessible to them, and well supervised? If you are interested to know how such a plan could be carried out, watch for the announcement in this paper next week.

quieting down, they put on the screw of reaction tighter than ever. Since these two periods of freedom had followed military defeats, many educated Russians felt at the outbreak of the war in 1914 that a victory of Germany might be useful in gaining for the Russian people their constitutional freedom. Only a few Russians, those who had lived more abroad and knew how western Europe was developing, saw the danger and were appalled by it. They very well knew that should the revolution come during the war, Russia was bound to go to pieces; she was too weak economically to stand the strain. And at the present day we can say that the worst predictions of our worst pessimists came true in a worse form than they themselves ever dreamt of.

I emphatically deny that Bolshevism is a German invention. If it had been, it would have been created from the outside and it would have been fought from the outside. It was a genuine social process, developing among the Russian people themselves. That is why the movements to fight it from the outside miserably failed, because it is a process that has developed inside the people, and it is there alone that it has to be solved.

The three principle causes of the revolution were land hunger, a decayed autocracy and the demoralization of the Russian army. The peasants owned about 85 per cent of the 150,000,000 of the population, and the Russian peasant for many generations did not have enough land for his needs, a parallel condition to that of the French revolution. The backbone of the revolution was furnished by the peasantry.

They were first encouraged by the Bolshevik leaders by that clever slogan, "You want land; go and take it; who will prevent you?" The peasant did go and take it, but no sooner did he have it in the palm of his hand, when it suddenly slipped through his fingers by the decree of the Bolshevik government in the early winter of 1919-20. He suddenly realized that Bolshevism is Communism, and Communism denies private property. He had no legal title to the land he had taken away from his landlord. He had no assurance that the land could remain with his family and he passed on to his children, and that was a great disappointment. With this disappointment the revolutionary movement lost the support of the peasantry and began to go down hill.

With the decay of the autocracy came the demoralization of the Russian Army. I must tell you frankly that I consider that it was one of the most selfish and short-sighted mistakes of the Allies to force upon Russia time and again mobilizations—to make her call to arms quantities of men that her tottering government could no longer control. In 1917 she had an army of over 17,000,000 men. Just think of an autocracy that is going to pieces forced to control and discipline more than 17,000,000 men. Very naturally demoralization was bound to set in. Not only could they not be armed, but they could not be fed or housed or clothed, and with those 17,000,000 men formed into a mob, you will realize what destruction that mob could accomplish.

Now in studying the psychology of the man in the war, we have discovered some very striking features, which science did not realize before this war. This applies not only to Russia but to all the Allies,—to the English and French, to yours also; to yours probably less, because it was much less in the field. There sets in a gradual habit of luxury and waste as to turn the idea around there, gradually comes the loss of the idea of property. The man in the army is well cared for. He has no cares of his own. He has everything he wants in quantities. He is hungry; he opens a can and takes a bite and throws the can away, and for his second bite he opens another can takes a bite and throws that can away. I was so much interested in that process of the growth of the habit of waste, that I spoke to the commanding officers of many nations, yours included, and without exception they corroborated that fact. When the men got home they had to begin to get used to the habit of property, to the habit of thrift and to get rid of that habit that everything you use comes all ready-made for you from somewhere outside.

In Russia unfortunately these processes developed much further. After the loss of the habit of property came a more important loss, the loss of the habit of family life. The family was well cared for by the government, at least at the beginning of the war, and at times I could not blame the men in the army for not thinking of their families. And then came something worse, the gradual loss of the moral ideas, of the religious ideas until there remained nothing of the rigid military discipline, but what I should call the fist of the commanding officer. Under the influence of propaganda in the summer of 1917 this last restriction disappeared and you had an unruly mob, and that mob of 17,000,000 began suddenly in that fatal summer to run home as fast as their legs could carry them to take part in the division of the land, because they knew that land would be divided, and they did not wish to be left out while remaining in the trenches, continuing a war that they did not understand, that they did not know why Russia was fighting. When that mob began to flow eastward it devastated everything like a tidal wave, like a plague of locusts, country life and city life, and with it naturally went the old regime. There is no question of the coming back of the old regime. Corpses do not resurrect, and the more so in that case even the whole corpse went to dust in no time.

This was an ideal state of things for a small group of men, very strong, knowing exactly what they wanted, having no moral scruples and no hesitation, to seize the control. The system has not worked and could not work and a change is bound to come. It is only a question of time and of how much suffering we still have to endure. They undertook to deny family life and private property, and in both cases the ideas only became much stronger.

The speaker went on to detail the breaking down of the communistic system when applied to industrial organization and other branches of economic life, which made a return to the capitalistic methods inevitable. It had proved impossible to run an army on soviet principles, when the commanding officers could not order an attack without a vote of the soviet, while a railroad train dispatcher could not start a train without the consent of the employees. The authorities had been forced by the trend of vice, he said, to return to the old system, until today there are no evident signs and I do not think there are any hidden signs of Communism still existing.

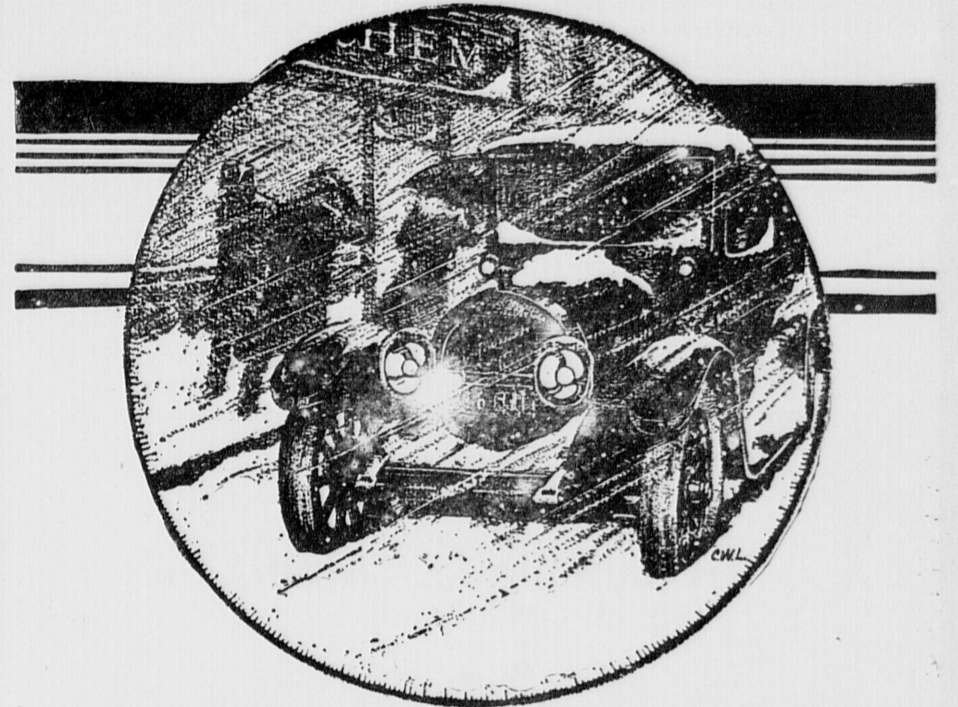

If it is asked, why did the system last so long, the four years that have elapsed are no long time at all. In the life of a nation four years play no role whatever. In France and the United States the revolutionary movement lasted about ten years, and yet America and France were at least ten times smaller than Russia.

When 150,000,000 or 160,000,000 people are thrown into commotion, such a huge human sea becomes disturbed, it will take naturally many, many years

The situation is by no means hopeless. You cannot imagine that 150 millions will live in a state of anarchy for eternity. There must be formed some sort of government, and all things considered we may be quite sure that the ultimate result will be, and must be a democratic peasant republic. The future state must be such that at least a majority, if not all of the people, partake in the government. The peasants, who are 85 per cent, will be socially and politically the dominant factor. They might not have a sufficient amount of leaders to lead the nation; but radical and progressive Russia has long been ready to furnish those leaders. By republic you understand that I mean the impossibility of the return of monarchy. I am often asked by Americans what educated Russians now think of the possible return of monarchy, and I think the answer is decidedly negative. There are monarchists in Russia; unfortunately, they are noisy ones. There are very many of them at the present moment in Germany, and as you might surmise, the German monarchists are very glad to help them and also make use of them. I do not think, however, that they can find in Russia much support in the country at large. They probably will have great practical difficulties, if they do succeed in coming home some day, they would never find a candidate who could carry the country. It is not an alluring and enticing job nowadays to get a crown on your head, and I do not know a name that you could mention of anybody who could risk becoming a candidate. On the whole, the main question is only the awaiting of gradual development of the social processes from within. If at the present day the state of Russia would seem to you a very dark one,—probably it is one of the darkest pages that Russia has ever lived through—I assure you, I repeat it, it is by no means hopeless. At night the darkest hours come before dawn, and no matter how dark the night all of you are sure that dawn is bound to come. So we are sure that for Russia the day of salvation is bound to come, even sooner, probably, than the outside world expects.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—William Hodge in his latest comedy success, "Dog Love," has made a tremendous hit in Boston at the Plymouth Theatre, where his notable engagement must come to an end after one week more. It has been decided positively that next week will be the last, ending on Saturday night, February 4th. In this newest play Mr. Hodge has a vehicle which gives every promise of proving as enduring as "The Man From Home." Like "The Guest of Honor," which he played for the past two seasons, "Dog Love" was written by Mr. Hodge. Its story is told in three acts and its scenes are all laid in a suburb of New York—Greenwich, Conn., to be exact.

The supporting cast is resplendent with names of popular players.
